Highway Commission Authorized By H. B. 778 Road Claims To Adjust

New Commission Will Be Expected To Pay Claims

CARTERET MAY GET $25,000 ANNUALLY

Editor's Note: The following story has to do with certain road funds which many counties in North Carolina claim are due as a result of the State taking over county improved routes a few years ago. Leader in the movement to secure the refund to counties has been N. G. Bartlett, secretary of the East Carolina Chamber of Commerce. As a result of the passage of House Bill 778 in the recent General Assembly Carteret coun ty stands a chance to get approximately $300,000 in refunds, same to be paid over a period of 15 years, in yearly installments, it is understood. Such being the case Carteret would receive approximately $25,000 per year from this source. The following story gives details of what has happened to date in the fight to get the refunds.

Counties all over North Carolina will receive the news that House Bill No. 778 passed which authorizes the new Highway Commission to adjust claims which certain counties have against the State for roads constructed prior to the States taking over the system with a great deal of (Editors Note: The following installment of the diary of the late James Rumley, Esquire, loses a bit of its connection with previous installments. This is not the fault of the newspaper, which was given the old and weatherworn clippings of the diary for publication by Blythe Noe some time ago. Apparently a clipping or two or a leaf or two of the diary was lost during the years, since it was originally written or published.)

Forest And iiimber Survey Just Begun Includes Carteret

Ocracoke Island's famous Simie O'Neal, famous because he was an exceptionally fine person who knew more tales about the Carolina coast which he frequently told to his neighbors, and his many friends from all over this country who went there fishing, died early this morning. He had been suffering for months from a cancerous ailment and had only Tuesday of this week returned to the island via National Park Service airplane from a CCC hospital in Manteo, where he had received treatment. Shortly after his arrival on the island Tuesday he lapsed into unconsciousness and then early this morning anchored "safe in the Harbor," near the very place where he was born 54 years ago. At his bedside when he passed were Mrs. O'Neal, his three children Elijah Mary and Benjamin and several neighbors and relatives.

First telegram announcing his death went to his lifelong and staunch friend Congressman Lindsey Warren in Washington. It was Lindsey Warren's influence which secured for Smith the job of Transient supervisor at the island camp several months ago. Prior to that time Simis had been a fisherman and he was one of the most popular on the Island. Senator Joseph Robinson, Josiah W. Bailey were just plain "Joe" to Simie when they frequently went fishing on the waters adjacent to the island. He was widely known to many high state and national officials —and his many friends throughout the land will be saddened by his Plans for the funeral had not been although it was announced they would be held on Friday.

Beaufort Benefits

The third in a series of Thursday night square dances sponsored by the Beaufort Business Association for the purpose of raising funds to advertise this area during the coming tourist season will be presented in the American Legion Hut tonight. So far the Thursdaay night dances have been well attended. Take the first dance for instance, two Thursday nights ago, many experts in this early American form of terps-choriea were present-but it took Cap'n Oscar Noe to outdance all others on the floor. For out dancing the others Cap'n Noe was presented a pair of Britton's Special shoes. Good music and a good time is furnished for all patrons of the Thursday night dances, and the public is urged to attend at 50 cents per urge.

Didn't Talk Of Royal Romance

Chief Engineer Dyer of the S. S. Waziristan whis has been taking on a cargo of scrap metal for Japan at the Morehead City Port Terminal talked about many things to reporters but both he and Capt. Lloyd refused to comment one way or the other on the now famous Royal romance which has rocked the worldespecially Great Britain during recent months. Chief Dyer was interested in the subject and when queried by a newsman he went into his quarters and returned with a magazane having a full page color photoof the famous Mrs. Simpson. Asked if he would permit News and Observer's ace-stffer Charles Parker make a candid camera shot of him gazing at the picture, with perhaps the British ensign flying from the stern of

BARDEN RESPONSIBLE

Carteretcounty will be included in a forest and timber survey just under taken by six crews of timber estimators, numbering 18 men from the Appalachian Forest Experiment station at Asheville, it was announced this week by Representative Graham A. Barden. The Beaufort Chamber of Commerce less than one month ago contacted Congressman Barden, requesting that he use his influence in securing a forestry and timber survey for Carteret. This was done following the suggestion of a northern capitalist here recently, who was seek ing a location for a paper pulp mill to use Southern slash pines.

