Fisheries Flagship Is Afloat And Enroute To Morehead City In Tow

Former Lieutenant Governor Long and Party of Six Were Aboard Vessel When She Sank in Channel Adjacent to Ocracoke Early Sunday

REFLOATED ON WEDNESDAY

News and Observer Said "Selected Few Could Rent Craft for About $35 per Day." Damage Reported Only Slight.

The John A. Nelson reached Morehead City about 2:40 this afternoon. She was taken and anchored in Calico Creek near the ship-yard, according to tender on Morehead City Bridge draw.

The "John A. Nelson" state fisher-sink in 10 feet or more of water adjacent to Ocracoke village early Sunday and floated again on Wednesday about 11 o'clock when being towed to Morehead City today by a 75-foot patrol boat from the Coastguard base there.

Ocracoke coastguardsmen rescued the crew of four and seven guests aboard a few minutes before she sank in 10 feet or more of water about four o'clock Sunday morning. Just what caused the leak was not known at the time according to a telephone conversation with Capt. Leonard Nelson, the master. After she was floated Wednesday it was discovered that the leak which filled her eight that the party was paying their way was caused from a faulty drain pipe which had broken off in some manner flush with the hull of the vessel.

Julius Willis Wants People To Know That He Captured Terrapin

The gigantic terrapin recently placed in the salt water pool at Piver's Island was captured by Julius Willis, nightwatchman at Money Island Beach. He said that he caught the reptile about 11 o'clock at night, on July 9, as he was making his rounds of watching.

Mr. Willis wants credit for catching the terrapin and he brought the following list: Woodrow Chadwick Glenn Pigott, Ira Burts, Ed Lawrence Roosevelt Whitehurst, Guy Salter, Gray Roberts, George Lynch, Adrian Rice, Will Nolan, Isaac Wade, Louis Washington, as witnesses to that effect.

In our last week's edition we stated that Capt. George Brooks, brought the terrapin to the laboratory pool, and many people might have gotten the impression that he captured the reptile. At the time we did not know the real captor so his name was omitted. But since he requests this story we are glad to give his version, (not that the Beaufort News gives a continental who caught it or how). The Bureau of Fisheries has advertised that they will buy agiant terrapin of any species and pay a nominal price for same—just so it weighs 400 pounds or over. The Willis terrapin weighed about 275 pounds.

County Tops List In Canning During Week

Carteret county ERA Home makers topped the list in District 26 for the number of quarts canned during the week ending July 13, according to memorandum received by Mr. Gosard the head case worker here Wednesday. Clients in Carteret put up 8956 quarts of fruits and vegetables during the week. There are 10 women in this county who go into the homes of clients and assist in the canning.

Other counties and the number of quarts put up follow: Craven, 6622, Jones 7361, Onslow, 6011, and Pamlico 4983, according to the memorandum sent to the local office by Miss Elizabeth C. Uzzle, ERA Home Economist of District 26.

REASONS FOR NO JOBS ARE CITED

Roger Babson Says Wagner Act No Panacea and Gives Basic Reasons For Unemployment Today

Babson Park, Mass. July 19—Labor leaders feel that they have scored a real victory in the passage of the Wagner Act. This is open to serious question. The Wagner Act may turn out like many other measures which have been adopted presumably for labor's benefit. Its long range effects may serve only to hinder rather than help the cause of labor.

Employers And Labor Leaders Have Same Goal

While I am an employer, my sympathies have always been on the side of labor and I favor any measure which benefits employees. In this present situation, however, I feel that labor leaders have made a great mistake. In their innermost hearts, sane employers and sane labor leaders, alike, have the same goal even though they differ vastly in their methods of approach. This goal is the elimination of unemployment and the raising of the workers' standard of living. Let us try to visualize from an unbiased viewpoint, what progress this labor-leader-sponsored measure may make toward the common objective.

Almost every enlightened employer believes in collective bargaining and the right of labor to strike. So my biggest criticism is not concerned in any way with the Wagner Act's recognition of this right, but with its unfairness in permitting coercion on the part of labor leaders and forbidding it on the part of employers. There is no question that company-

TO ATTEMPT WORLD RECORD

Noe Will Drive This V-8 Blindfolded

Charles Noe, 'Prince of Magicians' will attempt a world record Saturday when blindfolded he will drive the new Ford V-8 for a distance of 12 miles. If anyone blindfolded has ever driven a car that far before the records do not show it. Starting in front of Noe Hardware Store Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, he will drive the V-8 through traffic congested streets here and then to Morehead City and return. Everyone should make an effort to see Prince Charles attempt this feat.

