

A Newsy Trip Around The World

By Elizabeth Saunders

Girls and women wearing knickers, sailor suits, or pajamas will not be admitted to Roman Catholic churches in Houston Texas, according to orders recently issued to ushers.

George Rawes, 37, was fined $200 in Rockford, Ill. because he forced his three young daughters to sell liquor.

Axel Johnson of Seattle, Washington, saw what he thought was an approaching train and jammed on his brakes so suddenly that two cars crashed into his car. The train Johnson saw was on an illuminated sign board.

The scent of lavender in a hotel room caused the arrest of two men and the finding of a wrist watch and a sum of money which had been reported stolen from another room in the hotel. The watch and money were stolen from a lavender filled box.

A California girl recently won $2,500 from a man in a law suit, and then decided to marry him. That's one way to collect cash.

Here's something for the men to think about. An Ohio insurance Co. received a letter from a widow which stated that she was having so much trouble collecting her husband's insurance that she sometimes wished she had him back.

The lieutenant is known as one of the star fliers at Selfridge Field. He is specially trained as an aviation engineer. But what interests the lieutenant most right now is raising another mustache.

"How are we going to keep the young people on the farm?" is the question still asked. We would like to suggest a sport model tractor with a plush-lined rumble seat.

Man was born to rule the world. And then Providence had to spoil it all by inventing women.

"Association with good-looking girls promotes longevity in maturer men," says a physician. Not if our wives happen to find it out, kind sir.

The neighbors of Harry Viosca, New Orleans, La., naturalist have asked the city commission council to put a ban on snake farms. The naturalist has 40 snakes ranging from three to five feet long. He raises them for scientific and educational purposes.

Marguerite Sparling of Los Angeles is suing for a divorce because, she told the court, her husband wanted her to be "sedate, austere, and sisterly," while she wanted to be "full of pep and laughing and kissable."

Ernest A. Waters, broker of Peabody, Mass., recently reported to the police the theft of an 86 foot high chimney. The chimney was left standing about a year ago by wreckers who razed a factory.

Alberto Wolkoff, somnambulist, of Montevideo, Uruguay, strode into an airfield near his home, climbed into the cockpit of a plane while asleep, and attempted to fly. He had a "rude awakening" when he wrecked the plane before it left the ground.

Dr. William B. Silliman, Washington dentist faced a gun when he turned to face a patient who had just sat in the dentist chair. The would-be bandit wailed, "It's my first job, I can't go through wit it. Dr. Silliman gave the man a dollar, and he beat a hasty retreat.

An abandoned car with a smashed wheel was found to be fitted up with a 350-gallon beer tank when the car was discovered by Deputy sheriff Charles Kanser of Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Doctors had to operate to remove a "wad" of chewing gum from the ear of five-year-old Jack Farrell of Buffalo, N. Y. Jack had parked his chewing gum in his ear while he ate his dinner.

William Ruhl, a farmer of near Dover has hung a red lantern in his cherrytree and is sitting up nights with a shot gun loaded with tacks to keep thieves from robbing his trees of the cherries before he gets to them. For the last five years thieves have beat him to the cherries.

Henry McMillan Luellwitz drew a jail sentence of three months or a fine of $100 in Camden, N. J. because he posed as Floyd Gibbons. Luellwitz got his eyes "crossed" and wore a shade over the right eye while Gibbons wears a shade over his left eye. The mistake was what revealed the deception.

DAVIS

On Tuesday, June 16th, Mr. and Mrs. Cason Murphy of Davis, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary. The family home at Davis was the scene of the event. The family of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, consisting of five children and eleven grandchildren, numerous friends and near relatives joined in wishing the couple their heartiest congratulations. Only one bridesmaid, of the original wedding party is living today. A large picnic table was spread on the wide lawn, and around it the aged couple received numerous gifts, among them two anniversary cakes bearing fifty candles each. Three of the grandchildren were unable to attend because of distance. Alma Willis is in New York, Elton Willis and Lionel Murphy ate at summer camps in the South.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy have the following children living, Mr. W. G. Murphy, Henry Murphy, Guy Murphy, Mrs. Annie Babbitt of Davis, N. C. and Mrs. W. C. Willis of Goldsboro, N. C.

