To Start Operating Canning Plant Soon

Resident Of Crisfield Will Take Charge Of Plant

MANY CASES OF SURPLUS TOMATOES TO BE CANNED

Carroll Crockett of Crisfield, Md., who operates canneries at Southport, Belhaven and several other points in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland will arrive here next week to take over the operation of the Chamber of Commerce cannery during the tomato season. Present indications point towards the canning of from 15,000 to 20,000 cases (two dozen No. 2 cans to case) of Carteret tomatoes, said Fred Seeley, president of the Chamber of Commerce who released this story just as we go to press.

Crockett had been recommended very highly by various parties, including Centennial Can Corporation, before his services for the operation of the local plant was secured. The opening of the plant will mean that employment will be given for the next several weeks to 150 or more employees, including plant workers and field pickers.

A total of over 40,000 lugs of green tomatoes have been shipped from Carteret to northern markets so far this season, but as the price has decreased and the vegetable has started to ripen while still in fields, the surplus must be taken care of and taken care of immediately. It is likely that the plant will work 24 hour shifts for many days after it is opened, to take care of the great surplus of ripening tomatoes, Seeley stated.

Still The Kingfish

Luther Hamilton

Luther Hamilton who for many years has been active in Carteret politics is still the "kingfish" politically speaking, of this county. Regardless of how a person looks at it, whether the Hoey victory was a purchase or the McDonald defeat a sell out, the fact remains that Hamilton is still the kingfish. He is not as strong politically as he has been in years gone by, because today Atlantic, his birthplace and home of one time "ring-man" Capt. James R. Morris is on the opposite side of the political fence. Incidentally—Hamilton did not go after votes in Atlantic precinct during this campaign. Luther Hamilton has long been chairman of the Democratic party in Carteret county—longer perhaps than he will be.

Here Is A Record Channel Bass

The Mitchell-Hedges Are Real Fishermen

What is perhaps a record channel bass to be taken from North Carolina waters is the 64 1/2 pounder pictured above with F. A. Mitchell-Hedges of London, England and Frisco, Hatteras Island. He is the man who made the record catch in the surf on Hatteras Island several weeks ago, near his Frisco estate. At the same time Mitchell-Hedges was reeling in his record breaker, his son, James Mitchell-Hedges was reeling in the 53 pounder shown on the left insert. F. A. Mitchell-Hedges is a famous English explorer. He has been living on Hatteras Island for the past year, going there on his honeymoon—but liking the place so well that he and his family have "gone native," and bought a home and considerable property in the vicinity. . . . In 1931, W. N. Henderson, brother of R. Henderson, Beaufort, landed a 63 1/2 pound channel bass at Brown's Inlet in Onslow. His fish was the largest taken that year and won the national first prizes in contests. W. N. Henderson is in charge of New River Hunt Club.

Hectic Elections Held On Saturday

Rotary Treasurer

James Davis

Rotarian James Davis elected as treasurer of the local Rotary club several weeks ago was installed into office at the regular meeting of the club last week. Rotarian Davis is assistant cashier of the First Citizens Bank and Trust Company here. He originally lived in Smithfield.

Hoey Carried Big Lead Over McDonald In Carteret

ELECTION BEHAVIOR WAS NOT SO GOOD IN COUNTY

Never in the history of Carteret county has such a hectic election—especially between gubernatorial candidates—been held. It is not difficult to hear most anyone say that plenty of Hoey money was spent during the day—but money or no money McDonald was defeated in Carteret to the tune of 728 votes. That was the official count on Tuesday as handed in by poll holders to the Carteret board of elections. Many supporters of McDonald will readily say, however, that their man in reality carried the county—despite any figures to the contrary.

If McDonald voters and supporters were dissatisfied, no one seemed to be interested enough to make a challenge in any precincts or at the board of elections meetings—or maybe they are doing something about it. Down on Harkers Island for instance where the sworn statements of poll holders showed 428 Hoey votes as compared to 43 for McDonald, a paper is being circulated at this time—according to reports reaching here today—with the signatures of many more than 43 already affixed, stating they voted McDonald. . . . Whether anything will develop from this report remains to be seen.

