Carteret Vets To Get Their Money

Application Forms Are Received by Carteret Legion Post And Many Are Planning to Seek Immediate Payment of Their Share of Bonus

Over 400 veterans in Carteret county are eligible to receive their bonus now, according to information given today by American Legion officials and a large majority have already signed their intentions of making early application. Approximately $280,000 is due Carteret veterans, it was stated. Carteret Post 99 in Beaufort received a limited number of application forms Wednesday. "The veteran must bring his adjusted compensation certificate with him when he applies for his bonus through Service Officer William H. Bailey," said Commander Beam of the local post. "This applies to the veteran who has not borrowed on his certificate. The veterans who have borrowed on it must bring his pink slip in lieu of the certificate. All veterans should bring their discharges with them," it was stated.

Following is a summary and explanation of the cash-bond bonus bill, in the form of question and answers:

Q. How will the veterans be paid? A. In government bonds of $50 denomination with amounts less than $50 being paid in cash. A veteran whose certificate called for payment of $585 would, therefore, receive

Q. How and to whom should veterans apply for payment? A. To eleven $50-bonds and $35 in cash - the nearest regional office of the veteran's administration. Applications will be made on blanks provided for the purpose.

Harkers Island Pair Must Behave Nicely For Next Two Years

Brady Lewis and Nellie Jones of Harkers Island who were convicted on an Adultery charge at a previous session of recorder's court were given a break lieutenant Judge Paul Webb when their case was called again on Tuesday. Nellie produced witnesses who declared that up until the escapade which got her in the clutches of the law, she was of good character. Those witnesses saved Nellie from Samarand Manor.

Brady Lewis the co-defendant in the case paid the costs of the court which amounted to about $22 and the case was continued for two years, during which time it might be just too bad if either fails to walk the straight and narrow path. The charges against the couple were brought by Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, wife of Brady.

James Collins was sentenced to four months on the roads on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Because he thinks he will get a better deal perhaps, O. L. (Sam) Prescott charged with violating the prohibition law asked for trial by jury and will get same during the March term of superior court. After hearing the evidence of Ed Smith in the cases of with assault with deadly weapon, the defendants were found not guilty.

Judgment was suspended in the cases of Matthew Brown and Freddie Johnson, charged with violating the prohibition law—until the apprehension of Willard Johnson.

BALL POSTPONED DUE TO WEATHER

The President's Ball which was scheduled to be presented on Thursday night was postponed due to weather conditions. Jewel Aiken's orchestra of Roper telegraphed they were snow-bound and would be unable to fill their engagement. Wilbur Willis, chairman of the President's Ball stated that it would be presented at a later date, but could not say definitely as we go to press when that will be.

HONOR C. G. COMMANDER

When Commander Price of this Coast Guard district visited Fort Macon early this week he was honored at a old fashioned square dance. Several people from Beaufort and other nearby towns were present. Capt Tom Barnett in charge of the station knew that Commander Price enjoyed square dancing which is the reason he staged the event.

SOMEONE ABOARD the dredge Comstock miscarried on Monday. Just who is responsible for the ship's fuel, that is the oil which keeps the boilers in operation, this columnist does not know, but apparently someone fell down on their job. Early Tuesday morning the Comstock while out beyond Old Topsail ran out of fuel oil. It was bitter cold. The craft started drifting Cape Lookoutward. And that is a bad place to drift into, especially the shoals. With the fuel supply exhausted, it was impossible to keep the radiators or (Continued on page ten)

In The Graveyard of The Atlantic

Two of The Most Recent Wrecks Along Coast

The Graveyard of the Atlantic which is that section of the ocean in the vicinity of Cape Hatteras claimed the above schooners. The Nomis of New York on the left, laden with lumber sailed into the breakers of Ocracoke Island during the late summer of 1935. She was bound for New York. The four-master, George A. Kohler wrecked near Chicamacomico several years ago. High and dry on the beach she is still intact, with the exception of three of the masts which have been cut off since the photo was made. Several months ago a moving picture organization shot several scenes of the Kohler.

LARGE DREDGE IS DIGGING CHANNEL

U. S. S. Manhattan Arrived Last Sunday; Snowstorm Stopped Work For a While on Thursday.

Due to the snow storm Thursday work on the Morehead City Port Terminal was at a stand still but Friday operations were resumed. The Dredge Manhattan of the U. S. Engineering Department arrived Sunday and is now engaged in dredging the channel through Beaufort Inlet to a depth of 30 feet. The Comstock is also working on this project. The pipe line dredge Gahagen No. 5 has been making rapid progress on deepening the channel leading to the terminal site from Fort Macon. Already a large island has been formed at the outer end of a Marsh between Beaufort and Morehead City.

Port terminal officials made a trip to Washington this week to see about the immediate construction of the jetties at Beaufort Inlet. It has been reported that there was a possibility that the jetties would not be built, but General Markham of the U. S. Army assured the delegation that the government had every intention to build the jetties. They will extend for 5,000 feet on either side of the channel.

Work is progressing rapidly on the actual construction of the terminal. About 25 per cent of the German steel piles have been driven, it is understood.

"Farmers are expectantly waiting for some plan to be devised that will enable them to control production this year," says T. J. W. Broom of Union County.

THIS IS BIGGEST SNOW IN HISTORY

An 11-Inch Blanket That Covers Carteret is First of Any Consequence in 18 Years

An eleven inch blanket of snow which started falling late Wednesday night has covered Carteret county. It is the deepest snow ever recorded in this locality according to the older residents. The last snow of any consequence in Carteret occurred during March 1918. Only three inches was recorded at that time except in certain places where the wind had formed drifts.