In making the survey the U. . Forestry service is not favoring any special locality or any special southern state by making this survey, as North Carolina is the only remaining southern state in which a survey has been made. And not only will the survey be made in Carteret but in 22 Eastern counties.

In connection with the survey just begun the following story under an Asheville dateline appeared in The News and Observer on Tuesday:

Information as to the tide at Beaufort is given in this column. The figures are approx imately correct and based on tables furnished by the U. S. Geodetic Survey. Some allowances must be made for variations in the wind and also with respect to the locality, that is whether near the inlet or at the heads of the estuaries.

To Organize Golf

Club On Monday

Every person in Beaufort, Morehead City and Carteret county interested in the game of golf are urged to attend a meeting at Beaufort Community Center next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of organizing the Gulf Stream Golf Club, said Dr. C. W. Lewis today. The meeting will be pre-sided over by Philip Ball, build er of the Gulf Stream Course at Beaufort Community Center. Mr., Ball is a golf expert and has many worthwhile suggestions about the formation of such a club, which is necessary in the up-keep of the course. Members of the club will have first choice for lockers in the club house (now almost completed) and also the privilege of low rate green fees. When the club is organized the green fees for non-members will be about twice that charged members. At the present time grass is sprouting on the fairways and the clubhouse is nearing completion. By early May the clubhouse will be completed and a keeper installed. By early May, also, playing will be permitted on two or three of the fairways, for practice purposes-and by the time the summer season actually begins the course will be completed and available not only for the use of Carteret county players but also visiting golfers who heretofore came to Carteret to find no golf course on which to play.

The paving of the Jacksonville to Swansboro link of Highway 24 will be completed by July 30th, according to bulletin issued by N. C. State Highway and Public Works Commission. This route, 10.67 miles in length is being surfaced with sand asphalt. The bulletin recommends a 25 mile detour for those going this route at present. The detour via Belgrade, 12 miles surfaced, 13 miles topsoil—which incidentally is not very pleasant driving at this season.

Noe-Paul Minkery And Hound Kennel Growing

The Noe-Paul mink farm and hound kennel located down at Davis is growing daily by the addition of new stock purchased from some of the leading kennels and mink ranches of this country and Canada, This new venture for Carteret county is sponsored and financed by Blythe Noe local hardware dealer and Wes -ley Paul, the latter of Davis, who could be well classed as a mink expert since he caught or killed over 50 on Core Banks in less than ten weeks during the recent open season. At the present time the kennel is composed of 10 hounds, both black and tan foxhounds and red-bones. In the mink hutches are 11 breeders. The growth of the Noe-Paul interests has been slow so far as compared to what they expect it to be when the various animals start their propogation during the current Spring. From their present outlay of hounds they expect in the neighborhood of 150 puppies this year. About the increase in minks-that is uncertain.

Local Boys Make Good As College Moundsmen

Judging from frequent newspaper clippings received here from down in Georgia, Ray Hassell and George Brooks, students at Middle Georgia College of Cochran are making good as collegiate moundsmen. Headlined in one of the clippings is the fact that Brooks struck out 13 during one game he pitched, giving his alma mater a 14-2 victory. Brooks is the son of George Brooks, local engineer. Hassell who is also an impor-

Parker came to the coast primarily to get a news feature and candid news photos of the S. S. In a drizzling rain Tuesday morn ing accompanied by Beaufort News editor Aycock Brown the Parkers went to the Port terminal and whiled away an hour or two talking to genial Capt. John Lloyd master of the British vessel which in the words of the ace-staffer is an history maker since she is taking on the first export cargo at the recently constructed $2,000,000 port project. From the 'monkey deck' to the fire room of the craft and from the stern to the bow went the newsman with Capt. Lloyd. In the chart room Capt. Lloyd explained the use of various navigation instruments, the radio direction finder and the sounding apparatus. In the master's quarters Capt. Lloyd talked about his home folks and his home village, Wallasey in Cheshire near Liverpool, home
