Bright Sunshine On Most of August Days

Practically every day in August was cloudless. Only two days during the month did it rain. The temperature was abnormal, and at times no cooling breezes blew, but every day, except two the sun was shining from sunrise to sun-set. Following is a daily record of the temperatures, high and low, day by day, as recorded by the U. S. Weather Bureau here.

RAPE CASE

Tuesday in Recorder's court Mary Jones and a wild-eyed looking sister appeared in court along with A. Baker Morris, Morehead City attorney, to convict the boy from Burgaw of the charge of rape. The trial lasted all day, or most of the day as a day in court circles is considered.

A score or more witnesses appeared to testify to the good moral character of Lloyd Blake, the son of a respectable citizen of Burgaw or that section. Two lawyers, E. Walter Hill, champion criminal attorney locally and Cliff Moore, who will (if things don't go wrong someday be Superior Court Judge Moore) represented the defendants. Baker Morris, Morehead City criminal lawyer with M. Leslie Davis, Recorder's Court prosecutor appeared on behalf of the girl.

The outcome was a non-suit. Probably the editor of The Beaufort News will be jailed for saying it, and he is writing this article, but the case was decided before it ever entered the courtroom, if public opinion counts. Without even the mother who swore out the warrant present to stand by her daughter in her of trouble, nothing more than the verdict could be expected. There was talk of money during the trial. Whether the money was $3 or $1,000—Mary Jones the prosecuting witness, a child of 14 who had started traveling the Primrose path too soon in life, and with an adolescent mind, was fighting a losing fight from the very beginning. The cards were stacked against Mary Jones, a friendless girl. The cards were in favor of Lloyd Blake, who from what we heard of the trial is a very young man of excellent character—a human being so to speak. . . . Nothing more. —About that State Highway Office over there which came into the evidence so frequently—that is a good story for next week.

dentist is not a politician . . . And the Morehead dentist by the name of Eure is a swell fellow, who is doing a swell work among the youth of his town, and is the leader in Rotary work of our neighboring city . . . Also over at the beach last Saturday night, uncertain whether he was there or there was Wade Lucas, best and foremost political writer of this province, who hails from Raleigh and who will some day be a one man Drew-Pearson column in political things nationally . . . Mark those words . . . Major Gillett in Morehead City early today called Senator Josiah W. Bailey to pay his respects and ask him to join a party bound for historic Fort Macon . . . The Senator was in Winston-Salem attending a meeting of the Young Democrats. Mind you . . . I wonder why . . . Major Gillett said that of all the people who were bucking the present national administration, Senator Bailey apparently was the most popular . . . Figure that one out for yourself . . .
