SHIP AT PORT TERMINAL FOR CARGO OF IRON

Injured Seaman Is Taken Ashore To Hospital

The S. S. Kingsborough, a British vessel hailing from Glasgow, Scotland, arrived at Morehead City Port Terminal about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from Charleston, S. C., a port she had recently reached following a voyage from Spain. At the terminal she will take on approximately 3,000 tons of scrap metal to be consigned to some European port, probably Rotterdam, in the Netherlands. The vessel is under the command of Capt. H. W. Pearse.

The vessel was light when she came into port. Robert Brown, an injured seaman (who had fallen through a hold on the ship enroute from Charleston) was removed and taken to a hospital in Morehead City. Although severely shaken up and with several broken bones as a result of the fall, the seaman was reported as having a good chance to recover.

The Kingsborough is the 18th vessel to arrive at Morehead City Port Terminal and the first to arrive under foreign flag since the Nyugat, of Budapest, Hungary, which was here last spring. With the freighter and several Coast Guard vessels in Morehead City the waterfront and port terminal presents a scene of much activity.

Water Carnival And Dance Tonight

Feature of Festival Boat Races

SAIL AND MOTOR

SAILBOAT races are a daily feature of the Coastal Festival now under way in Morehead City. On Saturday, the main events will be motor boat races, featuring both outboard and inboard motors. The photos aboard are typical Carteret Coast scenes.

Boat Races Attract Large Crowds To Morehead City

The Coastal Festival in Morehead City sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce was in full sway today and as we go to press this afternoon a large number of sailboats were racing along the waterfront course, marking the second of a three day elimination contest for this type of craft. On Saturday speed boats will roar around the course for the cash prizes offered. It has been reported that up to 60 fast boats will be in the event Saturday which will officially bring to a close the first annual Coastal Festival which is already proving a tremendous success.

A dozen or more beauty queens from Eastern Carolina towns and cities arrived on the coast Wednesday afternoon and registered at Hotel Edgewater, official headquarters of the festival. From this group will be selected a winner who will bear the title "Queen of the Coastal Festival." They will compete for this honor dressed in bathing suits on certain occasions and evening frocks at other times. The Jaycees are seeing to it that their guests, the queens are really treated like queens.

Last night they were honored at a welcoming dinner out at Hotel Edgewater. Following this banquet the Roof Garden was thrown open for the first time in a series of three dances to be presented during the festival. Jeep Bennett, His Clarinet and His Orchestra made music for the occasion.

One of the colorful events on the morning program today was the kiddie parade along Arendell Street this morning. Over 100 of the cutest little boys and girls in Morehead City and Carteret County participated in this parade, and also the beauty queens. Several thousand persons witnessed the parade. Following the parade a sail around the harbor aboard the State Fisheries Flagship "John A. Nelson" was given in honor of the Queens.

Covering The Waterfront

By AYCOCK BROWN

I AM MORE convinced than ever since spending the week-end down at Cape Lookout last week-end that there are great possibilities there for an inn or small hotel which would be larger than the very fine little place which Mrs. Carrie Davis operates at present. Cape Lookout from my way of Colorful part of the program was the raising of the United States flags by uniformed Coast Guardsmen from Fort Macon Station. A musical concert was presented by Freddy Johnson and his orchestra prior to the beginning of the program. Several hundred people gathered on Front Street to witness the program and hear the speeches, despite the hot sunshine. Many other persons remained seated in their automobiles and heard the program through a public address system loaned for the occasion by W. E. Adair, local mortician.

Cruiser "Tar Heel" Arrives In Port

The cruiser "Tar Heel" owned by Dick Dickinson arrived in Beaufort a few days ago. The owner who brought the cruiser down from Block Island was accompanied by William Eager, Jr., of Baltimore and George Richards, Jr., of Forest Hills, L. I., and Taylor O'Bryan, of Beaufort. For the past several weeks the party had been tuna fishing off Block Island and other points along the New England coast. It was off Block Island that O'Bryan caught the first tuna taken in those waters this season. It weighed 23 pounds.

