TIMELY FARM QUESTIONS ANSWERED AT STATE COLLEGE
 By F. H. Jeter Q. What is the best breed of chickens for a beginner?
 Ans. The best breed for any beginner in the poultry business is determined by what that person wants with the birds. If egg production is to be the major business then the Leghorn or some other of the Mediterranean breeds should be chosen.
 If the birds are to be sold as broilers in addition to producing eggs, the Rocks or Reds would be considered. Each breed has its purpose and fits into the poultry producing industry so any beginner should set up definite objectives and stick to them.

Q. Are growers who have signed reduction contracts required to keep records on their crops?
 Ans. No, but a simplified record book has been prepared for the convenience of all growers who have signed the adjustment contracts.
 This will aid the grower in keeping a record of his acreage, his production and sales and will help him in filling out the special forms and reports necessary in making out his contract according to the requirements of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.
 It always pays a farmer to keep records of his business.

Q. How much feed should be planned for a dairy cow for one year?
 Ans. This depends upon the individual animal but as a general rule each cow will require two tons of legume hay, two acres of pasture, 16 bushels of corn, 16 bushels of oats, and 600 pounds of cotton seed meal.
 Where wheat bran is available this may be substituted for a part of the oats, pound for pound. Good producing animals are necessary for profit and the herd should average between 250 and 300 pounds of butterfat to the cow. If this average is not maintained then the animal is not paying for her feed and should be taken from the herd.

A Newsy Trip Around The World

By Elizabeth Saunders

After 12 irons had been attached to her hair for a permanent wave, Mrs.
 Edith Gill of Wenatchee, Wash., charged her mind and rushed out of the beauty parlor iron and all.

In Hanford, Calif., a white eghorn hen belonging to F. W. Hubke, laid an egg 8 1-2 inches in circumference and weighing 5 1-2 ounces.

Strange sights are seen on some of the roofs of Italy. Hundreds of marble caskets, backed by tombstones, lie in rows on the roof of a Genoa mansion; an automobile race track covers the circular roof of a Twin motor car factory; and a fine cafe is the main attraction on the roof of the Milan Cathedral.

How very much alike twins may be in beliefs as well as looks was illustrated by Herbert and Albert Jackson of Chicago. Both got married five years ago; both deserted their wives a year ago; both married again without being divorced a few weeks ago; both were arrested for bigamy a few days ago.

A prisoner recently booked at a Washington police station gave his name as Cabbagstalk and his occupation as huckster.

Only moderate toll was taken by the law when Mrs. Margaret Johnson, 17, of Richmond, Ind., was fined $15 for crap shooting. She had won $235, so had a net profit of $220 as a result of her investment in the galloping dominoes.

In Midland, Texas, S. J. Eason has a pet Rhode Island red chicken, that hatched with only one leg. The chicken from the start has had an uncanony sense of balance and can move al-about with perfect ease.

Outside of Paris, few know of the history of every vintage of France since 1862. In a house on rue de Beaune, one man alone has, during these 72 years, kept a complete record of each vintage in the country, even including every thunder-storm and its effect on the crops.

Stern, Kiel and Hull are steamboat inspectors on the Great Lakes for the Great Lakes for the Bureau of Navigation and Steamboat Inspection.

In Alabama an aviator is running for the legislature. Appropriate enough, inasmuch as most legislature bodies are usually up in the air.

In Akron, O., Marvin Shearer, 70, surveyed with pride a timepiece he had completed after ten years. Big as a horse-van, more ornate than a cathedral altar, the monstrous gim crack every hour tells the time in 27 different cities, plays a pipe organ, sings, talks. At the hour of Lincoln's funeral it intones the Gettysburg address. For the memory of President Garfield it plays "Gates Ajar," for President McKinley "Lead Kindly Light," an incidental ornament is a toy electric train.

Mrs. Elsie Rae of San Francisco claimed that she gained 80 pounds as the result of a railroad station accident and was awarded $1,500 damages.

In China, it is not the dogs, but the cats that are chained, because of the belief that if the housecat goes, so goes the luck that it is supposed to bring the house.

Dave Cooper of Cadiz, Ohio, broke a rib when he sneezed as he leaned over the back of a chair.

An alarm clock is always a nuisance, and to L. F. Pugh of Birmingham and L. W. Young of Dallas it proved to be a positive menace. Within a few days of each other both men cracked their necks by yawning and stretching at the unwelcome sound of the alarm. Both are recovering after wearing steel braces to aid the fractured vertebrae to knit.

Statistics in the Orient show that in a village where each household kept at least one cat, the inhabitants never suffered from epidemics of cholera, a scourge of the Far East.

Juanita Martin, not long out of college, helped her father construct a sewer at Aurora, Ill., then by herself superintended the building of a sewage disposal plant at Geneva, Ill., which to be a perfect piece of work.

Twin babies were born to Mrs.
 Adams, near Sarsville, Wis., while neighbors fought and extinguished a fire in the house.

PRaises Administration of Beaufort Colored School

Editor of The News: In this age of their every titian in every corner of the world, it isn't to be wondered at that men would use every kind of means with the hope of getting their program over. It is regrettable however, that there are a lot of unscrupulous men who would put their program over, not only to the detriment of a few but to the health of many.

Perhaps there is not a man in the state who has visited as many schools in the state and out of the state as I have and I feel safe to say that there isn't a man connected with the school work or otherwise who has observed more closely the schools in various sections than I have and in view of those outstanding facts it would be an injustice to the community and to the principal of the Beaufort High School to withhold a public statement relative to my observation.

I wish to state first however, that I am in no wise connected with any school, at any place but being a staff photographer of the Gravure Section of a syndicate of newspapers, I have been thrown in many sections, but not in one have I found a better administered school than The Beaufort Negro High School.

It is almost ridiculous that many men allow their sympathies and likes for an individual to paralyze their own judgment, that they are willing to put certain individuals in responsible positions at the expense of the entire community, which sometimes covers a period of generations, it is equally ridiculous to imagine that because of one's matriculating in a certain standard school would so enhance him that he would automatically become an able executive.

Two men may be born of the same parents, reared under the same environment, given the same opportunities educationally and yet may vary widely in their abilities as executives therefore I must say frankly that I know no better way of judging the worth of a tree than by its fruit and even that judgment may be poor, but it is certainly gratifying to me after reading several articles pro and con relative to the present principal of the Negro High School in Beaufort to note that the best thinking Negroes and the best thinking whites are maintaining and

A cow belonging to W. P. Allen, of Lubec, Me., has adopted a black rabbit which had been foraging about in the barn each night to share the cow's supper.

"There is a destiny that shapes our ends," and around middle age it ends our shapes as well.

The museum in Jefferson City, Mo., houses a unique exhibit in a pair of women's shoes, size 22. They belonged to a woman eight feet, four inches tall.

Probably the record for larceny to a debtor was made recently in Osaka, Japan. An irrigation company sued a farmer for $24,000, and then settled the case out of court for $21,- 000, with the understanding that the amount would be fully paid to it with in 773 years.

A few hours after the temperature fell to 15 degrees above zero, police of Birmingham, Ala., received reports of the theft of three electric irons.
