DEAN NOE IN DEMAND AS A SPEECH-MAKER

Famous Divine Is Receiving Many Invitations

The Very Reverend Israel H. Noe, noted Episcopal theologian has not only received world-wide publicity (under Beaufort datelines) since he returned to his home-town for a visit recently, but he has also received more invitations to preach and speak than he has been able to accept. It has been many years since such a popular speaker or minister has visited in coastal Carteret.

Since last week's edition of this newspaper, Dean Noe has addressed the Sunday School Class of Judge Luther Hamilton in Morehead City, Sunday morning, was guest pastor at the Baptist church here Sunday evening, delivered the address to Seventh Graders at the local school Monday morning, talked to the Episcopal Auxiliary here Monday afternoon, delivered the invocation at the banquet in honor of Governor Hoey here Monday night, and then declined invitations to make further talks or speeches during the week, although he had been asked to address the Jaycees of Morehead City on Tuesday night and the Rotary Club there tonight. Dean Noe hopes to make the addresses requested to the Morehead City organizations at a later date and before he leaves Beaufort.

Next Sunday night he will be (Continued on page ten)

Solicitor Clark Visits Carteret

Red-headed Dave Clark, popular solicitor of the Fifth Judicial District was a visitor in Beaufort and Carteret county today with a pocket full of cigars for the men and plenty of chewing gum for the women. Usually here in the role of prosecuting attorney, Mr. Clark's mission today was of a different nature. He is a candidate to succeed himself to the office he now holds and he is doing a bit of campaigning. His friends at The Beaufort News office could not even remember the name of the man who is his opponent. Before continuing his visit to eastern communities of the county, Mr. Clark placed an advertisement of his candidacy which will be found elsewhere in this edition.

Fishing And All Outdoors

By AYCOCK BROWN

UNFISHABLE weather of last week-end in these parts was probably caused by the moon going into the eclipse on Saturday morning. On the previous morning waterspouts had formed off Beaufort Inlet, and that too might have caused the shakeup in weather. It sounds rather silly to talk about the moon having anything to do with fishing and the weather, but it has plenty to do with it just the same. During any unusual occurrences among the celestial planets, whether it is an eclipse of the sun, the moon, or the appearance of the Aurora Borealis, there is unusually a change in weather, and most of the time for the worse. The total eclipse on Saturday occurred at 2:47 A. M.

THE MAGAZINE, Hunter-Trapper-Trader, has a unique way of advertising. Recently Bill Sharpe of the State's advertising department wrote me to send this magazine which has a much larger circulation in the Middle-west and on the Pacific coast and in Canada than along the South Atlantic a story on Gulf Stream fishing I sent the story and a few weeks later received a check for it. They paid a half-cent per word for the 3,000-word manuscript. That was about two months ago. On Sunday I received a heavy letter from the Editorial department of (Continued on page 8)

Beaufort Folks Like Governor C. R. Hoey

He Made His First Official Visit Here On Monday And Was Given Golden Key To Ancient Town

Beaufort citizens like Governor Clyde R. Hoey. If he should decide to run for reelection to the important office he now holds, he would surely get the majority vote of the citizens of the State's third oldest town, and oldest port of entry. Until he arrived here Monday to address the Chamber of Commerce at a banquet in his honor, and later the commencement address of Beaufort High School, Governor Hoey was a sort of stranger to many persons. But he is no longer a stranger, and already he is planning to make a return trip to Coastal Carteret's county seat. Many citizens got to know His Excellency better at an informal reception given in his honor at the home of the C. L. Beams after the exercises at the school. Nearly 150 persons attended and invitations had been extended to everyone who wished to meet Governor Hoey. Beaufort citizens were equally pleased to meet and entertain his daughter, Miss Isabel Hoey who accompanied him to the coast. The Governor's party arrived in (Continued on page ten)

J. M. Broughton Talks To County Democrats

County Delegates Attend State Meeting

Carteret's Courthouse was almost filled to capacity last Saturday afternoon to hear Attorney J. M. Broughton, of Raleigh, make the keynote address at the Democratic Convention. No special delegates were appointed to attend the State Convention which started in Raleigh Wednesday, but every Democrat in good standing was urged to go as a delegate from this coastal county.

