Quinn Fisheries Rebuilding Factory for Autumn Season

Has Purchased Site and Remains of the Beaufort Fish Scrap and Oil Company; Will Have Factory Completed by October 15; Twenty Men Employed in Reconstruction Work; Plant Will be More Modern and Will Employ Twenty Men and Eighty Others Will Fish Four Boats

Twenty men are now busily engaged in rebuilding the old Beaufort Fish Scrap and Oil Company factory at West Beaufort, which has been purchased by the Quinn Menhaden Fisheries of Fernandina, Florida. Wallace M. Quinn, the president of the concern told a News reporter this morning that it is expected that this work will be completed by October 15, or in full time for the fall fishing season. When completed, twenty men will be required to operate it, and eighty more men will be employed on the four boats that will fish for the factory.

The Quinn factory will be the same size and will have the same capacity of the factory that formerly stood on that site, but will be more modern in every detail. Much of the brick walls and nearly all of the machinery of the Beaufort Fish Scrap and Oil Company will be used in the new factory. Mr. Quinn says that the plant will be more compact and more efficiently arranged than the one that formerly stood on the same ground.

The following boats will fish for the Quinn factory here: "Wallace M. Quinn," "J. Earl Maurice," "Boys" and the "Colonel." During the summer seasons these boats fish for menhaden in the vicinity of Fernandina, Florida.

The fact that this factory is being rebuilt by the Quinn Menhaden Fisheries and will be opened this fall by that concern will be of considerable interest to the people of Beaufort and Carteret County. During former years when upwards of a dozen fish factories were in operation in Carteret money was circulated at a greater rate than it has in recent years. And the news that twenty men will be employed at the factory and eighty on the four fish boats will bring hope to more than a hundred families living in the county.

Newport School Will Have New Principal

The News has been informed that W. E. Powell, who for the past four years has been principal of the Newport Consolidated School, will not be connected with that school during the coming year. Mr. Powell has informed the News that he has been offered and has accepted the superintendency of a large consolidated school in the Piedmont section. County Superintendent Allen stated to the News recently that no successor to Mr. Powell has been elected yet but that a number of applications for the position have been received.

The Newport school is one of the largest in the county and is regarded as one of the most progressive. The school has a department of Vocational Agriculture, the only one in the county. The standard of the high school has been raised from class II-B to the highest classification possible for an eight months school. A school cafeteria has been maintained for several years and many improvements have been made to the interior of the building and to the school grounds.

MOVE TELEPHONE EXCHANGE TO THE THOMAS BUILDING

The local exchange of the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company was moved from the second floor of the Duncan Building to the Thomas Building on Turner Street Saturday night. Telephone lines thru out the town have been worked on for the past several weeks and many new cables have been strung from the poles. Work was started at the Thomas Building about two or three weeks ago, but the switch board was not installed until Saturday night.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR ENTERING PUBLIC SCHOOLS

A child becoming six years of age after November 15, cannot enter a public school this fall. This is in accordance with a recent ruling of the State Board of Education. Heretofore children of this class have been permitted to enter later in the year.

TWO WOMEN MUST LEAVE CARTERET

Judge Webb Banishes Mildred Sparrow and Emma Barbour From This County

As a result of their latest escapades, Emma Barbour and Mildred Sparrow, two of Beaufort's better known colored women, were given the privilege in Recorder's Court Tuesday morning by Judge Paul Webb of either leaving the county for a period of two years, or serving a jail sentence of twelve months. Appeals to the Superior Court were not made, but their attorneys gave notice of this in case they decided to appeal after they held conferences with their clients. Both of these women and James Howard Davis, a colored youth were indicted in individual warrants for receiving stolen goods knowing them to be stolen, and on account of all three warrants originating at the same source they were consolidated for simplicity in trial. James Howard Davis was acquitted because of his youth and unusually good record.

