SYAPDECWNKE

Mrs. A. T. Gardner did not recognize her name last week.

BOOST FOR YOUR OWN SAKE

Talking of this boosting game, every body except the old home paper to boost them, the town, the state and the whole family connection—and in payment they reserve the right to knock the O. H. P. What every merchant should do is consistently boost for the local paper, not to the benefit of the paper itself, but to his own benefit. He should make it a point to see that everyone of his regular customers—and every probable customer—is a reader of his town paper. It is to the merchant's direct benefit to have possible residents of his trade territory a reader of the town's paper—Aurora (Mo.) Advertiser.

Happenings of Interest In Morehead City

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENTS.

The different churches of the city held entertainments Thursday and Friday evenings when the members of the Sunday Schools celebrated with their annual Christmas trees. An impressive celebration was held at the Community Christmas tree Christmas evening when the citizens gathered to sing carols and view the lovely sight. The tree was decorated with many vari-colored electric bulbs and with an immense star in the top of the tree.

Mr. Charles S. Wallace gave an inspiring talk and Mayor Luther Hamilton told the story of the other wise man.

Credit is due Mrs. Salisbury who with the assistance of Mayor Hamilton and others who helped.
