Inland Waterway Rights Of Way Are Being Secured

RALEIGH, N. C., June 14-(INS) -1. M. Bailey, attorney for the Corporation Commission, planned today to leave for Washington toward the end of this month to confer with officials of the War Department in regard to the transfer of title to approximately 6,000 acres of land needed as right-of-way for the inland smoothing over preliminaries and that no actual transfer would be made at this time. He will learn, while in Washington, the form of the deed wanted by the government to the land which the state will donate to it under authority of an act of the last legislature.

Steps looking toward the procuring of the right-of-way are preceeding satisfactorily., Bailey said. Half of the land was donated by the State Board of Education and the remainder is being obtained from owners along the 100-mile route. Emulating the example of the Board of Education, many owners are donating the land. Condemnation proceedings if found necessary, were authorized by the legislature.

Work cannot begin until next month since the government appropriation for the project does not become available until then. Meanwhile, however, every effort is being made by the State Transportation Advisory Commission to have everything in readiness when the time arrives for the work to getu dnre the work to get under way.

HAVE CONVICTED SEVERAL

A two weeks term of Superior Court began here Monday morning at ten o'clock. Judge E. H. Cranmer presiding over the court and Solicitor D. M. Clark is prosecuting the criminal docket for the State. Judge Cranmer's charge to the grand jury was rather short, not much more than twenty minutes. He stopped right in the beginning of his remarks and ordered two babies, that were inclined to be somewhat noisy, taken from the court room. The honors were even from a racial standpoint, one baby was white and the other colored. Judge Cranmer explained to the jury that the law is supreme in this country. That we have a government of laws and not of men and that all laws rest upon the consent of the people. He said that grand jurors are intended to protect the good people of the county and not the criminals. That they are supposed to be men of good character and should feel the responsibility of their position. He explained the functions of the jury as to returning bills, inspecting county institutions, buildings and son on. He said all laws should be eforced and called Mr. E. F. Carraway of Merrimon was and Mr. Herbert Forlaw was appointed deputy in charge of the jury. Many criminal cases have accumulated since the last term of court and grocery busines on Ann street and as a result the criminal docket is taking up a good deal of time. The three town. After hearing the lawyers discuss the matter, Judge Cranmer decided that Mr. Owens should pay to Mrs. Owens and their three year old child ₹6 a week. The case against J. O. Harris, colared of Beaufort charged with having n possession and selling liquor was fird Wednesday. His attorneys, E. Walter Hill and Jesse H. Davis put op a strong fight for him, making a erdle attack on G. A. Lupton the State's principal witness. However, after considerable deliberation the jury brought in a verdict of guilty. Tuberculosis Clinic At City Hall Monday

A tuberculosis clinic will be held at the County Health Department's office upstairs in the city hall here, beginning next Monday and lasting through Thursday. The hours for the clinic will be from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Dr. Lee of the State Sanatorium will make the examinations which are free of charge. Those desiring to make appointments for examination should write Dr. T. C. Britt.

Any of the following symptoms should make you suspicious of having tuberculosis:

Loss of weight.

Loss of strength.

Lack of energy and endurance. Feeling tired and "rundown" esecially in the afternoon or evening. Poor appetite.

Indigestion or dyspepsia.

A temperature normal or below formal in the morning and 99 or apove in the afternoon or evening.

A cough is frequently, but not always, present in tuberculosis; it may be a dry, hacking cough or it may be productive; the phlegm is usually more abundant in the early morning; every cough lasting three weeks or more is suspicious.

A hemorrhage from the lungs, as much as a teaspoonful of pure blood, s almost always due to tuberculosis; blood-streaked sputum is also suspicious.

Pleurisy-a sharp pain in the chest, made worse on deep breathing or on coughing and lasting an hour or more -is nearly always due to tuberculosis; this is true whether it is dry plurisy of with fluid in the chest.

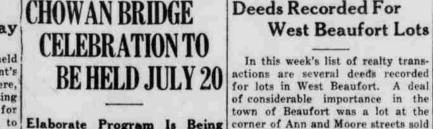

An anal fistula which persists more than a month is usually due to tuberulosis.

If you have a hemorrhage, plurisy, or a fistula, be sure to have a thorough physical examination, and if the tuberculosis canot be discovered otherwise, be sure to have an X-ray of your chest made by someone who has had considerable experience in reading chest pictures.

Night sweats, shortnes of breath, and persistent huskiness of voice or hoarseness should also make one suspect tuberculosis.
