Gahagen Dredge To Dig Channel

Huge 26-Inch Pipeline Dredging Outfit Will Start Work on Inside Channel Leading from Inlet to Terminal At Early Date According To Report Today

SHIP LINES ARRANGE FOR PORT PATRONAGE

Maurice R. Beaman Port Terminal Manager Told Raleigh Newspapermen That Arrangements Have Been Made With Five Lines Already And That Eastern Carolina Would Save Many Thousand Dollars Annually In Freight Tolls; Commission Guarantees 250,000 Tons First Six Months

The Gahagen Company of Brooklyn who were awarded the contract by the U. S. War Department to dredge the inside channel from Beaufort Inlet to Morehead City's port terminal left New York four days ago according to reports and is due here any day, said Mr. Beaman this morning. This will be the largest pipeline dredge to ever do any work in this section. It is probably coming down on the outside and not through the Inland Waterway, it was stated, due to the huge size of the outfit.

In the meantime the first consignment of sheet steel which arrived in Norfolk on Christmas Day was expected in Morehead City today. First the barge bearing the steel was delayed by frozen canals. Then it was the weather. Another consignment of steel reached Norfolk from Germany on January 3 and the third and last consignment was due there today. A total of 1,350 tons of steel and not 'thousands' are in the order the Beaufort News is more liably informed since last week.

County's Needy Are Given New Garments

Despite the fact that Mrs. Ruth Roberts and Mrs. George Henderson, Carteret garment distributors have worked only six days over 650 garments of all kinds have been distributed to needy families. These garments are turned over to Carteret by the WPA and are made in sewing rooms throughout the county under the supervision of Miss Sara Rumley.

Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Henderson were busy making a survey up until December 30, and no clothes were distributed until after the first of the year. To date approximately 1,400 garments have been turned over to the county workers. They are still making extensive surveys and in the near future about 1,000 more garments will be distributed, many of which will be clothing for school girls.

POSTPONE RAIL MATTER

Gave Us A Gym

Mrs. Annie L. O'Berry

Mrs. O'Berry is planning to be in attendance at the dedication exercises of Beaufort High School's new $20,000 gymnasium on Friday night. Beaufort owes a vote of thanks to Mrs. O'Berry because it was through her that the building was finally completed with ERA funds. She has been State Administrator for NCERA since it was established. The Board of Trustees of Beaufort High School have also played an important part in having the building completed, and they too are to be commended for their efforts.

Covering The WATER FRONT

By AYCOCK BROWN

CARL GOERCH WHO publishes the State Magazine dropped by the office this morning. He recently joined the Y.M.C.A. in Raleigh so that he could eliminate some of his avoirdupois by taking exercise in the Gym. He was walking a bit like he was sort of sore—as a person walks who has taken too much exercise. I thought Carl was looking fine and so did Miss Fodrie, except she said after he had gone, "If I was his wife I would nail his hat on because he looks much better with his head covered than when he is bareheaded." Carl said it was much more fun running a magazine in Raleigh and covering the State than running a weekly newspaper in Washington, N. C., and covering the riverfront there.

BILL SANDERS SON of the late Capt. William Sanders of Norfolk, (formerly of Beaufort) has the contract for moving the Port Terminal steel from Norfolk to Morehead City. The first consignment was due there today.

NO DRUNKS IN COURT MONDAY

There were no defendants charged with public drunkenness in court on Monday night. Just what has brought this situation about we would rather leave up to your own judgment. In the event you have no judgment look through several recent issues of The Beaufort News. Perhaps you will give your home town newspaper a bit of credit as well as your Mayor, Hon. Bayard Taylor who gave out warning that all persons brought in court charged with drunkenness after January 1st would receive a 30 day sentence on the streets.

Emma Barber, Negress was in court charged with assault with a deadly weapon upon the body of one Sarah Vann. She was bound over to Recorders Court.

Mamie Forbes and Helen Stewart were charged with cursing and slandering Mary Pickett and her sister Lucy Pickett plus counter warrants by the former against the latter were consolidated and both cases were tried at the same time. From the evidence the Mayor said that is looked to him that it was just a case of jealousy between the girls about their boy friends so he gave them a 30 day suspended sentence if they can behave themselves for that length of time. The Pickett sisters were represented by Attorney C. R. Wheatly.

HEAVY DOCKET IN RECORDER'S COURT

Several Months in Sentences Was Handed Out by Judge Paul Webb; Some Cases Were Continued.

The largest docket in several weeks faced Judge Paul Webb of Recorder's Court on Tuesday. Several sentences were handed out for various violations and some cases were continued until future sessions. Such was the case of Will Bell of Newport who has been in court at least twice during the past year on charges of meddling with liquor. Continued from a former session his case was again moved up Tuesday, due to a death in the Newport man's family.

John L. Godette's case involving a violation of the prohibition law was continued under a former order. J. E. Willis and Tom Gilbert are scheduled to be tried on January 14 on charges of reckless driving.

Charlie Chadwick was sentenced to six months on a charge of violating the prohibition law. Dallas Blake who faced a cruelty to animals charge involving the shooting of a terrier which he alleged had been killing chickens and sucking eggs, was tax-

High Court Erases AAA

Carteret Farmers Will Feel Effects Of This Ruling; Parity Checks For Tobacco Might be Paid, Says Overstreet

The Agricultural Adjustment Act, the only institution ever devised in Washington, D. C., to help the farmers of America was erased on Monday of this week and as a result, unless some sort of aid comes about in the near future, the chances are that the Supreme Court ruling will place the men of the soil back in the horse and buggy and HOVERCART age of another era. Six hundred and two farmers in Carteret county will be affected by the high court's decision that the Triple-A spawned by a Democratic administration is unconstitutional.

