

Produce Auction Market Opens In Beaufort, Wednesday, April 19th.

Singleton Returning To Beach Hotel

JOHN SINGLETON who managed Atlantic Beach Hotel last summer will return during the coming season and serve in the same capacity. During the 1938 season he successfully operated the fine hostelry and made many friends among patrons of this and other States who regularly patronize Atlantic Beach Hotel during the summer months. Singleton is a native of Charlotte, but for the past several years in his connection with Manufacturer's Trust Company, owners of Atlantic Beach, he has occupied positions in Florida and New York City.

POLITICS

Nothing exciting has happened in Municipal political circles during the past week. Dr. Luther Fulcher's name goes on the Board of Aldermen candidate line-up left vacant through the withdrawal of Charles Case, Sr. Others on this ticket include: Oscar Noe, A. T. Gardner, and William Roy Hamilton. No name has appeared to take the place of Calvin Jones who withdrew his candidacy last week. While nothing exciting has taken place in local politics, it is no secret that a strong whispering campaign is being waged against certain office seekers.

FARMERS WILL BENEFIT FROM THIS MEASURE

Congress Repeals 80 Per Cent ACP Law

Of interest to all farmers in Carteret County was the news received this week by County Farm Agent J. O. Anthony relative to the repeal by Congress of the 80 percent provision for 1939 cotton, wheat, potatoes and commercial vegetables. A copy of a telegram in this connection was contained in the mimeographed letter sent to all County Agents of the State. It follows: "On basis amendment to Act 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program being amended to provide payment on acreage allotment for cotton, wheat, potatoes and commercial vegetables, without regard to 1939 acreage less than 80 percent of the allotment."

"This means," said County Agent Anthony, "that in the 1939 Conservation Program full payment will be made with respect to cotton, wheat, potatoes and commercial vegetables as computed on the acreage allotment without regard to the provisions which formerly existed in the Act to the effect that the payment would be based on 125 percent of the planted acreage, if the planted acreage was less than 80 percent of the allotment. The producer with an allotment of the commodities mentioned would receive full payment on the allotment even if they planted no acreage whatever of those commodities in 1939. As a result of the foregoing news there will be many planters who will now want to change their plans for planting in view of the Amendment to the Act, it was stated. Further information relative to the Amendment, may be obtained from Farm Agent Anthony.

Netters Capture Tarpon Saturday In Newport River

Believe it or not, a tarpon, weighing 31 pounds was landed by a group of commercial fishermen in their net while hauling just south of Newport River bridge between Morehead City and Beaufort last Saturday. It is the first time that one of these mighty fighters, which Florida anglers call "silver kings" have ever been taken in Newport River. Following its catch, the fish was exhibited in front of the Tibbett service station and fishing camp near the eastern end of the Bridge. In the party making the catch were Louis B. Willis and Les Whitehurst, of Beaufort and Ashby Tibbett, of Clayton. To keep records straight, the tarpon was landed in a net owned by Mr. Willis and not with rod and reel. Tarpon, a species of game fish which annually attract thousands of anglers to Florida, are frequently taken in nets along the Central Carolina coast, but seldom with rod and reel primarily because no one fishes for them with rod and reel.

FILING INFORMATION Candidates seeking municipal offices must file and pay fees to City Clerk not later than 10 days before election, it was stated here.

Surf Casting Time On Carolina Coast

SURF CASTING will attract thousands of anglers to the North Carolina coast this year, because on May 1, the first annual Surf Casting Tournament, an event sponsored by the Governor's Hospitality will get underway. The Tournament will continue for a period of three months, and it will embrace the entire coastline which has been divided into three districts. Beaufort is headquarters for District 2, which will take in the coast from Hatteras Inlet to New River Inlet. Object of the event is to conduct a contest for the betterment and advancement of the sport of salt water game fishing in waters bounded by the North Carolina coast.—(Stedman Photo, cut used through courtesy News and Observer.)

GOLF TOURNEY IS UNDER WAY

Trophies On Display At Four Local Stores

Regardless of bad greens from recent rains, the Gulf Stream Golf Tournament got off to a flying start Sunday with several of the players reaching the 18 hole mark. Low scores for the present are McQuaid 75; Bill Skarren 76.

With a starting card of thirty and prospects of several additional players before the month is out, this promises to be a real Tourney and apparently the players are having the time of their young lives. Standing for those that have reached the 18 hole mark so far are:

- McQuaid and Bill Skarren, even. Piggy Potter six up on Bly Noe. Charlie Owens nine up on Charlie Hassell. C. L. Beam three up on C. P. Tyler. Dr. Darden five up on Dr. Woodard. Hardy Lewis and Ray Hassell, even. George Bailey and George Snooks even.

CURB MARKET WOMEN ARE URGED TO ATTEND MEETING HERE APRIL 18

Carteret County Home Demonstration Club Women who are planning to sell produce on the Morehead City curb market during the approaching summer months are urged to attend a county-wide meeting being held in the home agent's office Tuesday morning, April 18, 9:30 o'clock. With Mrs. Harry Gillikin, County Market Chairman, presiding, market rules and regulations are to be adopted. Mr. O. J. Rowell, Extension Entomologist, State College, Raleigh, is to discuss insect control of marketable produce. It is most important that all market members be present. The meeting is to adjourn at the noon hour.

