Savages' Knowledge of Iron.
Explorers have been astonished to find in the wilds of Africa savages acquainted with the art of cutting iron from its ore and working it to such use as to make a primitive hammer, anvil and bellows to smelt the requisite high heat. It seems altogether likely that knowledge of these processes was originally derived by their ancestors in prehistoric days from the Arabs and Ethiopians, who then, as in later times, overran most of Africa.

Josh Billings.
The humorist whose pen-name was "Josh Billings," was Henry Wheeler Shaw. He lived from 1816 to 1885. He turned off many shrewd sayings, bits of quaint philosophy and pointed jokes, but they were rather damaged by the laboriously bad spelling in which they were written. This style of humorous writing, quite popular in the United States half a century ago, has about gone out of vogue. Today Josh Billings is little more than a name.

HAD FUN WITH CONDUCTOR

Fat Man Proved to Him That There Were Others With a Keen Sense of Humor.

On an outbound trip the other afternoon the "whistling motorman" of the east Washington line had lulled his passengers into a pleasant semi-consciousness with the drowsy monotony of his Siberian waltz. He trifled a pretty flourish, died gently into silence and glanced back at his sour-faced compatriot on the rear platform.

"Ornamental! Ornamental!" sang the conductor. The passengers awoke with a start, craned their necks for bearings and then giggled in unison as the car stopped at Oriental street to allow a nicely-dressed and indignant young man to alight. Immediately a fluffy young thing rang for a stop at Arsenal avenue.

"Arsenic! Arsenic!" sang the conductor.

And again the passengers tittered. The motorman here cut in with a lively strain from "Lohengrin" that held all engaged until a sweltering fat man in the front of the car called back to the rear:

"Say, conductor, will you let me off at Whetstone?"

"Whetstone? Whetstone?" was the puzzled response. "There is no street by that name on this line."

"Well, they told me it was near Arsenic," and the fat man rang for a stop.

The conductor glanced out of the window and growled:

"Keystone avenue! Keystone avenue!"

And again the passengers tittered as the fat man climbed from the car. Indianapolis News.

OLD STORY TO THE INDIAN

First to Practice Art of Camouflage in Warfare, Is Contention of Chief Strongheart.

Camouflage is as old as the storm god of Indian folk lore, according to Chief Strongheart, of the Yakima Indian reservation, who says his men are the real inventors of it, discovering its advantages in their earliest conflicts. When a battle was to take place in the forests in the summer months the warriors would paint their bodies green with a dash of other colors or produce the exact blend with surroundings. They even sketched birds and small animals on their bodies to make the effect more realistic. If the battle was to take place when autumn had withered the leaves and touched them into gold, splashes of brown and yellow made the warriors blend with the setting. The trick, when artfully turned, resulted in great victories, and many of the early settlers were taken into captivity by use of camouflage.

Running Elk, Strongheart's father, was scout for Gen. O. O. Howard in the Nez Perce war, and aid to Colonel Roosevelt in the Spanish-American war, and Strongheart when a baby, was carried about on the former president's back. His grandfather was Chief Standing Rock, who took part in Custer's last fight, and who died at the age of 109 years.

Swiss Watch Industry.

In a survey of the Swiss trade in watches for last year, Trade Commissioner H. Lawrence Graves at Zurich points out that more and more the exports of these articles to the United States are being confined to finished watch movements without the case. The value of finished movements, without cases and of watches complete with cases of gold, silver and non-precious metals, including chronographs and all watches of fancy design, amounted to $14,211,051. Of this total the value of the finished movements, without cases, was $3,290,723. This last figure represents about 83 per cent of the total exports of finished movements from Switzerland during 1919, the rest going largely to England, Canada and Japan.

Indian Social Festivities.

The Indians of Northwest and central British Columbia are now in the throes of the height of the social season. One potlatch, scarcely ends before another starts. The Indians gathered at Morristown a short time ago in large numbers and gave away to each other all their personal belongings. No one suffered, as each had a suit of clothes to give and take. Now, the potlatch at Hazelton, in the Hazelton district, is on. The Indians have foregathered again. Another gathering will be held later in the north. Considerable business is done at these functions by the white traders. They meet the trapper Indians and buy the spring fur catches.

Scientific Advance.

Prohibition has developed an apparatus known as the ebullioscope, which shows accurately the boiling point of liquids and which brewers find useful for making off-hand determinations of the alcoholic strength of the brew while the product is still in the plant. Another instrument known as the cryoscope, which works on exactly the opposite principle, showing the varying densities of liquids at the freezing point, is used for ascertaining the quality of milk.

The Particular One.

"Me tell me, if Cornelia called her children her jewels, and when she dropped one of her boys, he burst into tears."

"Well, child."

"Was that a son burst?"