Early Friday despite the fact a glaring sun was shining indications were that the snow would not melt very fast for sometime at least. Many of the younger children in Beaufort were seeing a snow for the first time. While a great treat to many of the younger generation the snow has brought additional suffering to many destitute families in Carteret County.

In some sections a shortage of coal was reported with only a limited amount going to each purchaser. Garages did a landoffice business in car repairing and selling of chains. The supply of chains was soon exhausted.

May Select Welfare Officer Next Monday

Twenty Five Thousand Pounds of Drum Which Sportsmen Won't Catch

What was perhaps the largest catch of small drum or channel bass ever made along the North Carolina Coast was taken yesterday by Capt. Ira Willis of Harkers Island and his crew who were hauling in the surf near whalebone Inlet at Portsmouth. Leslie Davis, independent fish dealer of Beaufort stated that the catch would total approximately 25,000 pounds, for which the fishermen at three cents per pound would receive $750 or more.

The fish filled several boats to the gunnels and although 17,000 pounds were brought to Beaufort late Wednesday afternoon there was still another load on the beach there and they were enroute to Beaufort last night during a blinding snow storm. It is probable that they did not reach town until this morning.

The fish individually weighed from two to 10 pounds each. Mr. Davis said. While they are really the young of channel bass, down on the islands of the outer coast they are more familiarly known as "puppy Drum." For eating purposes they are delicious. Many a sportsman who likes his boat or surf casting for channel bass will be unhappy to learn about the big catch of these copper colored beauties—but Capt. Willis and his crew were feeling just the opposite. They were happy.

But Matter of Taking Care of Needy Should be Attended to At Once; Snow and Bitter Weather Adds to Suffering Of Destitute Families

CHURCH GROUP MET AND DISCUSSED AIDING POOR

It has been announced on Street That Mrs. George Henderson is slated for New Office if Established; Church Group Would Endeavor to Have Town Make Donations if County Would Give Equal Amounts

It is generally understood that a welfare officer will be appointed for Carteret on Monday, despite the fact that a person high in officialdom of the county stated Thursday that some was not definite.

It is further understood that Mrs. George Henderson of Morehead City, who has during past years been in charge of Red Cross work there, is slated for and will get the job. The job will pay $125 per month. An assistant will aid the regular welfare officer at a smaller salary.

But the appointment of an officer even on Monday would not relieve immediate suffering. Many believe a group of church workers taking this into consideration met on Tuesday night at the Methodist church and plans were discussed as to how persons in immediate need could be helped.

Plans were discussed whereby the town would contribute a certain sum of money on condition that the county contribute a like amount. The proposition will be laid before church groups in other towns of the county, said Mr. Seely and it is quite likely that a plan may be worked out whereby an available amount will be raised to tide the destitute through their immediate needs and until a well organized welfare department is established.

DON'T FORGET TO FEED THE BIRDS

Most unfortunate sufferers as a result of Carteret's first snow in 18 years are the birds. Every citizen in the county should make an effort to feed these feathered friends and thus save them from starvation. It is a simple matter to fix a place on your window sill, lawn or porch where crumbs can be scattered. You will be doing a kind deed in addition to saving the little feathered fellows which are now suffering for lack of food. So, FEED THE BIRDS.

Hayne Riding School Is Interesting Many

Despite cold weather that is not suitable in the least for horseback riding, Mr. Hayne stated this week that people are showing a big interest in the riding classes he has established on his farm which is better known as the "home of Hayne quality Gladious." He has several ponies and the equipment that is necessary for horse back riding and despite your opinion of the weather the day you read this it will not be long now until you can, if you are a lover of equines, be galloping around the Hayne bridle path.

Beaufort Became District 2 Champs When They Defeated Pollocksville

By A. R. RICE

It took Beaufort High two extra periods and a last second field goal by Ed Potter to defeat Pollocksville High Tuesday night in a game played at New Bern 24 to 22 to make it two triumphs during the week over that team and become champions of District 2 in State Class B. basketball. Beaufort plays the winner of some other district in the near future and ultimately another until they either become champions of the state or are eliminated. This is the first time that a Beaufort team has ever gone beyond the first round in Class B. At the end of the regulation time the score was knotted at 18—all aided by Chadwick's 8 points, Brooks' 5 and Tyler's 5. Bender and Menotte with 5 each led Pollocksville. In the first extra period Potter made a field goal for Beaufort and Washburn one for Pollocksville to send the game into its second extra period. In this session Brooks and Potter converted singletons and Montee made it 22—all with a field goal. Here came Potter's remarkable last second goal. The first Pollocksville game was played here last Friday night and after one over-time period the locals emerged triumphant by 15 to 13. The regulation game ended at 13-all (continued on page five)

Morehead Basket Ball Team Is Now Leading Carteret County Conference

By J. W. Stewart

Old man weather changed the scene of the scheduled battle between the Morehead City Basketball Teams and those of Newport on last Wednesday. The games were originally scheduled to be played at Newport in the afternoon on an outdoor court but due to conditions of the field and by agreement they were played that evening at the M. C. Gym. Playing in somewhat the same form as of last year the Newport Girls won over their M. City friends by the score of 12.9. This game was the first of the season for the Newport Girls. The game between the Newport Boy's Team and that of M City proved to be a practice one for Morehead's Second and Third Teams, as the First was only in the game for a few minutes. The Newport team did not score until the third quarter. Morehead's Third team played the Newport Team on even terms. The final score was Morehead City 29 Newport 9.

On Friday Atlantic's boys team invaded Newport. Atlantic does not have a girls' team. The game was played on Newport's Outdoor Court, in frigid weather. The playing of conference games on outdoor courts should be discussed by those in authority, and should be eliminated entirely. (continued on page five)
