OPEN SEASON FOR POLITICAL TALKS BEGINS IN COUNTY

Vote-Hunters Gunning In Many Carteret Localities

TWO SPEECHES SATURDAY

Barden, Reynolds, Bailey All Pulling For Their Parties

The open season for political speeches is well underway in Carteret county. Four persons who are mighty well thought of by their respective parties have spoken already or will speak during the current week ending Saturday night. Last Saturday Congressman Barden addressed his friends down on Harkers Island.

On Tuesday night here in Beaufort, Senator Robert R. Reynolds made a series of speeches here. First he addressed the Rotary clubs of Beaufort and Morehead City and their Rotary Anns on International Peace. Fifteen minutes after he made that interesting talk he was introduced again to a political gathering in the courthouse. The courthouse was almost full, an exceptionally large crowd considering such competition as the local Legion Fair. His political speech was a regular Roosevelt fireside chat and it seemed to please his audience.

After the political speech he went direct to the fairgrounds, shook hands with several hundred people, was introduced to Suzie the trained chimpanzee, Speed and Hazel Merrill, motorcycle trick riders and then he did a bit of introducing himself.

Fishing And ALL OUTDOORS

By AYCOCK BROWN

CERO FISHING IN nearby waters has been good during the past few days. Several catches have been made by local or visiting anglers. One of the best catches made recently perhaps, was that of J. E. Miller and party of Greensboro, landing 338 Spanish mackerel, 25 trout and two cero. The cero weighed up to 18 pounds. This party was fishing with Capt. George Lewis.

ON ANOTHER DAY aboard the Pal with Capt. Charlie Bennett of Morehead City, Cole Musser and Alan Taft of Pinehurst and Hermon Carrow of Beaufort and Washington landed two kingfish and 80 mackerel. Dozens of other people have been to the coast fishing since October began and the cero have started running.

NO ONE WHO HAS been to the coast of late wanted to go fishing any worse than Wesley McDonald, secretary to Senator Reynolds. Ev-

"I would suggest that N. C. Fisheries, Incorporated, play the role of big brother and not competitor to the independent dealers,"—Rep. Graham A. Barden.

N. C. Fisheries, Inc., Potter's Seafood Co., and John Sikes.

The quotation above the three photos was made by Congressman Barden who was a guest of honor at a luncheon presented by N. C. Fisheries in observance of their first year's activities. That quotation if carried out to the letter would solve the controversies which have been prevalent along the coast during the past year between the Fisheries organization and the independent dealers. In the top photo is N. C. Fisheries, Inc., managed by John Sikes, in the lower right hand picture, president of the cooperative organization with headquarters in Morehead City and branch plants at Southport, Belhaven and Manteo. Last Saturday N. C. Fisheries shipped a solid refrigerator car-load of fillets by rail to Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The purchaser was a chain store group in the middlewest. In the lower left hand photo is an independent dealer's market located in Beaufort, owned and operated by William Potter, a member of a family that has been engaged in the fish business here for nearly a half century.

WEEK OF COURT STARTS MONDAY

Judge N. A. Sinclair of Fayetteville Will Preside

The October term of Superior court will get underway here Monday for a one week session. Judge N. A. Sinclair of Fayetteville will be the presiding jurist.

There are no cases of great importance on the docket, said an attorney today who is close to local court activities.

The first three days will be devoted to criminal actions while the latter part of the week will take care of a number of civil cases, including minor suits of all kinds, a few divorce proceedings perhaps, but nothing of great importance.

Road To Marshallberg Is Almost Completed

The road leading from Smyrna to Marshallberg will be completed by next Thursday, if good weather prevails, according to William P. Brown, of the Brown Construction Company of Lexington, who was here this week. The route is slightly over three miles in length and is being paved with a superior grade of asphalt. When completed conditions in that area will be much better for the traveling public. Heretofore during bad weather the route at times was practically impassable.

LEGION FAIR PRIZES

As previously announced in this newspaper, the three prizes, a bicycle, a Zenith Radio and a General Electric cook stove will be presented to three holders of lucky ticket stubs on Saturday night on the fair grounds at 10 o'clock. The drawing for a lucky number will be under the auspices of Aycock Brown, editor of this newspaper and all but Legionnaires and Brown will be eligible to win.

Triplet Fund Falls Short of Sum Needed

The Beaufort News' sponsored Garner Triplet Fund had reached a total of only $91.50 as we go to press today and that amount is far below the actual cost of hospitalization during the past month in Potters Emergency Hospital here. Those who have contributed to the welfare of these babies, whose lives were saved when they were brought to the hospital, have given freely and in most cases very generously, but outside help from the State's mother's aid division, the county welfare department or federal agencies have not come forth as yet, and as a result the babies might have to be returned to their home in the Newport section this week. It would be far better if the babies which were far below normal weight at birth, could remain in the hospital for a few more weeks. Contributions this week totaled only $12. The YPSL of St. Paul's church gave $10 and the Lina Bumpass Bible Class another $2, in addition to their previous donation.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS ON BUSINESS TRIP

Confer With WPA, State School and Textbook Officials on Trip to Raleigh

A worth-while trip to Raleigh Thursday and Friday of last week is reported by Superintendent J. G. Allen in which several items of value were accomplished, in addition to many matters of lesser importance. A conference with T. Gates Matthews, WPA District Engineer in New Bern on Thursday morning, is believed to have resulted in a plan whereby the delivery of materials for the Atlantic and Newport gymnasium projects can be greatly expedited so that work may soon begin in full swing and continue without delay.

