RUNNING LIGHTS

By JOHN SIKES

THE REV. Benjamin Franklin Hall, Th. D., will become pastor of The Central Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, Mo., after the first of the year.

Frank Hall is leaving Morehead City.

THE TWO paragraphs above refer, obviously to most of you around here, to the same person. The first paragraph, however, is the symbol in cold types of the academic attainments and entitlements of a scholarly young theologian who, at about 30 years of age, has gone far toward learning the precepts and canons of religions as set forth in books.

THE SECOND paragraph is symbolic of the practical, every day religion that Frank Hall has demonstrated during his tenure in this community.

OF THE TWO I'll take the latter. As a matter of actual fact, of the two I'm absolutely positive, which is a foolishly strong degree of certain-

The Redstone is said to be the smallest foreign vessel to enter Morehead's new port for cargo. Her tonnage registry is less than 2,000 tons. A third ship, the Vestria is expected for scrap metal cargo around the first of the year.

Miss Rudder Was Sponsored By Joe House Drug Store

Under the photo of attractive Miss Mary Sue Rudder, published on the front page of The Beaufort News last week, it was stated that she was sponsored by First Citizens Bank and Trust Company. The day after publication The Beaufort News editor was advised by Miss Julia Thomas, who is employed at Joe House Drug store that Miss Rudder was sponsored by the firm of her employer and not the First Citizens Bank. The Beaufort News regrets that this error was made in setting up the story which appeared beneath the photo of "Miss Beaufort."

ONLY CITIZENS OF STATE WILL BENEFIT FROM PRIVILEGES AND ALL INLETS AND CAPE LOOKOUT BIGHT TO BE PROTECTED AREAS

TINEY IS GONE

Tiney, the cute little black terrier owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, is gone.

One day, early this week, Mr. and Mrs. Jones drove over to Atlantic Beach and up the surf about two miles to observe the fishing boats operating off-shore. Paul is part owner of one of the boats in the menhaden fleet. They stopped their car and got out on the beach, followed by Tiney. An incoming wave frightened Tiney so badly that he scampered across the dunes into the woods. And that is the last the owners of Tiney have seen of him, although every available source on Bogue Island from Salter Path to Ft. Macon has been checked in an effort to locate the dog.

If any one on Bogue Banks happens to find Tiney, one of the smallest and cutest little black terriers to ever live in Beaufort they are requested to notify Paul Jones.

Work On Postoffice Site Is Progressing

Work on the new Beaufort Postoffice site is progressing rapidly as anyone who drives along east Front Street will note. Most of the preliminary ground work has been completed and a large crew of workmen have been given employment there. Some of the bases of the building are now under construction. The work is being carried on by A Farnell Blair of Louisiana. The building is expected to be completed by midsummer of 1938. Appropriation for the building was obtained for Beaufort by Congressman Graham A. Barden. The appropriation amounted to $119,000. Congressman Barden has also gotten an appropriation for the construction of a new postoffice in Morehead City, but so far the site, if selected by the Procurement Division has not been announced locally.

Colorful Christmas Lights Over Streets

Colorful Christmas lights adorn the down-town section of Beaufort this year, adding to the beauty and the seasonal spirit of things locally. Most of the residences have displayed their decorations of lighted weathes in windows or other electrical displays adding to the beauty of the homes and streets. Some of the merchants have erected Christmas trees in front of their places of business and one of the prettiest is the tree over the marquee of Seabreeze theatre. Fred King who usually wins a prize every year for his front yard decoration has sold the idea this year to a local civic group and the display will be placed in the vacant area at the corner of Turner and Front streets.

Beaufort Theatre Opens Next Week

The Beaufort theatre which has been closed for the past several weeks while the structure was enlarged and renovated generally, will open next week. No definite day for the opening was set by Manager Bob Lang, but if the seats are installed and everything is in readiness, there is a possibility that Monday will mark its reopening.

The Beaufort Theatre building is owned by Richard Dickinson. He has stated that he costs involved in making the building larger and constructing a balcony for colored patrons, plus the interior decorations will amount to approximately $5,500. Quite a few major changes have been made in the building including the removal of the ticket office, to another location, construction of an inside lobby and also a new marquee.

Conservation Board To Get Recommendation In January

Fisheries Inc. Would Have Place In Picture

A sub-committee of the Board of Conservation and Development will recommend to the full Board at its January meeting that the present restrictions on trawling and purse seining within the waters of North Carolina, by North Carolina citizens, be removed (inlets and Cape Lookout Bight to be protected for a distance of three miles on either side); provided, that the North Carolina Fisheries, Inc., not buy from trawlers and purse seiners, nor store for these fishermen after 50 percent of the storage capacity of N. C. Fisheries is filled.

Decision on making this recommendation came following a meeting of the Conservation Board's sub-committee in Morehead City on December 5. Those present at the meeting were J. L. McNair, of Laurinburg,

Covering The WATER FRONT

By AYCOCK BROWN

JOHN SIKES, son of a preacher who writes a very interesting column about a preacher for his 'Running Lights' this week told me last summer after a large delegation of Harkers Islanders appeared before the Board of Conservation and Development asking that the Cape Lookout Bight area be closed to shrimp trawlers, that he had just as soon as a big run of shrimp came in at the Cape, that some residents of the island would be among the first to violate the new law. Between 25