The cruiser will remain in Beaufort for several weeks and the party will fish in the Gulf Stream off Cape Lookout for marlin, dolphin and sailfish when weather permits.

Dickinson is the son of Col. and Mrs. Fairleigh S. Dickinson who are spending the summer on the Carteret coast. They are residents of Rutherford, N. J.

"She Made My Life— A Life Of Sunshine"

Her Donation For Nannie Geffroy Memorial

INVITE OTHERS TO HELP OR COMMENT

Last week on our Editorial Page we made a suggestion that citizens of Beaufort and elsewhere who at one time attended St. Paul's School while it was under the direction of the late Nannie P. Geffroy contribute to a fund with which to build a suitable library in honor of her memory. Our idea was to sponsor or co-sponsor such a fund with the thought in view that from contributions, enough would be obtained to build a suitable building to house the priceless collection of books, rare and otherwise, which Mrs. Geffroy collected during her lifetime with ample space provided for additions from time to time in the way of new books. We invited comments from readers or any interested persons.

Through the mails this week came a letter from a person who described herself as a poor woman with a large family who gave credit to Mrs. Geffroy for educating many boys and girls who would not have been educated otherwise. Inside the letter was a five dollar bill. (Continued on page 8)

Several Worthy Projects Wanted

Citizens' Meeting May Result In PWA Loans

Several worthy projects which may be obtained for Beaufort and its environs through the self-liquidating PWA loans and grants to be made available at an early date were discussed by leading citizens who gathered in the Town Hall here last Friday night at the call of Mayor George W. Huntley.

Eight of the projects proposed and discussed at the meeting included: (1) A hospital; (2) A warehouse to embrace storage and processing of Water and Farm products; (3) Building of docks, streets to school paving and sewerage improvements; (4) A foot bridge to Bird Island and building of bathing and amusement facilities; (5) A public library; (6) A bridge to Harkers Island and possibly an extension to Cape Lookout; (7) The clearing for navigation of small boats of Clubfoot Creek; (8) The grading and future hard-surfacing of road to Merrimon.

Not included in the foregoing list but a project which many persons here are interested in obtaining for Beaufort is the construction of a hotel. The general population of Beaufort naturally look with favor on the other projects named, especially since they could be made self liquidating and not bring added indebtedness to the tax-payers of the town.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Huntley who stated the purpose of the meeting was to receive suggestions as to possible improvements which may be secured with the new Federal Funds to be available at an early date.

Upon motion Dr. Maxwell was made chairman of the meeting with Representative Fred Seely serving as secretary. After the various suggestions were made, chairmen of the different proposed projects were named. Dr. Herbert F. Prytherch was named chairman of the Hospital committee; Mayor Huntley is chairman of the Warehouse Committee; Dr. Maxwell was named chairman of the Harkers Island bridge project committee; George W. Brooks was named chairman of the Bird Island improvement and the docks, streets and sewerage. (Continued on page 8)

Fishing And All Outdoors

By AYCOCK BROWN

WHEN AN ANGLER or a group of anglers go to the Gulf Stream and return with a large catch of dolphin they call it sport. If you should check up on their tackle and the size of the fish they caught you would have a different version of the 'sport' they had. My six year old son could reel in the average size dolphin taken by anglers off Cape Lookout if he was using the same size rod and reel. On two or three occasions this summer, parties have returned from the Stream with a hundred or more dolphin, none weighing over eight pounds and most of them about two to four pounds each.

AND THEY CALL that sport. The dolphin weighing three or (Continued on page 8)

What's the Answer? By EDWARD FINCH

BEFORE a duel with swords the gladiators of ancient Rome were accustomed to drink together. Wine was furnished by a relative or a friend of one of them and to show that there was no poison in the glass of his opponent, the challenger poured his wine into the other's glass and back again until the contents of both glasses were thoroughly mixed. That custom extended to social usage and finally as the days of poisoned wine became past history, it evolved merely to the clinking of glasses.