HARKER'S ISLAND

By Jimmie Guthrie

Ever since the borrowing days we've had the greatest times, every thing is catching up. New automobiles are showing up and lots of visitors from up state.

Hard times has no chance at all among we folk, our good school—the very best we've ever had is done and closed. The other night the teachers had their play for the very smallest children, who held down a better play than could even be expected by those having them in charge. One thing I wish to say about our teachers, if they all do not come back another year to teach, wherever they do go the children will have good teachers and the community good citizens. Hurrah for Mr. G. D. Hardisty and those under his control. Their qualifications as teachers are unquestioned.

And right in among us have come the big year round meeting mingled with northeasters and high tides — which altogether have put fishing, crabbing and clamming on the bum. Since the poisonous winds of March left our shores leaving not a shred of green grass visible he has been pound ing away at we sinner folk. I cannot say whether he has sown any seed that will sprout and grow, but I have heard for a candid truth that on his first visit a few weeks ago he took on his first visit a few weeks ago with him a struck $100 and on this present visit he will, if every thing keeps lovely and Ivey Scott stays well and his fiddle strings don't part, take with him even as much more. Some of our good Buggers here talk and wrangle about Ivey Scott playing the fiddle so much at Hunter's store both here and at the Cape, even while this noted violinist was at Cape Hatteras playing for a living.

Now, this same Ivey Scott and his same old fiddle is holding down crowds of 500 people among whom many have fallen victims to the sweet notes of his same old fiddle from whose notes I have heard the voice of Capt. George Lewis for a mile away calling off the usual eight hand cotillion in Hunter's store at Cape Lookout.

Then why worry, just last night while the great crowds were about to rip down their first morsel of the regular dope the greatest excitement of all time occurred when the news swiftly flashed through the crowds that Mr. Hinkley Guthrie's car was on fire. The good preacher was left standing alone, the entire audience dispersing from every place of exit for the scene of the big fire.

Some fainted as they ran, some crying, my wife as usual being in the crowd got weak in her knees, so she said, and she fell too, like the others thought she was good "cause" she got weak by running.

I never saw such a time in my life. My wife on her arrival home told me in secret (told me not to mention it either) that surely there was an acorn in the camp, that things had gone wrong today as to the church. You know I had to say something and say it quick too. I said, well as long as its the wrong time of year for acorns just remove the acorn from your church and put God in its place and later come tell me the difference, with God at its head or an old Acorn. (She's mad at me.)

If I could make this piece to rhyme I'd hardly ever say hard time But I have to twist it into prose Cause a skeeter bit me on the nose. Hundred or more Raleigh folks here many Henderson folk and people here from Florida. Yes some folks here drinking the sweet south winds from our nearest town Beaufort that is a candid proof that tho Beaufort sits broadside to the sea breeze, yet it does not give to one the full healthful blast of its sweet fragrance as does our island of pines. That's why they come hereto Miss Knowles Hotel.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of Dear Brother Torzen Guthrie who departed this life one year ago today July 3, 1930.

Today recalls sad memories

Of a loved one gone to rest, For those who think of him today Are those who loved him best.

Upright and faithful in all his ways,

A beautiful character to the end of his days.

A loving brother, good and kind.

What a beautiful memory he left behind.

You are gone dear brother but not forgotten.

Never from our memory fade, Loving hearts will always linger Round the grave where you are laid. From the family.

Written by his sister, Mrs. Thomas Sadler.

Consider your Adam's Apple!!*

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

The great Lord Tennyson in a beautiful poem refers to a woman's Adam's Apple as "The warm white apple of her throat." Consider your Adam's Apple. Touch it—your Adam's Apple—That is your larynx—your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Protect the delicate tissues within your throat. Be careful in your choice of cigarettes. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants! Reach for a LUCKY instead. Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette which brings you the added benefit of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. It is this exclusive process that expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat
