MIDWIFE CLASSES NOW UNDERWAY

Two of the State Board of Health Midwife classes will have been held when this paper comes out. The schedule follows:

Atlantic—Tuesday, July 16th, 10 A. M., High School.

Harkers Island—Wednesday, July 17th, 10 A. M., School Building.

Bogue—Thursday, July 18th, 10 A. M., The Lodge.

Newport—Friday, July 19th, 10 A. M., Methodist church (white).

Beaufort—Saturday, July 20th, 9 A. M., Court House.

The vital statistics record shows that a majority of cases in Carteret County are attended by physicians.

There were 361 infants born in the county in 1934. Only 69 were attended by midwives. This is a much smaller per cent than some eastern counties where there is a large Negro population. The State Board of Health is endeavoring to reduce the maternity and infant death rate by holding these classes in counties where there is no whole time health department.

A State Board of Health nurse conducts these classes.

There were twenty midwives given permits in 1934 in this county.

There are more meetings scheduled this year than last. This is to make it easier for the midwife to get to a meeting.

Where it is possible we like local physicians to attend these meetings and talk on pre-natal and infant care. Local registrars of vital statistics are also asked where it is possible, to attend and talk in the importance of filling out the birth certificate properly. We have asked that they emphasize naming the baby at once, as a birth certificate without a name is worthless. It is well they suggest, to some, that they give the baby a sensible name. The parent should be warned that the baby's name cannot be changed after it has been sent in on a birth certificate.

KEEP CUT FLOWERS FRESH AND PRETTY

Raleigh, July 16—Cut flowers can be kept for a considerable time when given the proper care, says Glenn O. Randall, associate professor of horticulture at State College.

Cut the flowers with a sharp knife early in the morning or late in the afternoon, he advises. Then immerse and place the min a cool place for an hour or more.

Keep flowers only in celan containers. Change the water at least once a day, more often in extremely hot weather.

When changing the water, cut off about an inch of the stems so as to provide a fresh surface thru which the water may pass. Hold the stems under water while cutting off the end, as this keeps air from getting into the conducting tissue and blocking the flow of the water.

Remove the soft lower leaves from the stems, as they have a tendency to decay quickly. Keep the flowers in a cool place at night to preserve them longer.

Don't put aspirin, salt, quinine, potassium permanganate, or other chemicals in the water, for they do not help the flowers, contrary to popular belief, Randall points out.

However, an experiment at Cornell University has shown that keeping flowers in a copper vessel helps prolong their life. A small quantity of the copper dissolves in the water and hinders the growth of the bacteria which cause decay.

Do not handle the flowers roughly, as anything that tends to break or bruise the plants causes them to wither sooner, Randall adds.

What is the yardstick for a cigarette...

Take mildness for one thing—how does it measure up for mildness?

Chesterfields are milder—not flat or insipid, of course, but with a pleasing flavor.

Then take taste for another thing—does it have plenty of taste?

Chesterfields taste better—not strong but just right.

In other words, They Satisfy—that's my yardstick for a cigarette.
