

A Newsy Trip Around The World

By Elizabeth Saunders

When J. Hensley, a steamship radio operator, recently became dissatisfied with his wages, he formed a one-man strike and picked a lumber company's dock at Longview, Wash. Since union longshoremen don't pass picket lines, the entire loading facilities were tied up by one man.

AAA officials recently received this ad clipped from the Joplin, Mo. Globe:

"Dandy way to make money; buy this 13 acres for hog ranch. Sign up with Government not to raise hogs. It will pay you $1,000."

According to Robert Ripley, Prescott Cook of Montana is a regular "Ice Man." He is always cold and wears 6 shirts, 3 suits of underwear and 4 pairs of pants in the hottest weather.

Mr. William Lightfoot of Ripley, Tenn., recently walked 2,500 miles in a campaign for election as court clerk, but lost to a one-legged opponent who campaigned from an automobile.

Dishmat Hussian, who says he is 125 years and the oldest man in the world, is recovering from an automobile accident at Rangoon, India.

One course the cadets at the United States Military Academy at West Point enjoy is one that our future army officers must take—for four years if necessary to attain proficiency—it is ballroom dancing.

In some races of mankind the female is the taller and heavier sex. There is a tribe or two in Africa in which the average height of the women exceeds that of the men, and a group in Russia in which nearly every wife outweighs her husband.

Mrs. Walter Winchell, wife of the famous columnist, is the mother of a baby boy. Even her husband, famous recorder of blessed events, missed his own story because he stuck close to the side of his wife in a New York hospital.

Believe it or not, but there is one building that no woman has entered in 1400 years. It is the Monastery on the Island of St. Honorat, near Cannes, France.

For seven and a half years, Harry Harman, a constable of Catawissa, Pa., has maintained a calendar made of whitened clamshells on the terrace in front of his home. The letters and numbers are five feet high and four inches wide. Mr. Harman changes the date every night at eleven o'clock.

In London, England, charged with stealing women's clothing, Arthur Barlow, 27, said that he sometimes felt that he must dress as a woman. It is hard to believe, but a sailor in the Navy served 15 months aboard the flagship of the Pacific Fleet but never saw the Pacific Ocean.

In Omaha, Nebraska, when a 4-year-old and much prized sanary escaped from his cage, a classified ad was placed in a local paper. He was found on the porch of a suburban home 12 miles away, and identified by the occupants from the ad they had read. Jerry suffered nothing worse than a hangover from his long flight.

In Grantville, S. C., all glass vases on graves in the cemetery turn purple, due to fumes from a nearby dye factory.

In Juan Les Pins, France, Gigolos, anxious to reduce the cost of living, like other groups in France under the new government economy program, have cut their fees by ten per cent.

Mailed in Fukona, Manchuria, five years ago, a postcard has just been received in Port Arthur, 1,000 miles away.

In a diaper changing contest in Seattle, Wash., W. H. Love was the champion well trained husband and father of the Nation. He won with a perfect change in sixteen seconds flat.

In Gloucester, Mass., 3 year old Joe Randazza, Jr., weighs 137 pounds. He gained two pounds in 36 hours, and at that rate by now should be much heavier.

In New Kensington, Pa., Mike Stura is known as the "mourning man." He attends funerals for fun, and averages 3 a day. He has been present at more than 3,000 burials.

Filial duty is believed to be ingrained more deeply in the Chinese than in any other race. This illustrated on one way by the fact that the amount of money which is sent regularly to parental homes in China by sons and daughters living in other countries totals more than $4,000,000 a week.

Eighty-two-year-old A. L. White still rides his 64-year-old "bone-shaker" bicycle in Tewksbury, England.

Raleigh, Aug 7—A four-year tobacco adjustment contract, covering the years 1936-39 inclusive, will be offered this summer to flue-cured tobacco growers in North Carolina.

The new contract, in effect, will be a continuation of the present adjustment program, said E. Y. Floyd, of State College. A few minor changes will be made, he added.

