Judge Webb Sends J. Bunyan To Roads

"John Bunyan" Goes To Roads For Six Months

MRS. TILLEY MISSED CAT AND HUSBAND

Judge Paul Webb proved that he was a mighty popular man during the recent Primary Election by chalk-ing up an overwhelming victory over his two opponents. But since Recorder's Court on Tuesday, the Morehead City jurist is even more popular, in Beaufort at any rate. In court on Tuesday Judge Webb after hearing the evidence in the case of State vs. J. Bunyan Congleton, found the defendant guilty and gave him six months sentence on the roads.

A State Prison Camp official came down for John on Wednesday. He matriculated for his six months course on the roads today. For several months now, ever since he served his last prison term many local persons have been hoping that something would happen to get Public Nuisance No. 1 out of town again. It happened last week-end, when Congleton, allegedly, in a drunken condition threw an empty beer bottle at Castilius Anderson, colored employee of the Beaufort Ice Company. The bottle missed Castilius, and broke on the brick walls of the building. For breaking the bottle, the peace, etcetera, the defendant was arrested and found guilty in Recorder's Court Tuesday, and Judge Webb sentenced him to six months and Beaufort thanks Judge Webb.

Viola Tilley who lives in the large stucco filling station out in Morehead Bluffs section proved that she was a poor marksman, regardless of whether she was shooting at her husband or the cat. She missed both. In Court she was charged with shooting or attempting to shoot her husband. Probable cause was found and she was bound over to the October term of Superior Court under bond of $300. Mrs. Tilley claimed that she was shooting at the cat and not her husband—and the thing she was shooting with looked like a museum piece of some sort. It was a double-barrelled pistol.

A. D. Jamieson was found guilty and ordered to pay the costs on a charge of reckless driving. The case against Tom Martin for aiding and abetting Jamieson was not prosed. It was charged that Jamieson struck a CCC truck. Robert Lewis was found guilty of drunken driving but was ordered to pay the costs when convicted of reckless driving. Judgment is pending until next Tuesday in the case of Samuel Williams, charged with non-support. The charges against D. B. Oglesby was not prosed with leave. He was charged with theft.

To Be Featured In Beach Cabaret

Katharine Meier

Attractive and talented Katharine Meier of Wilmington will return to Atlantic Beach on Friday to be the featured attraction in the first Cabaret to be presented in the Casino on Friday night. Miss Meier studied dancing at the New Wayburn school in New York and during her recent career has filled dancing engagements in many of the larger hotels, clubs and theatres of the country. Incidentally Miss Meier is the young lady whose pictures you have seen frequently on advertisements issued by the Department of Conservation's publicity department, telling the world about North Carolina.

CHANNEL BASS FISHING IN OCRACOKE SURF

Island's No. 1 Sport Attracts Anglers From Everywhere

Getting a good shot of sports fishing is difficult for most people, but Col. Fred K. Stedman, of High Point and Ocracoke, is usually successful when he is the cameraman. Pictured above is Capt. Gary Bragg, veteran guide of Ocracoke caught in action as he casted out beyond the breakers of the island's beach, for channel bass. Surf casting is best at Ocracoke during the Spring and Autumn months. In the summertime these copper colored beauties are usually taken while anglers fish from boats in the sloughs and on the shoals of Pamlico Sound. National Audubon Society President On Beaufort Visit

Dr. Gilbert Pearson, the most outstanding ornithologist living today is spending a short vacation in Beaufort. He arrived Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by Dr. H. H. Brimley, curator of the State Museum in Raleigh and Mrs. Brimley.

While in Beaufort they will visit the Carolina Marine Laboratory where WCUNC students are now studying biology. They will also visit the new Duke Laboratory. They will stop on Piver's Island at the U. S. Fisheries Laboratory dormitories.

Dr. Pearson is president of National Audubon Society, an organization whose members help protect birds. In Beaufort Dr. Pearson will probably visit the Lenoxville Heron and Egret rookery, which is under the supervision of Audubon Warden Dave Godwin.

Col. Dickinson Here

Col. Fairleigh S. Dickinson of Rutherford, N. J. arrived in Beaufort Wednesday to spend a short vacation here. He is a native of Carteret County and makes frequent visits to the coast. He is stopping at the Inlet Inn.

ODDITIES OF WEEK

Four Legged Chick

Last week-end when Mrs. Thomas Parkins Plymouth Rock hatched out a new family one of the chicks had four legs. That is Oddity No. 1 of the current week. The chick a Plymouth Rock, was brought to The Beaufort News office for the editor to see, by Reuben Whitehurst. The chicken is getting along fine and shows no signs of dying.