ONLY FIVE CASES BEFORE RECORDER

Jack Greer Who Operated A Speakeasy on Wheels Has Not Shown up For Trial Yet; Capias Unserved

There was nothing exciting about Recorder's Court on Tuesday. It was a dull session. Only five names were on the docket.

Jack Greer for whom a capias was issued on June 26, for violating the prohibition law has not yet been taken. He is the man who operated a speakeasy on wheels out in the Red Light Bluffs district which Sheriff Chadwick has been cleaning up lately. And the Sheriff told us that he was not through with his clean up yet so that might be a tip-off to anyone out in that neck of the woods who might be selling liquor.

Upon payment of the costs and condition that he remain of good behavior for two years, Paul Williams, charged with violating the prohibition law, was given a suspended sentence of 90 days.

Oscar Norfleet charged with non-support of his two illegitimate children (twins born a few days ago) was placed under a bond of $200 and is scheduled to appear again on July 23.

Sherman Copes was charged with assault on a female and carrying a concealed weapon. The prosecuting witness was his wife who wanted to

Clerk Of Court Wants Registration Records

Six precincts in Carteret county had failed to return the registration books for the Liquor Control Vote on July 6, and Clerk of Court L. W. Hassell early this week told a Beaufort News reporter that same must be returned to his office. The precincts which failed to return registration books included, Stella, Wiregrass, Marshallberg, Davis, Atlantic and Portsmouth. If any books are still at large when this story appears in print, Mr. Hassell requests they be returned.

ARTIST HENRY MERZ BELIEVES THAT USE OF SKIS A PRACTICAL METHOD TO WALK OVER SANDS

Perhaps no one had ever thought of the idea before, but Henry Merz believes that instead of trudging over sand-dunes on Bogue Island, that they can be negotiated quickly and in a sporting manner by the use of skis. A ski to those who are probably not familiar with the noun, is one of a pair of hardwood strips which when fastened to the foot serves as a sort of streamlined snow shoe. They are very popular in the Swiss Alps, Lake Placid and other places where snow is abundant.

And if Mr. Merz's idea is successful, a new sport for summer vacationists may begin, along this and other sections of the coast where sand-dunes are available.

Mr. Merz is the artist in charge of decorating the Money Island Beach hotel. He is also directing the

BIG EVENTS FOR ATLANTIC BEACH

Annual Regimental Ball Tonight; Boring and Lazur Friday; Medical Examiners To Meet

One of the most colorful events presented by Atlantic Beach each year is the Regimental Ball in the Casino. This event will be presented tonight and will feature music by the 120th Infantry Band during the color parade or grand march to be followed with dancing until the wee-hours of the morning, with Jimmy Poyner's orchestra furnishing the syncopation.

Manager Bob Cordon believes that this week-end will be one of the most attractive from an entertainment standpoint, that has been presented this season. The State Board of Medical Examiners will hold their summer session at the Atlantic Beach Hotel on Friday and Saturday.

Tomorrow (Friday night) the Casino by the sea will be transformed into a Cabaret. Persons wanting some inside dope on nightclub life should be sure and attend. Boring and Lazur, terpsichorean artists of New York City, will be here for the occasion and present a number of dances. This dancing team will feature the "Sensuistic Moode" their own creation, Society Waltz, Modern Tango and Ballet Adagio. On Saturday night there will be the regular dance with added attractions and an afternoon concert Sunday afternoon.

RUSSELL'S CONDITION GOOD ARTER OPERATION

landscaping of the properties. He came to Money Island from Pinehurst, where he did the decorating recently in the Chalfonte Night Club, one of the swankiest of its kind south of Latitude 40.

The ski-ing idea struck him after a few trudging strolls across the dunes in the vicinity. And Mr. Merz is a past master at the art or sport or what ever you call it, of ski-ing. He is a native of Switzerland, but has traveled over as much of this romantic world as Richard Halliburton. His profession is art, but his hobby is taking over ramshackling old buildings and transforming them into picturesque inns, taverns, night clubs or homes.

Once while in Europe it occurred to Mr. Merz to go into Corsica to live

Now Possible To Walk On Harbor Bottom And See What A Fish Sees

That is you can see what a fish sees if the water is not thick the day you decide to rent the diving helmet owned by "Dickie" Dickinson and take a sinking trip down into 12 feet of water. The helmet and air compressor came this week to young Dickinson who is spending his vacation in Beaufort. Several have already taken the trip down to the bottom of the harbor and it is the same thrill that William Beebe writes about often for magazines, in describing coral reefs and such... except in Beaufort harbor the coral reefs are liable to be tin cans and rubbish dumped overboard by residents along Front street.

