RETAILERS FINED $500 EACH.

Sentence of Six Months on Roads Chanced Only After Severe Pressure Upon Judge Daniels—Other Cases Disposed of.

The climax of Stanley's term of criminal court was reached Thursday when sentence was passed upon J. Luke Whitley, Lonnie Morton, Boss Morton, and W. W. Love, who submitted to the charge of retailing.

Reputable witnesses testified to having purchased beer from certain of the defendants. Two stated that they were not members of the club, and paid for the beer purchased.

Messrs. Luke Whitley, Lonnie Morton and W. W. Love were fined $500 each and Boss Morton $100, in addition to the costs in the case which they paid.

This case is contrasted to that of State vs. Henry and Isaac Harboe, of Locust vicinity.

In this connection, it may be said that while the men convicted in the cases named perhaps deserved all that the court imposed, yet there are free assertions that others are equally or more guilty than they.

Cases of State against other parties were disposed of as follows: Colyan Carpenter, retailing, 90 days on road.

Ben Robinson, retailing, 4 months on road.

Jonathan and Isaac Burleyson, a. w. d. w., judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

Weights and Measures.

The Post is copying to-day on page two an article from the Charlotte Chronicle showing a deplorable condition of the weights and measures in that city.

The weights and measures were scattered about in the rear room of a gun shop and apparently no care had been given them in years.

The dry measures, too, were found short, 55.5 per cent being incorrect by more than 3 per cent. A further percentage of shortage to the consumer is the fact that a general practice has been in vogue to measure dry beans and cranberries by liquid measures when it was found that this measure when used for measuring dry commodities deliver 14 per cent. and upward, less than the correct amount.

All of this is to call attention to the weights and measures in Salisbury. The question naturally arises are they correct and giving the right weight and measure to the public?

And what about Salisbury's Standard Keeper?

Every merchant in Salisbury, we take it, would wish to give full return for the money and if the weights and measures are incorrect they can do it.

Death of Capt. R. P. Henry. Capt. R. P. Henry, of Winston, died at Mt. Pleasant Thursday evening from serious internal injuries sustained the day before during a severe storm in the Mt. Pleasant vicinity.

Capt. Henry with his 15-year old son and a surveying corps took refuge during the storm in a log barn. On account of the rocking of the barn all but the captain and two members of the crew left the barn for a well house near by.

WHAT THE CENSUS SHOWS.

Movement of White and Negro Population in Nine Southern States.

Washington, D. C., July 17.—Preliminary statistics showing the consistent and constant city ward movement of the white and negro population of the nine southern cotton goods states, based upon the returns for the censuses of 1910, 1900, and 1890, are contained in a comparative statement prepared under supervision of William C. Hunt, chief statistician for population, in the Bureau of the Census, and issued to-day by Acting Census Director Falkner.

The nine cotton states concerned are: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee.

Of the white population of these states 18.9 per cent lived in urban areas in 1910, 14 per cent in 1900, and 11.6 per cent in 1890. Of the total negro population of the same states the percentages living in urban areas were 17.7 per cent in 1910, 14.7 per cent in 1900, and 11.8 per cent in 1890.

It appears from these percentages that the changes in the proportion of the total negro population of these states living in the urban sections have been about the same as those in the proportion of the total whites who live in cities.

While the proportion of whites and negroes living in the city and country can be readily measured, some care is required in stating the rate of increase. This difficulty arises from the fact that portions of the rural areas are continually changing into urban districts.

The white population of the 1890 cities increased 27.6 per cent between 1890 and 1900 and 46.6 per cent between 1900 and 1910. Similar rates of increase for the urban negroes are 23.3 per cent in the decade 1890 to 1900 and 30.5 per cent in the decade 1900-1910.

A comparison of these rates of increase brings out clearly the cityward trend for both races, but shows it to be even greater for the whites than for the negroes.

Aged Woman Assaulted. Rockingham, July 17.—Mrs. W. E. Beck, a well-known widow 60 years old, is in a serious condition as the result of an attack by a man who broke into her home early Sunday morning, entered her bedroom and choked her into insensibility.

Albemarle Normal and Collegiate Institute.

In former issues of THE ENTERPRISE we have called attention to the splendid work done by the Albemarle Normal and Collegiate Institute.

The citizens of this section will be given a fine opportunity to learn about the importance of good roads and the best methods of building and keeping them in repair, when the "Road Movement Train" being operated by the Southern Railway and affiliated lines working in connection with the United States Office of Public Roads, visits Albemarle on Saturday, July 29 at 2 p. m.

The object of the "Road Improvement Train" is to not only stimulate interest in the good roads movement but to give practical instruction in the building of roads and their repair.

How to Keep Well in Summer.

In the July Woman's Home Companion Dr. Jean Williams, writing on "How to Keep Well in Summer," says in part:

"In general, to lighten the digestive burden during the summer months, eat sparingly, especially of the heat-producing foods. Add green vegetables and fresh ripe fruits generously to the diet.

"The water, so commonly and copiously consumed, is very bad for the stomach and sometimes very dangerous. Acute indigestion is often caused by drinking it.

"Finally, let me urge every one to cultivate the holiday spirit. If you can't have a long vacation, take a short one.

BIG REUNION OF LUTHERANS.

The reunion of Lutherans of Stanly, Cabarrus, and Rowan counties held at Misenheimer Springs was perhaps the largest ever held in this section.

Early in the day people began coming from every direction in wagons, carriages, and automobiles. Some few had feared that the day might be hot, but these fears vanished at the sight of plenty of red lemonade, ice cream, and other cooling refreshments.

Promptly at 11 o'clock Rev. C. P. McLaughlin, chairman of the reunion committee, briefly and comprehensively stated the purposes of the day.

From 1 to 2 o'clock a delightful concert was rendered by the Mt. Pleasant cornet band, after which followed addresses by Rev. H. A. McCullough on the subject "The Background of the Diet Augsburg." Rev. J. J. Long of Cabarrus county on the subject "Our Heritage."

Immediately after the exercises a meeting of the ministers and hymns was held and it was unanimously decided that it had been a great day for Lutherans and that these reunions should be held every year.