Among the Democrats from Carteret attending the convention in Raleigh were Irwin W. Davis executive chairman, James D. Potter, Corbett Davis, Eugene Moore, Capt. John Nelson, Ernest Nelson, Alvah Hamilton, Charlie Webb, W. M. Webb, Charles L. Skarren and

Graham Duncan Talks To Rotes Tuesday Night

Graham Duncan, president of Beaufort's Rotary Club was the principal speaker at the supper meeting on Tuesday night. He gave a report of the District Convention held in Durham last week, at which he and Rev. Louis Hayman were local delegates. He took a dry subject and made a very human interesting talk about it. In the Rotary bulletin President Duncan was described as a good understudy for Bob Burns, the cinema philosopher.

Guests of Aycock Brown at the meeting on Tuesday were Manager Ed Petry of Atlantic Beach who expressed appreciation on the part of his organization for the splendid cooperation shown the resort by Beaufort, Morehead City and Carteret County at large and Manager John H. Singleton of Atlantic Beach Hotel.

At the County Convention here on Saturday Chairman Davis presided. He introduced Judge Luther Hamilton, Carteret's outstanding Democratic leader for many years, who in turn introduced Mr. Broughton.

With a beautiful flow of language Mr. Broughton gave a history of the Democratic Party from its beginning to the present from its every crisis this century experienced, it took the Democratic party to bring things back to normal," he said. He poured high praise on outstanding living and dead leaders of the party. Key-note Broughton did not return to Raleigh on Saturday but instead spent the week-end on the coast. On Sunday evening he occupied a place of honor at the Baptist Church delivered a prayer and heard Beaufort's famous Dean Israel Noe preach. Mr. Broughton is said to be very likely gubernatorial timber.

BEACH CHARGES EXPLAINED BY MANAGER PETRY

Operation Expenses No Small Matter At Resort

Since Manufacturer's Trust Company of New York City took over Atlantic Beach and since the tolls were lifted from the bridge leading to the resort a frequent criticism by persons who gave no thought to the cost of operation has been: "Why should they charge a person for going through the gates to reach the ocean?" In a friendly but easy to understand letter, Ed Petry has given an explanation why the gate fee must be charged. His letter released to the press of Carteret county today, follows:

"In recent weeks a great many people have asked me why we charge bathers 25c through the gate and as I know you are vitally interested in Beaufort, Atlantic Beach and Morehead City, I would like to explain the charge to the public through your columns.

Here is what the nominal charge of 25c buys each bather: Lifeguard Protection. Daily Concert (1 hour).

The Cleanest and Safest Beach on the Coast.

The use of the showers, lifelines, boardwalk, lavatories, etc.

It might be well also to enumerate some of the expense items in connection with the above.

Cost of Orchestra.

Cost of Cleaning Beach.

Board walk repairs and maintenance ($3,000.00 this Season)

Sand Removal (from $800.00 to $1000.00 each year).

Salaries (Lifeguard etc.) Insurance.

If this information can be given the public through your columns, I assure you that I will (Continued on page ten)

The first of these dances, the Annual Spring Dance of Morehead City's Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held in The Casino on Saturday night from 9 until 2 o'clock with "Jeep" Bennett and his U. N. ## She Danced At Senior Prom

Catharine Meier

Millions of persons throughout the United States will see the photograph of Miss Katharine Meier of Wilmington during the coming weeks. She is the much photographed young lady whose picture is being used in many of the advertisements of North Carolina appearing throughout the country in newspapers and magazines. When Atlantic Beach presented the third annual All-County Senior Class Prom in The Casino on May 6, Miss Meier, was presented as the feature attraction in a series of dance numbers. Approximately 1,500 persons saw her dance and she pleased her audience. During the current season Miss Meier may return to Atlantic Beach as an added attraction, it was hinted this week by the management.

