BURNING LEAVES IS BIG MISTAKE FINE COMPOST

Valuable As Fertilizing Material For the Garden and Flower Yard.

Raleigh, Nov. 16th At present price of fertilizing material, people should bank leaves with dirt and by spring have a valuable compost for flowers, vegetables and other crops. But the burning habit, waste fuland dangerous as it is, seems to be fixed beyond correction except by law. Insurance Commissioner Young, in consequence of an unusual number of complaints about the burning of trash and leaves on the streets and in yards of large and small towns in the state, has sent the following cautionary letter to Mayors of those towns where complaint has been made.

"Dear Sir:
"Information has come to this department that the burning of leaves and other trash in the rear of stores and in the streets of your city is being allowed. If you have not an ordinance against this, one should be passed at once. This is one of the most dangerous practices that can be indulged in."

Trenching Leaves and Trash.
One of the department employees in this connection, says that for several years he has trenched not only the leaves but the ordinary trash accumulations about the premises.
In the fall and winter he digs a ditch or trench on the edge of his garden or flower bed. He fills this with leaves. Another ditch is dug right beside this, the dirt going into the leaves and packing them tight. In this way in the course of the season he gets his entire garden thoroughly 'broke up' and fine drainage of the top soil secured. By plant-time, he says everything is mellow, dry and warm, the rotted leaves and mellow soil below guaranteeing early and fine crops of vegetables or flowers the whole summer. In the course of few years he says he has made heavy clay soil light, porous and fertile by this method of saving leaves and trash.
