A Road That Should Be Paved

A resolution was passed this week by the Carteret Board of Commissioners asking the State Highway and Public Works Commission to pave the road leading from Atlantic Beach highway to Old Fort Macon. It is one road in the county that should be paved and that done immediately. Not only would it be of benefit to the coast-guardsmen at the Fort Macon station but it would assure an all weather and an all season road to one of the most interesting historical sites in North Carolina. Since Fort Macon was renovated by the CCC boys last year thousands and thousands of tourists have visited the place. But except during favorable weather it is next to impossible to get to the sandy stretch. The State of North Carolina was given that road by the U. S. Government, it seems to the State Highway and Public Works Commission would at least reciprocate by paving the route. The foundation is already laid and for that reason the cost would be nominal.

What Others Have Said

"I believe that the editors and publishers of country papers are today the best line of defense we have or will have for some time to come to prevent the establishment of a dictatorship."—Sinclair Lewis.

"I believe that national prohibition will be back by 1945, and with a more thorough enforcement than America ever has had before."—Bishop Jas. Cannon, Jr.

"Roosevelt has it, but I discovered last year that I didn't have a political sex appeal. I'm not a candidate for any public office."—David A. Reed.

"We are no longer interested in the wisdom of that extraordinary volume—the Bible."—Hedrik Willem Van Loon.

"Every single and separate act of a woman's life, virtue or vice, charity or murder is motivated by vanity."—Lady Randolph Churchill.

"Got to read old Popeye every day; he makes me laugh."—Joe Louis.

"Italians have a very low boiling point and steam readily, but they also cool off quickly."—Westbrook Pegler.

"Is it not true Mr. Nicholson, that the State Highway Commission uses an 85 pound treatment of creosote on their bridge pilings?"—Maurice R. Beaman.

"Transportation is a great thing."—Simie O'Neill.

Press Gleanings

CONVERSATION EAST
 Manager M. R. Beaman of the Morehead City terminal has five steamship lines signed up in a traffic agreement that promises to counteract, if it does not coincide, the most recent freight-rate decision of the Interstate commerce commission. We have never professed to be able to argue rates with Mr. Beaman; it is evident that he has out-talked the steamship lines; and if they don't muzzle him, he will in time throw the I. C. C. for at least a conversational loss.—(Greensboro Daily News)

THE FISHING INDUSTRY
 A recent news dispatch from Beaufort told of the arrival at Ocracoke of some fifteen out-of-state trawlers and about two hundred sink net boats for the opening of the winter fishing season. Each year, it is said the boats go to Ocracoke to make their base in the channel adjacent to the island or in Silver Lake harbor. Catches there recently have been very good. Doubtless those out-of-state vessels deliver their catches to Norfolk and vicinity. The fishing of the fishing boats along the portion of the coast isn't unusual for a portion of the year many of those from this section do their fishing along the Florida coast. The presence of that number of fishing boats off North Carolina's coast, however, brings the suggestion that there is room for further development of North Carolina's own fishing industry.

Difficulties of the fisherman have not yet been solved completely along the North Carolina Coast. Just now there are charges and replies which have to do with the new state sponsored organization. Their merit is a question which must be answered by those who have the full information relative to the aid given the fisherman and the possibilities for the building of the fishing industry based upon an excludetainofitutuuru. However, final decisions are based upon an exhaustive study rather than individual prejudice, the best industry will be served in a manner which preclude a backset.—Sun Journal.

LIKE FIRECRACKER

RELATIVES—Like a package of Chinese firecrackers, Editor Aycock Brown's editorial popped and exploded into print in two separate columns of his Beaufort News last week. The spark that touched off the fuse again was the cooperative North Carolina Fisheries, Inc.

Among other things, Editor Brown "loved that he'd made a mistake in saying that a Fisheries printing contract went to a relative of Mrs. Thos. O'Berry, the State relief administrator, but that he had learned that some equipment for the Fisheries plant at Morehead City was purchased from a kinsman of Mrs. O'Berry's secretary.

Many Christmas Seals Were Sold Last Month

Approximately $12,000 worth of Christmas Seals were sold in Carteret county during December. The proceeds of the sale, which was started years ago to help defray costs of the care of pupils in the county, will be used for the purchase of first Aid kits, something needed at all schools.

Beaufort High sold $27.50 which was the high score, but Smyrna, Newport and other schools also did excellent work. It is interesting to note that even the smallest schools in the county, those at Sator Path, Cedar Island and Portsmouth, sold all seals forwarded by Mrs. Allen. All

RAIL LINE LOSSES

One needn't look far to find sufficient evidence of the difficulties encountered in the operation of railroads. In its report for the month of November the Norfolk Southern records a net loss of $59,965. During the first half of the month the Norfolk Southern operated the Atlantic and North Carolina road between Beaufort and Goldsboro.

Filing its report for the first half-month of operation as an independent line, the management of the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad shows a loss of $11,599.38 in November. Independent operation began November 16, and the report extends through November 30. It is pointed out in connection with that loss, that some $5,000 of it was expense incurred for advance organization and supplies, so that the net operating loss was about $6,500 for the half month.

There are more hopeful aspects of the report. The Norfolk Southern loss was under that of the same month a year ago through eleven months of operation. The Norfolk Southern more in 1935 than in 1934. November, of course, isn't a month in which produce is being shipped from this section. The market revenues are distributed largely from produce and manufactured goods shipped in this section.

"Please put me in the sewing room. I have never had any of this work. The relief office would never put me to work. . . Please get me on. . . Mrs. John Doe is working and does not need the work, so please put me to work. . ." The foregoing and many similar requests are asked of Mrs. Lloyd Chadwick, manager of the Employment Service for Carteret county. And this week Mrs. Chadwick gave out the following information to the Beaufort News:

"The fact is itself that ERA office never put certain applicants to work is the reason they cannot be placed on the WPA program. People who have written letters or made oral requests such as those in the foregoing paragraph are continuing the Employment Service which comes under the direction of the Department of Labor within Relief Offices and I want the general public interested in obtaining work to know this," said Mrs. Chadwick. The Employment offices were established all over the United States for the purpose of assigning eligible persons to WPA jobs, but such persons must have first been certified by the recent ERA as having been on active relief between May and November 1935. The Employment Office in other words, cannot assign persons to WPA jobs unless said person holds a Certification of Eligibility which is better known as Form 600 in Employment Office circles.

COUNTY CONFERENCES GAMES POSTPONED
 Two of Carteret County's Conference Games scheduled for last Friday, January 10th, were postponed.

day, January 10th, were postponed. The game scheduled between St. Paul's and Atlantic at Atlantic was called off due to the condition of the playing field while the Smyrna-Newport game was cancelled due to construction work going on the Smyrna High School Auditorium which is used also as a playing court for basketball. Coaches of the respective schools are attempting to find suitable dates to play these games, preferably Friday of this week.