GOLF TOURNNEY IS POSTPONED

Gulf Stream Golf Club's Annual Spring Tourney will not begin until early June, it was announced this week by Charles Hassell, president of the club. Previously the tourney had been postponed, when before qualifying time ended the additional three holes of the 9-hole course were thrown open to players. Efforts were made to start the tourney last Sunday, but there seems to be so many other interests underway just at this time as school closings, political campaigns, etc., it was necessary to postpone the event again.

REYNOLDS SPEAKS AT SERVICE HERE

Senator (Our Bob) Reynolds will make the principal address at the Carteret Post No. 99, Memorial Day exercises here on Sunday, May 29. It was announced this week that Dean Israel H. Noe had tentatively accepted an invitation to introduce the speaker.

Even though farmers have signed for cabbage for their share in one car, it is necessary they sign for every car in which they might have shipped," it was stated at the Farm Agent's Office.

BEAN MOVEMENT UNDERWAY HERE

Ray Esposito Has Shipped Three Carloads

Three solid car loads of beans, each containing 20 tons have been shipped from Beaufort this week by Ray Esposito who is operating a farm out on Merrimon Road this year. During the next few days he expects to ship a total of seven to 12 car-loads, the biggest lot from any one farm in the county in several years.

Mr. Esposito, a resident of Marion, N. Y., is mightily well pleased with his truck farming venture in Carteret. While the bean crop was somewhat retarded by the recent rains, he is expecting to ship many car loads of tomatoes at an early date. He will not only ship tomatoes from his farm, but will buy from other farmers, he stated yesterday. This year he had 50 acres devoted to bean growing and 50 acres in tomatoes.

For the past five years he has been engaged in tomato farming near Windsor and before coming to North Carolina he was a grower of celery in New York State. He still operates his celery farms near Marion. Mr. Esposito is one of many non-resident farmers who in recent years have discovered the fine soil and fine climate east of Beaufort as an ideal spot to produce truck crops.

SHIP POTATOES

Carteret's potato crop this year will not be quite as large as some years in the past but the 1938 yield is very good. The potatoes are averaging 20 U. S. No. 1s for each potato planted, one farmer told The Beaufort News at the S. M. Jones Company new packing shed this week. Since potato digging got underway on a big scale Monday thirteen car loads have rolled from Beaufort by rail, 450 bags by boat and about 3,000 bags by motor truck. A loaded freight car carries 300 bags of potatoes. The growers are realizing about $1.05 to $1.10 per bag which is considered a fair price.

Camels Crossing the Desert
 When crossing the desert, camels are expected to carry their loads 25 miles a day for three days without drink. The fletcher breeds carry their rider and a bag of water 50 miles a day for five days without drinking.

Covering The Waterfront

By AYCOCK BROWN

AS A RECEPTION Committee, I think Dr. Lewis, Mayor Huntley, Ralph Miller and myself are the world's worst. On Monday Governor Hoey had wired that he would arrive in Beaufort at 5 o'clock. Knowing that he was pretty much of a stranger here (but he is not any more) we thought it quite fitting and proper to go out on the highway and meet him, convey his car into town and to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beam where he would stop while not attending banquets and Commencement exercises in Beaufort. We parked at the Laboratory road and looked westward, expecting any moment to see a motorcycle escort coming down the road, ahead of the Governor's car. We saw a car coming but no motorcycles. So we paid little attention to it until it whizzed by. In the car was the Governor and his daughter Miss Isobel.

GEORGE HUNTLEY stepped on his starter and started in pursuit. It would be tragic for a Governor on his first official visit to Beaufort to have to look around for the person who would entertain him while here, thought George I am sure, because I have never seen a Chevrolet gain speed so quickly and disappear over the bridge quite as fast as the coupe he was driving. Anyway he overtook the official car down in front (Continued on page ten)