Chief of Police W. R. Longest told the court that Miland Gabriel had pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering and grand larceny in Police Court Monday evening. This it was said occurred in the wee hours of Sunday morning and the store entered was that of Charles Scott on Pine Street. Chief Longest also testified that in running down evidence in this case, he was given reason to believe that all three colored defendants had received the stolen goods from Miland Gabriel. Later, he said that all confessed to him concerning their complicity in the matter, and James Davis even went so far as to take him to the place of concealment of the gun back of the Queen Street Baptist church.

It was disclosed, through evidence given by witnesses, that the reputations of Emma Barbour and Mildred Sparrow are none too good for dealing in alcoholic liquors, and that they are also suspected of running "fences" for the disposal of stolen goods. Charles W. Stevens represented Mildred Sparrow, and C. R. Wheatly was the counsel for Emma Barbour and James Howard Davis. In addition to Chief Longest, the following witnesses testified in the trial: Miland Gabriel, Mark Washington, James Stanley, James Hardesty, Mildred Sparrow and Emma Barbour.

It was the opinion of the judge and the solicitor that the "banishment" sentence meted out to the two colored women was rather just, considering the fact that quite a lot of trouble has been had with them and many complaints have been received; and it was also stated that a constant police surveillance has had to be kept over them.

Ellis Smith, a young white man of Bogue, came into court and pleaded guilty to the charge of assaulting Neal Taylor and Pearl Smith on August 12. The man who filed the warrant—A. L. Taylor—failed to prosecute the defendant. Young Smith said that he was drunk and disorderly on the date in question and was guilty of the charge. The prosecuting witness had conferred with the solicitor prior to the trial and requested that little be done with the case. Judge Webb sentenced the defendant to serve thirty days in the county jail, this to be suspended upon the condition that he be of good behavior for a period of one year and pay the costs of the case. The case against W. L. Hancock, charged with violating the plumbing ordinance of Morehead City, was continued until next Tuesday on the request of Charles W. Stevens, who represented Mr. Hancock.

HAVE CIRCLE MEETING

Circle number one of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Gerald Hill on Front Street Friday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

MISSING WOMAN FOUND TUESDAY

Discover Mrs. Sterling Dudley in Unconscious Condition in Woods Near Newport

After wandering for more than thirty hours in a semi-conscious and delirious state in the woods near the town of Newport in which she lives, Mrs. Sterling Dudley was found about six o'clock Tuesday afternoon about a hundred feet in the woods from the Newport-Harlowe road a short distance outside of the town limits. Mrs. Dudley, it is said, left her home in Newport about an hour before noon Monday and went for a walk in the woods near the eastern part of the community. No one knew about her going.

Her absence created an uneasiness in the mind of Mrs. Dudley's young daughter, Lillian, and she went around to all of the neighbors' homes in an effort to locate her mother. No one seemed to know anything about the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Dudley, so a general alarm was sent out in the community and the immediate vicinity Monday night. About fifty men gathered with torch lights and lanterns and combed the woods within a mile or two of the community all Monday night and Tuesday, but the search was in vain. Newport was in a turmoil over this unusual occurrence, and many speculations concerning what had become of Mrs. Dudley were circulated.

About six o'clock Tuesday afternoon a colored woman found Mrs. Dudley in an unconscious condition lying face downward in the woods near the Harlowe-Newport road. She was immediately taken to her home and a doctor called. After receiving medical attention, she regained consciousness, and her health seemed little affected by the night in the woods and the rains that fell.

It is said that she made a statement to the effect that she went into the woods about eleven o'clock Monday for the purpose of getting some tooth brushes for her mother, who was coming down that afternoon from her home in New Bern. After getting these tooth brushes, she seemed to be overcome by an unusual tiredness and sat down to rest. In a short while she got up to go home and everything seemed turned around and changed. She started walking and her mind became more and more affected until she was in a semi-conscious and half delirious condition.

Mrs. Dudley, according to the News informant, even knew when the half hundred men were searching for her in the woods and saw the lights and heard them calling, but by that time she had lost both her speech and the power to walk. One member of the searching party is said to have passed within twenty or twenty-five feet of the woman. The search was continued all day Tuesday and many times the calls of the searchers became audible to the somewhat befuddled mind of Mrs. Dudley.

Although a part of each year is spent in northern cities with her husband, Mrs. Dudley lives for several months each year at her home in Newport. While there she is very active in the civic and religious activities of the community, and she has a wide circle of friends who were much grieved over her mysterious disappearance Monday.

Start Large Suit Against Gorham Estate and Surety

Papers in a civil suit involving more than $300,000.00 have recently been filed with L. W. Hassell, clerk of the Superior Court of Carteret County. This suit has been started by Mrs. Fannie Smith, aunt of the three minor children, John L. Rhoda and Franquette Glover, and is against T. C. Wade, the administrator of the estate of the late E. H. Gorham, former guardian of the Glover heirs; the National Surety Company or Corporation, which bonded E. H. Gorham in the amount of $45,000; George S. Van Schaick, superintendent of insurance of the State of New York; and C. M. Hill, the present Guardian of the Glover heirs. Burney and McClelland, of Wilmington, and Charles W. Stevens, of Morehead City, representing the plaintiff.

In the complaints, it is alleged that E. H. Gorham, while the Glover guardian, received into his hand $264,600.99 belonging to the Glovers and "fraudulently misappropriated, embezzled and converted to his own use" this sum of money. C. M. Hill, the complaints stated, had failed to enter legal proceedings to recover

Winner in the American Legion Beauty contest here August 2. She will represent Carteret Post 99 at Waightsville Beach August 18 in a state wide contest. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dill of Beaufort.

GOES TO AUNT'S FUNERAL

Miss Lucy Holland left early this morning for Clinton by motor to attend the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Lucy Bradshaw, who passed away there at her home Wednesday morning after an illness of a few days. Miss Holland's sister, Miss Mary Catherine Holland, who was visiting friends at Kenly, also went to the funeral.

THIS WEEK'S Obituaries

JOHN MADES PASSES AWAY FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

After more than three years illness, which began in the summer of 1930 with a paralytic stroke, John Mades passed away at his home on Orange Street about five o'clock Tuesday morning. During the past year he was in a semi-invalid condition, but was able to be up and out on the streets with the aid of crutches most of the time. Since then, however, he has been confined largely to his home, and during the past twelve months he has been limited to his bed. He grew gradually worse and about five or six weeks ago a more definite change came in his condition. Throughout his prolonged illness, everything was done by the members of his family and friends to make him as comfortable as possible.

Mr. Mades—who was better known as Jack—was the son of Vas Buren and Mattie Sullivan Mades. He was born in Beaufort August 8, 1879, and therefore was fifty-four years old. He was a member of the Knights of Harmony and the local fire department, and about a year before he suffered the first stroke of paralysis he became a member of the First Baptist Church here. He was very patient throughout his extended illness, and was rather cheerful, considering his painful condition.

In 1907 Mr. Mades was married to Miss Mary Catherine Whitehurst, and to this union was born three children, all of which survive: Mrs. Roy Diaz, of Miami, Florida; Earl Mades, of Beaufort; and Charles Mades, of Southampton, N. Y. Since she was orphaned during the influenza epidemic in 1917, Miss Hilda Mae Whitehurst, a niece, has been living as an adopted daughter, and was looked upon by Mr. Mades as his real daughter. Mrs. Mades passed away about ten years ago. Mr. Mades is also survived by one sister and one brother, both of Beaufort; Mrs. Moses Austin and Southey Mades.

Funeral services were held from the late home Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock by the pastor of the deceased, the Rev. J. P. Harris. A large crowd of friends and relatives were in attendance at the last rites and the floral designs were profuse. A mixed choir sang the following songs at the home: "Abide With Me," "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "Shall We Gather at the River." "Think of the Home Over There" was sung at the grave. As a tribute to their deceased member, members of the local fire department were in attendance. The body was conveyed to the Ocean View Cemetery on the local fire truck and the procession was led by the fire truck from Morehead City.

CONDUCT FUNERAL SERVICE FOR MRS. SADIE NE SMITH

After an illness of several weeks, Mrs. Sadie Ne Smith passed away here Tuesday of last week at the age of sixty-two years. At the time of her death, she was making her home with her son, C. W. Smith, on Fulford Street. She was born at Russell Creek, the daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Simpson Russell. For many years she was a devout member of the Freewill Baptist Church. She was the widow of John F. Smith, who passed away several years ago.

Funeral services were conducted from the late home at ten o'clock Wednesday morning by the Rev. W. B. Everett, pastor of the Morehead City Freewill Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. L. L. Smith, former pastor of the Ann Street M. E. Church, and Rev. Worth Wicker, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. During the service the Freewill Baptist Church choir sang: "Pearly White City" and "Where We'll Never Grow Old." Interment was in Ocean View Cemetery. A large number of floral designs were sent and these and the large attendance at the last rites were evidence of the esteem which was held by her many friends.

Pall bearers were as follows: W. H. Taylor, Blythe H. Noe, L. W. Hassell, J. J. Whitehurst, Charles Carrow and F. L. King. Mrs. Smith is survived by one daughter and five sons, Miss Mary Emma Smith, and Messrs. W. B. C. W., J. R., R. L., and Herbert Smith, all of Beaufort, and by one sister and two brothers, Mrs. A. L. Bryan, of New Bern, and Messrs. I. W. and Robert Russell, both of Beaufort R. F. D.

DRANK MORE BEER IN FIRST MONTH

Consumption Less In June Than May; Carteret Has 14 Licensed Places

By M. R. DUNNAGAN

RALEIGH, Aug. 14.—North Carolinians consumed legally 178,442 gallons and 5,581,161 bottles of beer in May and June, the first two months of legal 3.2 beer a small part of it wine) figures compiled in the office of Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell show.

Also, it is indicated that the consumption in the second month was some less than in the first, bottles in May reaching 3,418,121 and dropping to 2,183,040 in June, which was partly offset by the increase in barrel beer from 77,260 gallons in May to 101,272 gallons in June, indicating the increasing number of places at which beer "on tap" was available.

The entire revenue to the State from beer and wine up to August 1 was $122,704.86, of which $72,089.86 was the consumption of volume tax for May and June, and the balance of $50,615.00 was from retailers, wholesalers, salesmen and train dealers for May, June and July. Of this retailers paid $22,977.50, wholesale distributors $21,900.00, salesmen $4,437.50 and dealers on trains $300.

Retail dealers in the State have reached 2,239, an average of a fourth more than two to the county, while there are 146 wholesale distributors, 293 salesmen and three dealers on trains.

The State tax for retailers is $5 but 10 per cent is added to each additional place operated by one organization. Under this chain arrangement, the A & P has 149 stores licensed, paying $78 for the last one, and Pender's has 133 places, paying $71 for the last one. The county tax is $25 flat, while the city license is $10 for off premises consumption and $15 for on premises, the chain store tax progressing at 10 per cent increase for each store.

A resident of Clay county cannot buy beer or wine legally in his home county, for there is no licensed retailer there. Greene has one; Graham Hyde, Stokes and Tyrrell have two each; Alexander, Alleghany, Davie, Hoke, Jones, Pender, Perquimans and Polk have three each; Mitchell, Onslow, Pamlico and Yancey have four each; Ashe, Montgomery, Transylvania and Yadkin, five.

Mecklenburg leads with 173, Guilford coming second with 160; Forsyth has 127, Wake 103, Durham 100, Buncombe 96, New Hanover 76, Rockingham 58 and Rowan 67.

Carteret county has 14 licensed beer places, from which the State gets a minimum of $140.00 a year from license only, the county gets $350.00 and the cities or towns get a minimum of $10 a year for each place.