The new contracts will be established on acreage and production bases already determined for the present contracts. Adjustment of acreage and production during any one year will not be more than 35 per cent of the base.

After the sale of the crop each year, the adjustment payment will be determined by his amount required to make up the difference in the actual farm price received and the established parity price on the domestic portion of the crop.

Where necessary, adjustments in the base acreage and production figures will be made in the contracts to place all growers on an equitable footing as possible, Floyd stated.

The new contracts provide that the number of tenants and sharecroppers on the farm and the percentage of the tobacco grown by tenants and sharecroppers may not be reduced below the number and percentage in 1935.

To encourage soil improvement, the contracts provide that an increase in the amount of land devoted to soil-building crops may be made on the farm equal to the number of acres withdrawn from tobacco cultivation under the contract.

Any grower who wishes will be allowed to terminate his contract at the end of any year during the 1936-1939 period.

CANNING BUDGET IS RECOMMENDED

Raleigh, Aug 7—Food and health authorities say that every person should have in his diet at least two vegetables each day in addition to potatoes or dried beans.

In order that rural families may have sufficient variety and amount of vegetables in their diet during the cold weather months, some of the surplus of the home garden should be canned, says Miss Mary E. Thomas, extension nutritionist at State College.

In addition to canned foods, the table should be well supplied with greens, which may be grown thru the winter, and stored vegetables such as onions, squash, beets, turnips, potatoes, cabbage.

She recommended that for each member of the family there should be canned 57 pints of vegetables and 45 pints of fruits. Twelve pints of dried fruits and six pints of dried vegetables per person are also recommended as a supplement to the canned foods.

To further round out the diet, housewife should provide for each member of the family four pints of preserves and jam, two pints of jelly, and two pints each of pickle and relish.

As a canning budget, Miss Thomas suggested the following vegetables for each person:

A spargus, two pints; beets, four pints; carrots, four pints; corn, two pints; English peas, two pints; kraut, four pints; lima beans, two pints; okra, two pints; soup mixture, five pints; string beans, ten pints; tomatoes, 20 pints; apples, six pints; black berries, six pints; cherries, six pints; fruit juices, three pints; huckleberries, three pints; grapes, three pints; peaches, six pints; pears, six pints; and plums, six pints.

Raleigh, Aug. 7—The fall and winter garden contest, a movement to stimulate more interest in home gardening by the State College extension service.

In the different counties, the contest will be conducted by the county councils of home demonstration clubs, and all rural families will be eligible to enter their gardens.

Through these contests, the extension service is seeking to increase the number and variety of vegetables in the diet of rural families, especially in fall and winter, said Miss Mary E. Thomas, extension nutritionist at the college.

Cash prizes will be awarded individuals and counties making the best showing in the contest. The prize money has been donated by the Chilean Nitrate Educational Bureau.

Where there are ten or more contestants in a county, a first prize of $5 and a second prize of $2.50 will go to the county winners. In the State contest, prizes for individuals will range from $20 for first place to $5 for fourth place. Similar prizes will go to the county councils having the largest percentage of their members enrolled in the contest.

Contestants may enroll with their garden leaders of their local clubs, Miss Thomas said. The enrollment of contestants must be completed by October 1. The contest will continue until March 31, 1936.

The contestants will be required to make monthly reports showing the kinds of vegetables growing in their gardens and the number of times these vegetables are served on the family table during the month.

CRUISER MAKES VOYAGE TO NEW BERN AND BACK

Leaving Beaufort lat Sunday afternoon Dick Dickinson and party of friends aboard his cruiser-yacht Mo-A. Mayo, Mrs. J. Taylor and son; all also sailed for New Bern. They made anchorage in Adams' Creek later that night, sailing again Monday morning. The sail from Adams' Creek to New Bern was made in 45 minutes which is clipping off quite a few knots per hour. Capt. Charlie Carrow accompanied the party which included "Bookie" Mace, first mate and Taylor O'Bryan, second mate.
