Carteret Will Not Share In Reynolds Syphilis Fund

Dr. Reynolds In Letter To Dr. Royal Tells Why We Lose

NO HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Carteret County will not share in the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation recently given the State of North Carolina to use in the fight against Syphilis, generally termed as 'the great killer.' Neither will Carteret County share in other public funds and foundations which would be available if we had a Carteret County Health Department. Such is the information contained in a letter received by Dr. Ben F. Royal a few days ago from Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, secretary of the State Board of Health.

Excerpts from the letter received by Dr. Royal which should be of interest to every citizen of Carteret, especially those who have tried to induce the Board of Commissioners to establish a full time health department follows:

"Definite plans for the expenditure of this Fund are being studied carefully at this department but as yet such permanent plans have not been completed.

"I am very sorry indeed that Carteret County is not in a position to participate in the expenditure of the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation, Inc., Fund in the control and cure of syphilis. This Fund is to be used as a supplementary fund in counties and cities where there are organized health departments and established clinics. Of course, you realize that this is absolutely essential when the fund is primarily used to demonstrate (Continued on page eight)

S. S. SOULIOTIS IS AT MOREHEAD CITY

Will Take Scrap Cargo To Poland; Bestum Sails Today

The S. S. Souliotis of Athens, Greece, under command of Capt. Petro Roides, arrived at Morehead City port terminal early Tuesday morning from Savannah, Ga. W. H. Smoak, port supervisor, stated that the vessel carried a cargo of 6,645 tons of scrap metal taken on in that port when she entered North Carolina's ocean terminal at Morehead City. "She will take on approximately 1,056 tons of scrap metal here to complete her cargo before clearing, possibly Saturday, for Gdynia, Poland," said Supervisor Smoak.

The Souliotis is one of the largest vessels to enter the new port terminal but not the longest. Her length is 400 feet. The Norwegian M. S. Vigrid, here during the late summer was 415 feet long.

While one of the largest vessels is in port at the present time, one of the smallest under foreign registry to visit the terminals is also here. She is the S. S. Bestum, of Oslo, Norway, under the command of Capt. Raul Rasmussen, a vessel of 1,300 tons registry which is expected to clear today for an European port with a cargo of approximately 3,000 pounds.

This Is The Way To Get WPA Job

Phillip Ball, who directs the affairs of WPA in Carteret county asked The Beaufort News editor to try and explain to applicants how they should go about getting employment on projects. There is hardly a day that passes but what Director Ball is besieged by applicants wanting work. Unless a person has been certified as a relief client, he cannot work on a WPA project. And Ball cannot certify a person.

The applicant first applies to Mrs. Ruth Roberts, who is the certification clerk of Carteret Welfare Department. She obtains a case history of the applicant, and determines if person is eligible for certification. Then she refers her information to Mrs. Mary Ward, for approval. Mrs. Ward is a District certification official.

If she approves, the applicant is certified, and this information goes back to Mrs. Roberts and to the applicant, who is turned over to Mr. Ball for a job on one of the projects he supervises. To get a job on the WPA a person is supposed to be on Relief. There is much red tape to go through before applicant becomes eligible and before WPAman Ball can give a person work.

Chamber Of Commerce Gets Action Quickly

At the general meeting of The Chamber of Commerce on Monday night R. Hugh Hill suggested that efforts be made to get the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company to establish a public telephone booth in Beaufort. Rev. Louis Hayman suggested that the Telephone company also be requested to list the house numbers and names of streets of subscribers. Chairman Clifford Lewis appointed Hill and Hayman a committee to see that the matter was attended to. On Tuesday morning a wire was forwarded Vice President Porter of the Telephone Company. By noon he had advised the local manager to establish the public telephone booth. The booth will be established in Joe House Drug Store within the next day or two. On Wednesday Hill and Hayman were advised that the house numbers and streets of subscribers will be included in the next directory to be published this year. Telephone Company officials, stated that within the next few days subscribers would be called to give their house numbers and streets name, and the matter could be handled more efficiently if this information was ready when the subscriber is called.

Dean Noe's Fast Does Not Alarm His Mother

While the eyes of the world are focused on Beaufort-born Dean Isreal H. Noe of Memphis, Tennessee, because of his absolute fast which he hopes will prove a new "world philosophy," his mother, Mrs. Susannah Catherine Noe sits in home here at the corner of Moore and Broad street unalarmed over the biggest news story of its kind to ever break in the United States.

"I believe Isreal is conscientious in what he is doing," says this very remarkable mother. "And I am not alarmed," she added. Early this week newspapers and press agencies wired a local correspondent that they had been advised that Mrs. Noe was quite alarmed over the welfare of her fasting son, and to get an interview if possible. The Memphis Commercial Appeal advised the correspondent not to press Mrs. Noe for an interview, if she were ill.