All Churches Have Good Attendance On Easter Day

Two Legged Pig Lived One Week

Although the sow was normal, one of the pigs in her litter was born with only two legs while two others were born stone blind, on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. King at Pinner's Point. The two legged pig lived for only one week. Had it survived and reached maturity, the chances are that it would have eventually found its way into a sideshow of freaks.

Excellent Programs Presented During Easter Season

Churches of Beaufort had excellent attendance during the Easter season. A feature of several of the churches were beautiful programs carrying out the theme of the season. Briefly in the following paragraphs will be found resumes of the programs and worship on Easter Day.

Ann Street Methodist

Large numbers of Easter worshippers attended the services and programs at Ann Street Methodist Church on Sunday. At 9:45 o'clock the primary groups of the Church presented, under the direction of Miss Lottie Sanders, an inspiring and appropriate service. Mrs. Otis Moore accompanied the youthful singers at the piano. Exceptionally beautiful was the duet "Easter Miracles" by young Horace Loftin and Mary Johnson. Others taking part in the program included children from the little tot age through the primary department.

Using as his subject "The Great and Glad News of the Resurrection," the pastor, Rev. Louis D. Hayman, preached to an auditorium filled with listeners at the 11 o'clock services. As the choir entered the choir loft, Mrs. Jones, organist, rendered a beautiful selection. Easter offerings in this and all the churches of Beaufort were very generous during the day. During the evening a cantata was presented by the choir. Several beautiful organ numbers by Mrs. Virginia Hassell were rendered as a prelude to "The First Easter." Beautiful decorations made the auditorium of the church a perfect setting for the three Easter programs at Ann Street Methodist.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church

Easter services in St. Paul's Episcopal Church last Sunday proved to be as beautiful and inspiring as ever before in the history.

Farmers Urged To Stick Together And Get Better Prices For Their Crops

Soil Conservation Checks Arriving In County For Farmers

Soil Conservation checks in the sum of $7,183.93 were received at the County Agent's office this week for distribution. This amount represented funds for 131 different farmers on 116 of some 650 farms in the County. About 750 farmers in Carteret will receive checks of various amounts depending on their particular allotment. The first group to receive checks were notified immediately upon the arrival of the checks at the County Agent's office. Farm Agent Anthony advises farmers to wait until they are notified before calling at the office for their checks, as it would only cause confusion, asking for something which had not arrived. Farmers who are scheduled to receive checks will be notified within a few hours after arrival that same is waiting for them in the County's Agent's office.

Cabbage Sold For $50 Per Ton On Monday

Sermons And Sermons Enlarge Auction Shed With increased facilities an enlarged auction shed and two intensely interested and hard working individuals, who believe it can be operated successfully and at a profit to farmers of Carteret County, the Beaufort Auction Market will open here next Wednesday, April 19, at the very time growers will start harvesting their cabbage. All-and prices at the field have been cut very satisfactory, but when sold to competitive buyers through the Auction Market, farmers, if they will cooperate and consistently refuse to sell to truckers, will realize the best prices they have ever received, or at anyrate better prices than they have received in recent years.

Bill Sermons, of Greenville and his cousin, Wayland Sermons, the "intensely interested" individuals who will operate the market, were here early this week to complete plans for early opening. They are enlarging the auction shed, so that spectators and buyers.

Fishing And All Outdoors By AYCOCK BROWN

MATT SHEAFFER did not go to Oregon Inlet for the channel bass trolling last week-end. He telephoned me from New York on Thursday morning and wanted to know the best bet for trolling for bass along the coast. I recommended Oregon Inlet primarily because it is practically the only place on the North Carolina coast where these mighty fighters of the surf have ever been taken to any extent by the trolling method. Then too, when he called it was blowing a half gale in Beaufort, and I thought perhaps the weather would be better, perhaps up at Oregon. I told him to contact Victor Meekins, which he did, and Victor very wisely told him that it would be better if he came a bit later in the season, when weather conditions were more settled.

IT IS ALWAYS a gamble coming to the coast for only a day or two before June, although some of the best catches of the season are made before that time. It is a gamble because one can never forecast the weather. It might be

TIDE TABLE

Information as to the tide at Beaufort is given in this column. The figures are approximately correct and are based on tables furnished by the U. S. Geologic Survey. Some allowances must be made for variations in the wind and also with respect to the locality, that is whether near the inlet or at the head of the estuaries.

This week Editor Brown takes the blame for the non-appearance of the interesting column "Now and Then" which is written by Victor Meekins and has gained a large following of readers in The Beaufort News. The copy for the column, sent several days ago in advance, told the tale of Pharaoh Farrow, of Hatteras Island, who hoarded gold and who had what was perhaps the world's original 'child bride.' The grave marker of Mrs. Farrow indicates that she died at the age of only 10 years. In some manner the copy for the column was misplaced when it was placed upon Editor Brown's desk. Unless you have seen the Editor's desk you perhaps cannot understand how this could happen. If you have seen the desks he uses in The Beaufort News office you will readily understand—and perhaps wonder why more things are not lost. As a matter of fact things are buried one week and retrieved several weeks later on Editor Brown's desks, but seldom does column copy meet this fate. We apologize and "Now and Then" by its creator Victor Meekins will appear as usual next week.
