COME FORWARD.

We have just returned from our northern trip, and are pleased to say to our patrons that both newspaper and job presses have been purchased, and a good supply of the very latest and most popular faces of type are being now placed down in this office. We have purchased everything that a modern country office calls for, from a shooting-stick and mallet to a large power press capable of printing a nine column paper. Now, subscribers and patrons, this has called for a large outlay of cold hard cash, and we naturally expect returns for our efforts and expenditures toward establishing a good office and a bright and readable paper. The paper will be all home print soon as we can get our presses in running order, and will give you your money's worth. You either do or do not want the paper. If you want it, you mean to pay for it. But there is one class we do not want—the man who wants the paper, but will not pay for it. However, we do not believe there are many of this kind on our list, and know that there are some good reasons for most of the accounts that remain uncollected. We simply ask you to come forward soon as you find that you can be pleased with our work, and pay the amount standing against you on our books, or assure us that you mean to pay it. It is no small expense to run a good newspaper, and the "dead-head" list is what kills the profit. We do not want any dead-heads; and, in justice to ourselves and the several hundred good-paying subscribers who stand by the paper through both thick and thin, such names must disappear from our list.

The Cuban agitators are now insisting on absolute freedom, unrestrained liberty, or a fight to the death. This seems to be the result of the arrival of Secretary Porter and the examination he is making into tariffs, municipal taxation, and other matters of internal government which the Cubans had expected to handle and administer themselves.

Gen. Joe Wheeler is a rich man. He went to the war because he coveted a soldier's death. He is a physical wreck and an unhappy dyspeptic, and in referring to his condition he hoped he would pass out by the aid of a Spanish bullet.

It may prove hard for Spain to understand that there will be no modification of the demands made by the United States.

General Joe Wheeler distrusts his Spanish neighbor just a little. He believes in keeping our volunteers in service a while longer.

A Republican said today: "We have no money for our campaign. When we get anything good we get orders for it and sell it. Just now many orders are coming in for Cy Thompson's speech and we are circulating it widely. Yes, we are facing right along. We have some views, perhaps, from the Populists, but when it comes to a question of life or death for them and us, too, we pull together." Senator Butler declared that if the Populists fused with the Republicans this year they were inevitably ruined. So there is a big difference between his view and that of this Republican who, with entire frankness, may be said to dictate Populist politics in all eastern North Carolina.—Raleigh correspondent in Charlotte Observer.

The attendance at the Democratic convention in Robeson County last Thursday was so large that no horse in Lumberton could accommodate the crowd. The convention adjourned to the court-house grounds. A correspondent to the Charlotte Observer says there never has been such a convention held in Robeson county. The crowd was estimated at twelve to fifteen hundred. A large number of the delegates were men who were Populists two years ago, but who are now Democrats fighting for Democratic success and white supremacy. The enthusiasm manifested was an indication that the people are determined to put down fusion negro rule in Robeson county. It is confidently believed that Democratic success is assured.

Butler Dodges Fusion.

Jacksonville, N. C., Sept. 15.—Special.—Senator Butler spoke here today to about three hundred people, at least seventy-five of whom were negroes. His speech was mainly upon the evils of trust and combines, the necessity of the government ownership of railroads and telegraph. He abused the Democrats; called them liars and hypocrites; said they were trying to fool the people by the cry of nigger; that there is no such thing in North Carolina as negro domination; that there are four white men in the State to one negro, and that the Democrats hired negroes to make themselves offensive, so as to have something for campaign purposes. And then, to cap the climax, he said this is a white man's country and the sooner the negro understood it the better. It will be best for them, if, said he, you will elect a Populist legislature in North Carolina. We will give you a white man's government.

Uncalled For and Unjust

The Wilmington Messenger has this to say in a recent issue in describing the search for an offender:

Finally, the chief, who is thoroughly familiar with every nook and path in this vicinity, decided to go after "Captain Tom" to assist him. After rigging himself out in a linen jacket, bespattered with mud, and much the worse for wear, and an old slouch hat, he hired a horse and put out for East Wilmington. Astride of the horse the chief, clad in his disguise, resembled a circuit rider preacher.

The Methodist circuit rider is the hero of Methodism. Through the fire and flood of over a century he has cleared the way for the advance of our victorious church. The page of history is resplendent with the light of his consecrated valor. Out in the darkness and storm he presses his way to the ramparts of sin. The one earthly name enshrined in the hearts of the millions, who by bappy sires kneel at the altars of Methodism is that of the true Baladid of history—the "circuit rider." There is not a true man or woman who will not resent the above odious and slanderous allusion, and wonder at the prejudice or ignorance which inspires it.—N. C. Advocate.

THE OPENING OF TRINITY.

Know all men by these presents, that the Methodists of North Carolina have shown their confidence in Trinity College and its administration by sending 180 students to answer to the roll call at the very opening of the session. This is the largest number at the opening in all the history of the College. More are yet to come. The indications are that during the present term Trinity will enroll 225 students. Every true Methodist will thank God for this success. Assailed as Trinity College has been from the mountains to the sea, and that too at the opening of the term, it was feared by some and hoped by others that the patronage would suffer. But the number present is phenomenal and should set at rest all disquieting fears about the future of the institution. Methodist people have confidence in Trinity College and its administration, and they have shown it in a signal and significant way.—Greensboro Christian Advocate.

Death of Miss Winnie Davis.

Narragansett Pier, Sept. 18.—Miss Winnie Davis, daughter of Mrs. Jefferson Davis, died at noon today at the Rockingham Hotel, to which place she came as a guest in the early part of the Pier's social season. She had been ill for several weeks, and a fortnight ago her ailment was diagnosed as malarial gastritis. At times her condition became very serious, so that consultations of physicians were deemed necessary, but frequent rallies gave renewed hope that she would ultimately recover. During the past week especially was her condition considered favorable, and it was thought that her removal from the hotel would be possible in a few days, as the hotel had closed for the season, leaving the patient and attendants practically alone in the house.

Last night, however, a relapse in Miss Davis' condition was noticed, and throughout the night she lost strength perceptibly. This morning the physician said that the end was not far off, and at noon death came to end the suffering, which at times had been intense. Mrs. Davis had watched unremittently at her daughter's bedside, and she is now bowed with sorrow.

Her funeral will take place in Richmond on Friday.

SOMETHING ABOUT HER LIFE.

Atlanta, Sept. 18.—Winnie Davis, the "Daughter of the Confederacy," was born in the Confederate Executive Mansion in Richmond, in 1863. She was educated principally at home, owing to the trouble surrounding her father and the publicity which attended all movements of the Davis family. Miss Davis attained her maturity at Beauvoir, Miss. She assisted her mother in various ways and took her place in the many social functions of the place. She was her father's constant companion. She assisted him in all his work and much of the time which was required by Mr. Davis in his writings was secured for him by his daughter. Her strong character was marked from youth. She was engaged to a Mr. Wilkerson, of Syracuse, N. Y., but shortly after her father's death the engagement was broken off. While no public explanation of the rupture was given out, it is well known that it was for the purpose of maintaining her father's name.

She received the name, "Daughter of the Confederacy," in 1886, when her father made his famous trip through the South. Mr. Davis being unable to appear, Miss Davis was brought before the thousands at the different points along the route and introduced as the "Daughter of the Confederacy."

WINE OF CARDUI FOR ALL WOMEN

is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefited by it.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving name, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.