Mrs. Noe is not ill. For the past several months she has been confined to a wheel chair due to a fractured hip received when she fell, but except for that she is hale and hearty. "I have heart trouble," said Mrs. Noe. "But I never get excited, and the fast of my son Isreal has not caused me to become alarmed." One of the reasons why Mrs. Noe has not become alarmed is the fact that rarely does a day pass that she does not receive a letter from Dean Noe. His letters of a private nature, plainly show no signs of nervousness or weakness on the part of the writer.

—An Associated Press dispatch this week stated: "The Very Rev. Isreal Noe says he is entering into a 'new higher plane of spiritual life,' taking his food from 'the Father's life within.' Due to the illness of his wife he postponed a trip to Knoxville, Tenn., this week.

Capt. John E. Noe, skipper of the Beaufort Fisheries menhaden vessel "Deathland" seldom comments on the fast of his brother Isreal, who has not taken any food or drunk any water since January 1, 1938, and who existed during 1937 on oranges and the previous year on oranges and cashew only. If Isreal wants to fast, that is his business and I can't understand why the newspapers have so much to say about it," says Capt. Noe.

Mrs. Noe celebrates her 87 birthday here next Friday. She is expecting three of her Rector sons, Rev. Thomas Pasteur Noe, superintendent of the Church Home Orphanage, York S. C.; Rev. Alex C. D. Noe, vicar of St. Thomas church, Bath and Rev. Walter Raleigh Noe, secretary of the Episcopal Diocese of East Carolina, Wilmington, to visit her on that date.

RULING ON PURSE SEINING DEFERRED

But Trawling Will Be Permitted By State Residents

Contrary to the report appearing in a News and Observer story today which indicated that purse seining for food fishes would be permitted within the three mile limit territorial, Capt. John Nelson, commissioner of the N. C. Division of Fisheries in Morehead City, advised The Beaufort News that the matter as it pertains to the proposal to permit purse seining was deferred to the July meeting of the board.

"The Board adopted a regulation permitting resident trawling inside the three mile limit, provided boats remain beyond three miles of any inlet," said Capt. Nelson. The regulation prohibiting trawling by commercial fish boats at Cape Lookout was amended to permit such trawling from Breakwater to Bell's Island.

Walter M. Lewis heading a Carteret county delegation of fishermen was assured by the board members that any change in the marketing program of the Atlantic Coast Fisheries would be made for the purpose of advancing the price of fish, and that care would be exercised to prevent a reduction of the income of fishermen.

False Alarm Epidemic Here And In Morehead

A false alarm epidemic has been prevalent in Beaufort and Morehead City recently. Sometimes two and three alarms each night are turned in. Persons turning in false alarms are committing a serious offense whether they know it or not. Three boys found this out when tried before Juvenile Judge L. W. Hassell on Monday.

Hamlin Guthrie, Eugene Bell and Ramsey Gaskill, Jr., three Morehead City youths were apprehended as the 'false alarmers' in Morehead City last Saturday night. Officer Vernon Guthrie of the Morehead City police department proved it was these boys with his finger print outfit. Juvenile Judge Hassell gave the youngsters a lecture, and advised them that if there was a vacancy in any reformatory they would be committed to same. Each of the boys were placed on probation and if they do not behave, they will be turned over to Superior Court and Superior Court Judges usually find a reformatory for entering 'false alarmers.'

Courting The WATER FRONT

By AYCOCK BROWN

THE TITLE OF this column this week might well be "Twenty Year Ago," because the material for same is being gleaned from the January 17, edition of The Beaufort News of 1918. The left hand dog ear on Page 1 had the slogan

"For County News, Read The Beaufort News," which could well be our slogan today except that we have more modern methods of giving a more complete coverage of county news. The left hand dog ear told readers: "It is your duty to Help Win The War." BIGGEST NEWS story of the week was under the double column caption "Atlantic Visited By A Terrific Hurricane." One man lost his life and property damage was estimated at $60,000 in the thriving Core Sound village on the previous Tuesday. It had been reported to the News that the sudden storm of short duration blew 12 houses from their foundations, completely demolished three, one of which was the Primitive of footwear for women... NOTE TO EDITOR Brown: "Because of this and that I have prevailed upon my Dad, who was newspapering before either you or I were born, to act as my Guest Columnist this week. He was, some 23 years ago, pastor of Ann Street M. E. Church, South. He is, as you will see if you read on, reminiscing about those days. On my word, I promise to do my own writing next week.