One bright side, however, was revealed today by Hugh Overstreet, county farm agent, who stated that he believed that the 1935 Tobacco Parity checks amounting to almost $6,000 would be paid Carteret farmers. Carteret farmers will not suffer as much as other counties in the State. Only 602 persons were receiving AAA benefits in Carteret it was stated. Of this number 240 were cotton growers, 360 were tobacco growers and two (who received benefits from New Bern headquarters) were Corn-Hog growers.

A total of $39,555.36 has been paid in benefits to Carteret farmers since 1933, Overstreet said. With

Friend Of Farmers

President Roosevelt

Because he has been a friend to American farmers naturally Chief Executive Franklin D. Roosevelt was somewhat jolted when the Supreme Court ruled on Monday that the AAA was unconstitutional. He has stated though, that he would not stop his efforts to aid farmers and is now trying to figure out in what way it will be.

High School Gymnasium Here To Be Dedicated Friday Night

By W. C. CARLETON
The Beaufort High School Gymnasium, constructed by the NCERA, will be formally dedicated the evening of January 10th, at which time recognition will be given the local citizens and NCERA authorities who were instrumental in the completion of the project. The Gymnasium, valued at $20,000, is of brick construction and is one of the most complete in the entire State. It is equipped with a modern basketball court, which can be used for volley ball and tennis as well; four dressing rooms complete with showers and lockers in each; a kitchen equipped with an electric stove for use in cafeteria and banquets; a large cloak room; an office for the Director of Athletics; and a seating capacity for spectators of approximately four hundred.

Mrs. Annie L. O'Berry, State Administrator NCERA, has stated she

Morehead and Beaufort High School Teams Will Meet in Basketball Tilt on Dedication Night; Rice Will Cover Town Games for Beaufort News

By A. R. RICE

Tomorrow, Friday night, the first basketball game will be played in Beaufort's new gymnasium. The locals—both boys and girls—will have Morehead City as worthy opponents in the dedication of this $20,000 ERA built edifice. The girls play first and between this encounter and the boys game the dedication exercises will take place.

Tomorrow (Friday) marks the opening of official basketball play between teams of the county. St. Paul's and Atlantic officially open activities when they meet at the latter place in the afternoon. The same night sees Newport invade Smyrna and the aforementioned Beaufort-Morehead City meet.

Beaufort High loses two stalwarts from last year's quint in Roland Longest and Gray Hassell, two players hard to replace, but returning are Richard Chadwick and Braxton Adair

Year ago R. P. Holding was connected with the Bank of Morehead City. Later he became connected with the First Citizens Bank and Trust Company with headquarters in Smithfield and today is president of that institution. He is a native of Wake Forest and is still a comparatively young man being only 47 years of age. Under his direction The First Citizens Bank and Trust Companies have expanded. Beaufort and Morehead City banks are part of the chain of 15 now operated in the group, all of which have total assets of over 15 million dollars with a capital, surplus and reserve of a million and a half. The first bank in this chain was established in 1898 and today First Citizens Bank and Trust Company has the distinction of being fourth in size of all banks in North Carolina. The Wachovia, American Trust Company and Branch Banking and Trust Company are larger.

Two Residents of This Section Lose Licenses

Only two persons in Carteret county have had their licenses revoked by the North Carolina Division of Safety to date according to Judge Paul Webb. The first was Sterling Howland, a white man and the other was a Negro whose name could not be learned as this story is written. Judge Webb cannot revoke the driving privileges of a person holding a license. The names of persons convicted of reckless driving, driving while drunk and other traffic violations are turned over to the Division of Safety who do the revoking. And the Highway Police see that the person does not drive any more.

The floor space has been completely renovated and new equipment for carrying on asoda and luncheon business have been installed. The public is urged to try out this new establishment which is located in the Klein building where Abbies Soda shop operated last year.

She Was Discharged by County Auditor Dec. 4 But Under A Contract That Does Not Expire Until December 1936 She May Get $90 Each Month Until Then.

COUNTY JAIL LIKELY TO BE A CREMATORY

It is Quite Likely That County Jail Will Become A Crematory Sometime Unless Ancient Structure Which Was Built A Century Ago is Remodeled; That and Other Matters Faced Commissioners At Monthly Meet on Monday

A county official who is given 'control' of his office may 'hire and fire' an employee, but that employee may have a good trump card—something in the form of a contract which does not expire for several months—which may entitle him or her to collect their monthly wages, even though they are not actually on the job. Such was a sort of miniature bombshell thrown into the laps of the Honorable Board of Carteret

County Auditor J. J. Whitehurst gave Mrs. Eva Bravaldo former employee of Carteret a 15-day notice that her services were no longer desired after December 4. So on December 4, Mrs. Bravaldo walked out, but according to all information she walked out carrying a contract that was good until December 1936. A properly executed contract is something which quite often secures salaries for people after their services are no longer desired. Anyway on Monday a bill for $90 was presented the Commissioners by Mrs. Bravaldo for December services. As it was presented, according to reports, during the absence of the County Attorney, naturally the matter was deferred until the February meeting.

A report of inspection of the jail and county home by State Board of Charities and Public Welfare was laid before the board. Efforts will be made to secure approval of application of remodeling of the jail on the part of WPA at the earliest possible moment, which would correct the fire hazard now existing there. Considering the establishment furnished by Carteret county for holding criminals, Jailor E. M. Chaplain is to be commended for the excellent job he has accomplished in carrying out his duties. The structure was built about the same time that Fort Macon was built a hundred years ago. Numerous fires have been started by inmates but so far no one has been burned alive as was the shameful case occurring in the Town jail a few years