Anyway you can take the trip down into the shallow deep now and at a very reasonable rate too. Dickie has two associates in this business he is advertising elsewhere in the Beaufort News today. They are Taylor O'Bryan and Borden Mace. Their headquarters is the Old Davis House wharf or aboard Dickie's Chris-Craft cruiser. By special arrangement the youngsters will take parties out to Fort Channel where the waters are clearer and the tin cans scarcer.

The editor will give an eye witness story next week, he did not have time to accept the invitation to go down Wednesday. Other divers in town at present are Capt. C. Guttrall and Capt. John Mogg, who are diving for the wreck of the Thistleroy off Look-out.

TERMINAL PAPERS SENT TO CAPITAL

The formal contract between the federal public works administration and port commission of Morehead City under which a federal loan of $297,500 and a grant of $127,500 is to be made available for terminals at Morehead were scheduled to be sent to Washington yesterday in completed form.

A. A. F. Seawell, attorney general said in Raleigh Tuesday that officials of the port commission and of the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad had signed the contract and it was being signed by officials of the Wachovia Bank and Trust company, which will be trustee.

The A and N. C. railroad, which is state-controlled, will pledge its resources as collateral for the federal loan.

rites Today For Macon S. Snowden

Funeral Services For Capt. Macon S. Snowden Were Conducted This Afternoon at 3:30 O'clock With Rev. C. T. Rogers The Pastor Conducting The Rites. Services Were Postponed Until the Arrival of Lieut. Ernest Snowden

Capt. Snowden was born on February 13, 1879, the son of the late Walter S. Snowden and Caroline Brable Snowden of Currituck county. For many years he was master of steamboats plying in Virginia and North Carolina waters.

In 1909 he married Miss Helen McPherson. The family moved to Beaufort in 1911 and Capt. Snowden since that time had engaged in farming. For many years he has suffered with angina pectoris and it was from such an attack that he died Monday evening at 8 o'clock at his home here.

Dr. Maxwell at the request of Mrs. Snowden telephoned Congressman Barden who in turn sent a radiogram to Ensign Ernest M. Snowden, U. S. S. West Virginia, somewhere in the Pacific. The message was received by the son an hour and 10 minutes after the death.

Besides Mrs. Snowden, his widow and son Ensign Snowden, another son, Macon S. Jr., survives. Two sisters, Mrs. W. W. Russell, Beaufort R.F.D. and Mrs. Clyde Mathias, Currituck also survive.

Commissioners Meeting Last Friday Appointed Charles L. Skarren Jr., Stanley Woodland and D. B. Willis to Serve on Control Board; Many Liquor Companies Offer Their Wares of Fine Whiskies

WOODLAND WON'T SERVE

Because He is Swamped With Port Terminal, and Beach Developing Work, Mr. Woodland Regrets He Will be Unable to Serve. Mr. Skarren is Named Disbursement Officer

After the first Control Store opens war will be declared on bootleggers who sell this corn liquor made locally on which no tax is paid. Authorities say that the wise bootlegger will cease operations now.

"We hope to open a store by next Wednesday," said Charles L. Skarren, disbursement officer of the control board. He did not state whether the store would open in Beaufort, Morehead City or Newport or whether all three would open simultaneously.

Mr. Skarren will have charge of purchasing and disbursing the stocks of liquors coming into the county. Other members of the board will naturally work with Mr. Skarren in the selections of brands, the payment of bills and carrying on the work of the group.

Persons who have an interest in the control board have indicated that the Commissioners made excellent selections. Several have expressed a regret that Stanley Woodland will be unable to serve and he himself told a Beaufort News reporter that he was

C. and that is a community near Hamlet that you have probably never heard of before) and the white youths to Newton up in the mountains Monday 18 boys were taken to Wilmington for entrance examinations; eight colored boys went to camp near Raeford and 10 whites were sent to Franklinton. Only youths now on relief rolls were accepted in this quota.

Covering The WATER FRONT

By AYCOCK BROWN

IF THE PAIR OF soldiers I picked up in Morehead City last Sunday who wanted a lift to Beaufort were a sample of the North Carolina National Guard and the 120th Infantry in particular, I would say off handed that it is about the louisiest bunch I have ever seen. But I happen to know that it was not a fair sample, and taken as a whole the Regiment has a fine group in its ranks.

THOSE TWO USED THE Fiftieth language I have ever heard and I thought for the life of me that they would jump out of the open windows of the car every time we passed a female of the species. As mashers they would take the cake. It is too bad that a few of that type should be in the ranks of a regiment. They give the whole works a bad name, which is not as it should be. I am not advocating the transformation of army men into boy scouts, but some of them need training in everyday decency.

CARL GOERCH HAS a very vivid imagination at times so I did not take much stock in the story he told me last Saturday night at his cottage on Atlantic Beach. He wanted me to write a story about Morehead City's