MOREHEAD MADE PORT OF ENTRY

But Beaufort Retains Distinction Held 214 Years

Announcement was made in Washington a few days ago that Morehead City where the two million dollar port project was recently completed will be designated as a port of entry. Beaufort which has held the distinction of being a port of entry since 1722, will retain that title and keep her deputy collector of custom office.

No announcement has yet been made regarding the possible construction of a customs building in Morehead City. As the demand for such a building increases, one will probably be built. Beaufort's port of entry headquarters will be moved into the new Federal building when completed. An appropriation of $113,000 secured by Congressman Graham A. Barden recently assures Beaufort of a public building for which preliminary surveys have already been made.

Atlantic Project Is Discussed In Raleigh

Rep. Graham A. Barden said yesterday he had been informed that a representative of the army engineer corps will confer with State WPA authorities today in Raleigh on dredging a channel from Atlantic to the Inland waterway.

After conference, the Congressman said, he believed he would be informed whether or not the army engineers will do the dredging. If not it will be contracted to a private concern.

Thousands Attending Carteret's Greatest Fair Here This Week

READY TO MAKE SALT DELIVERIES THROUGH M. CITY PORT SOON

"By the end of this month I will be prepared to make delivery to you on Salt, through your State Port, Morehead City in any quantity," wrote Charles R. Allen, Charleston to the Ramsey Grocery company here this week.

"This is the first cargo of salt, in fact the first cargo of any material that has been shipped to and through your new port terminal at Morehead City," it was stated. The Charleston broker was referring to the Norwegian freighter Sam-manger's cargo, which is due to arrive here within the next few days. It will be the first foreign vessel to enter the port terminal and will probably be the first to discharge a cargo there.

There is a possibility that a cargo of 250 tons, (10,000 cases) of beer will reach the terminal before the arrival of the much heralded salt ship. The beer is coming from New York by water, but it is not yet known whether the vessel bringing same will be routed coastwise or through the inland waters.

In Mr. Allen's letter he said that he guaranteed to put North Carolina jobbers on a competitive basis with the Virginia and South Carolina jobbers. It will be supplied in 50 and 25 pound bags of fine, medium ground Alum grade and course ice cream and ice plant salt.

Attractive Booths And Displays In Exhibit Hall Praised By All Visitors

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY BIGGEST DAYS OF WEEK

Cetlin-Wilson Midway Attractions Most Elaborate Ever Presented in County

The most elaborate fair and midway attraction ever presented in Beaufort got underway on Monday and has attracted thousands of people already with two more big days and big nights before the event ends. Carteret Post American Legionnaires are satisfied with results to date and Cetlin Wilson officials are also pleased with patronage this coastal county, which has a population of less than 25,000 population and back-country to draw from, has been giving.

Friday is Carteret county school day at the fair. Every schoolchild in the county will be admitted through the main gates free of charge, if they are accompanied by their parents or teachers, as the special guests of the American Legion post and Cetlin and Wilson. Free shows will be presented for the amusement of the children when the Great Wilno human cannon-ball is shot from his cannon over two ferris wheels to a

Suzie Meets Senator

Suzie, the splendidly trained chimpanzee owned by Leo Carr had the pleasure and honor of meeting Senator Bob Reynolds on Tuesday night when he visited the American Legion Fair in Beaufort. In no time at all they were holding hands and were fast friends. Then a flashlight photo was made of the couple by a Beaufort News cameraman. Suzie is an ex-movie star and she has far more intelligence along certain lines than some human beings. If you visit the fair, and you should, you too will meet Suzie.

Sea Yields Riches

All of North Carolina's money crops do not spring from the soil. Capt. John A. Nelson, State Commissioner of Fisheries, announced yesterday that he 98,005,000 pounds of food fish taken from the State's waters during the biennium ending June 30 brought commercial concerns $2,959,500, a large increase over the 65,080,332 pounds, valued at $1,507,756, estimates for the preceding biennium.

Covering The WATER FRONT

By AYCOCK BROWN

"IN ADDITION TO the fine ports at Wilmington and Southport, the Roosevelt administration through its love for the people of North Carolina has brought the seven seas even closer to your doors by the establishment of a deep water channel and port terminal here in your Beaufort-Morehead City area," said Senator Robert R. Reynolds shortly after he started speaking at the Courthouse Tuesday night. A less diplomatic person would have eliminated the

TIDE TABLE

Information as to the tide at Beaufort is given in this column. The figures are approximately correct and based on tables furnished by the U. S. Geodetic Survey. Some allowances must be made for variations in the wind and also with respect to the locality, that is whether near the inlet or at the heads of the estuaries.