The total vote in Carteret county follows: Hoey, 2413; McDonald 1685; Horton 2117; Grady 1202; Eure 1155 and Wade 2499. Stacy

Fishing And ALL OUTDOORS

By AYCOCK BROWN

FISHING ON THE Fourth was not so good in nearby waters. Neither was the weather. That is why anglers made few catches. But when the weather is favorable these days, anglers who go trolling out to deep sea waters beyond Beaufort Inlet usually register catches. Mackerel and Blues are running and in a few more weeks Cero will start.

CERO FISHING IN our local waters has long been a real attraction to anglers from upstate. And the name CERO is a local name for the species. Down in Florida they are usually called Kingfish, their correct name. They belong to the Mackerel family and are sometimes called "horse mackerel" in certain areas of the coast. The average size of the fish ranges from 10 to 15 pounds and the largest on record is 73 1-2 pounds, taken with rod and reel by L. B. Harrison off Bimini on March 18, 1935. One specimen weighing 100 pounds has been taken but not with rod and reel.

Beaufort Bank Will Have Half Holidays

The First Citizens Bank and Trust Company of Beaufort will start observing a half holiday each Wednesday starting on July 15, it was announced today by an official of the bank. Each Wednesday during the summer months it is proposed to observe this half holiday each Wednesday. It will give employees the opportunity to get away from one of the most confining jobs in the business world—that which a banker has to experience, and they deserve a half holiday for recreation or rest during these balmy summer days.

Independence Day Resulted In Many Court Defendants

Several Fourth of July drunks who insisted on driving their automobiles that way were arrested by state highway patrolmen, here for the celebration and to watch independence day traffic. Many of those arrested told it to Judge Paul Webb in Recorder's court on Tuesday. While it was one of the largest county courts in many weeks, due to small docket Mayor's court was not held on Monday night.

The recorder's docket, defendants, charges and disposal of cases follow: Pascal Barbour, failure to pay board, capias and continued; Charley Brewer, violating liquor law, continued to July 14 for final judgment. (Continued on page eight)

Board Of Conservation Will Meet Next Mond'y

The regular July meeting of the Board of Conservation and Development will be held in Morehead City starting Monday July 13, it was announced this morning by Capt. John A. Nelson, commissioner of commercial fisheries. On Monday the meeting will be held in the City Hall and it is expected that many fishermen delegations will appear for the purpose of asking changes in various laws now in effect. There are 12 members making up the Conservation board in North Carolina, from all sections of the State.

Highway Officials Start Meeting Today

The North Carolina State Highway and Public Works Commission began a three day session at the Atlantic Beach hotel today, Capus Waynick, former High Point newspaperman, now chairman of the Commission is presiding over the meeting. Each of the seven commissioners are present.

Contacted by telephone at the Atlantic Beach hotel last night, Chairman Waynick stated that Commissioners James A. Hardison, Wadesboro; W. C. Woodard, Rocky Mount; Ross M. Sigmon, Salisbury and Frank W. Miller, Waynesville had already arrived and that E. F. Allen, Lenoir and Julian Wood, Edenton were expected this morning. Several of the commissioners' wives are also present. The session this afternoon will be devoted to routine matters, while Friday and Saturday the commissioners will receive delegations in this area who have road matters to discuss.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Conway of Beaufort, July 6th a son.

Man On Beach Dies After Heart Attack

W. M. Gerkin, 59, a native of Williamston died on Atlantic Beach late Wednesday afternoon the result of a heart attack. He was not drowned. Leland Hardison a member of the party who came from Williamston with Mr. Gerkin stated that the deceased was a victim of high blood pressure. Following the stroke, the beach management called Dr. R. C. Smith of Morehead City and every effort was made to revive the stricken man. The body was taken to George W. Dill's undertaking establishment while the beach management made efforts to locate surviving relatives of the deceased. Coroner Dill after investigation stated there would be no need for an inquest.