Carrot Quins

Mrs. Gillikin of Beaufort RFD brought the Editor one of the most unusual carrots ever grown in this County. Instead of one carrot, it was five, each being perfectly developed and looking very grotesque. The five-in-one carrot was Oddity No. 2.

TIDE TABLE

Information as to the tide at Beaufort is given in this column. The figures are approximately correct and based on tables furnished by the U. S. Geodetic Survey. Some allowances must be made for variations in the wind and also with respect to the locality, that is whether near the inlet or at the head of the estuaries.

Salaries Of WPA Employees Boosted

New Funds For Fisheries Lab On Piver's Is.

The United States Fisheries Station on Pivers Island will receive $24,800 immediately for the improvement of grounds, breakwaters and the terrapin propagation pens, it was announced in Washington this week. The $24,800 will be PWA funds and the actual expenditure of the monies will begin at an early date.

Dr. Herbert F. Prytherch, director of the Fisheries Station stated that in addition to the PWA allotment WPA funds would be supplemented to bring the total in Federal funds for improvements to $35,300. Concrete terrapin propagation pens which will also serve as breakwaters for the island will take most of the funds.

To Give Lecture At Duke Lab

DR. H. L. BLOMQUIST

Dr. Hugo Leander Blomquist, native of Sweden, graduate and post-graduate of the University of Chicago and since 1920 a member of the faculty of Trinity (now Duke University) will deliver a lecture on North Carolina Vegetation at the Duke Laboratory on Piver's Island tonight at 7:30 o'clock. His lecture is one in a series of talks on scientific subjects being given at the local unit of the summer school biology units in Beaufort and townspeople and tourists here are invited to attend the lecture.

ART EXHIBIT

The public is invited to view an art exhibit of WCUNC Summer students at House Drug Store.

Unskilled Workers Will Receive $5 Increase

Relief workers employed on WPA projects in Carteret County will share in the $5 monthly increase ordered by Federal Director Harry Hopkins for 13 Southern States this week. While no official notice of the increase has been released to this newspaper, news dispatches from Washington indicated that the pay boost would be inaugurated July 1, to start the fiscal year.

The pay boost will apply to both skilled and unskilled workers.

It has been estimated that the increase in Carteret County will bring the monthly salary to $26.12 for unskilled labor as compared to $21.12 per month as at present. Other counties getting the same boost as Carteret include Onslow, Jones, Pamlico and Greene. In Craven and Lenoir the salaries will be increased to $29. At present the Lenoir and Craven unskilled WPAmen are receiving $24. The salaries are based on population of various counties.

New Furniture Firm Opens For Business

New and used quality furniture is being offered by the Eastman Furniture Company which has just opened here in the Ramsey Building which was formerly occupied by Willis Hardware Company. George Eastman of Raleigh is owner of the new local firm.

Until he came to Beaufort to establish his furniture business, Mr. Eastman was connected with the Nash-Kelvinator Corporation as traveling representative with headquarters in Raleigh. At the local store Mr. Eastman will be assisted by D. M. Jones who will serve as salesman. In addition to a complete line of furniture and household equipment, the new firm will feature a cash or credit business.

NELSON TO SUPERVISE BATHING AT CITY DOCK

Beginning July 1, Nelson T. Lewis of the WPA Recreation project will be assigned to the Inlet Inn pier to supervise the water sports for two to three hours daily except Saturday and Sunday during high tides, and when the weather is favorable.

Mr. Lewis will assist with swimming, diving and other general supervision of Beaufort's "seashore playground." He will see that no rough play goes on, and will endeavor to make the bathing beach a place of fun for everybody.

Mr. Lewis has the support of the Mayor, Chief of Police, P. T. A. other organizations and officials in this phase of Beaufort's summer recreation.

Fishing And All Outdoors

By AYCOCK BROWN

MY FRIEND Bill Sharpe of the Department of Conservation's news bureau sends out some splendid stories but I think he should have re-written the last paragraph of a vacation story released from Raleigh this week. The paragraph had to do with Gulf Stream fishing, and so that you readers of this column who know something about our blue water angling may get the significance of what I am trying to explain I reprint the paragraph under discussion. It follows.

"FISHING in the Gulf Stream off the coast from Southport, Fort Fisher, Wilmington, Morehead City and Beaufort, is growing steadily more popular with those who appreciate the thrill of landing a struggling barracuda, tarpon, sailfish, or others of the many varieties of deep sea fish swept up from warm tropical waters to within easy distance of the North (Continued from page 1)

What's the Answer?

By EDWARD FINCH

IT IS not really stars we see; it is a blinding light. And that light is not really sight but sensation. Any of the five senses when stimulated artificially will produce the sensation for which that sense is responsible. Thus, when a blow to the eye injures the nerves of the eye it sends to the brain a message of sight. Since there is really nothing there to see, it reacts in a sensation of blinding light.