Political Round-Up

One of the louisiest gubernatorial campaigns ever conducted between two candidates of the same party affiliation, namely the Democratic Party, came to a close last week-end. . . . This is said despite the fact that youthful and Mustached McDonald has told the press, "We've just begun to fight." . . . Just what he meant has had all of the procrastinators guessing. . . . Maybe he will challenge absentee voting in some of the counties. . . . In Carteret, but now it is probably too late, he might have made headlines by challenging some of the resident voters who dropped their ballots into boxes in various precincts. . . . McDonald is a regular showman. He was more tricks up his sleeve than a magician and no telling what he will spring next—despite the fact that he is unofficially defeated to the tune of 53,934 majority vote given the famous orator and Longlocks Hoey of Shelby. . . . Or maybe Mr. Hoey has gotten a haircut.

. . . Around midnight Saturday by long distance, Mr. Hoey told Senator Bailey that 1,200 precincts heard from had given him a 52,000 majority—Of course that was unofficial and in the premature stage of the counting. . . . but. . . considering it was true he surely was running almost neck and neck with his youthful opponent for the rest of the 600 or more precincts. . . . Regardless of how this thing comes out in the long run—the long run which will end in November—it is a cinch that somebody and a lot of somebodies are dissatisfied with the noble or otherwise government of North Carolina. . . . Among those smiling as (continued on page five)

LONG DISTANCE PAY STATION NEEDED

When the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company made their recent improvements in service and changed to the dial system they failed to conveniently place long distance pay stations. A pay station is needed somewhere in the heart of the business section. Out of town visitors wishing to make calls have to walk several blocks to a pay station or else bother the merchants by using their telephones. Mr. Porter, should see to it that a pay station booth is placed in Beaufort's business section and that it is available for use 24 hours per day—especially during the summer months. Perhaps he will do this after reading this tory.

Carteret Coastland Is Visited By Many Well Known Persons

Quite a number of state and national officials are visiting the Carteret coastland now. Attorney General and Mrs. A. A. F. Seawell of Raleigh and party are stopping in Beaufort at The Old Davis House. Congressman Graham A. Barden and family who were in Beaufort for about a week at the Inlet Inn have moved to the Ernest Webb cottage in Morehead City for a month. Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell is stopping at Atlantic Beach and so is Capus Waynick, chairman, state highway commission and six other highway commissioners. Senator and Mrs. Josiah Bailey and family are stopping at their summer cottage in Morehead City. Congressman Lindsey Warren and Herbert Bozner of Washington, N. C., along with Rexford G. Tugwell, under-secretary of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., are expected on the coast tomorrow and will fish for dolphin and amberjack in blue water off Cape Lookout aboard Edgewater Club's schooner "Flying Dolphin." Commissioner of Banks and Mrs. Gurney P. Hood were Atlantic Beach visitors last week-end and arriving Sunday will be Col. J. W. Harrelson and 12 members comprising the board of conservation and development.

Bank's Trust Officer Visiting In Beaufort

Thomas Chapman of the Trust Department of the First Citizens Bank and Trust Company is at the Beaufort Branch this week for the purpose of giving advice to any client interested in this important division of the institution. He will remain here until the latter part of the week.

Covering The WATER FRONT

By AYCOCK BROWN

LOCAL, UPSTATE AND out of state fishermen were disappointed early this week when they caught no fish in waters beyond Beaufort Inlet which at this season should be teeming with mackerel and blues. The wind had shifted around to northeast, but was blowing so lightly that it caused hardly a ripple on the surface of the waters, and a northeaster of that velocity certainly does not chase all the fish away. After talking it over with various guides and boatmen the only solution we have arrived at is the fact that perhaps the blues and mackerel have followed the menhaden—wherever the menhaden have gone.

A FEW WEEKS AGO menhaden were plentiful in offshore waters. Never in the history of this section (Continued on page eight)

TIDE TABLE

Information as to the tides at Beaufort is given in this column. The figures are approximately correct and based on tables furnished by the U. S. Geodetic Survey. Some allowances must be made for variations in the wind and also with respect to the locality, that is whether near the inlet or at the heads of the estuaries.
