Popular Recreation At The Beach— BOWLING ON THE IDLE HOUR ALLEYS

POPULAR RECREATION the year around on Atlantic Beach is bowling in the Idle Hour Alleys owned and operated by Alfred Cooper, formerly of Nashville. Only the best class of folks patronize this recreation center which adds to its popularity. On Tuesday night Owner Cooper was host at a one night tourney between Beaufort and Morehead City teams, when he officially opened to the public five extra alleys for those who prefer the larger or regulation size balls for their bowling. In the above picture The Beaufort News photographer made an excellent action flash, just as pretty Miss Pauline Gillikin of Morehead City sent the ball speeding towards the pins.—(News Photo.)

Fishing And All Outdoors By AYCOCK BROWN

AN ELEVEN year old boy, Kent Oglethorpe, of Norfolk, may have already set up the 1939 channel bass record of America. Fishing with Lee Dough at Oregon Inlet, young Oglethorpe landed a channel bass which weighed 73 pounds and four ounces after it had been out of the water ten hours. The all-time record for channel bass to be landed by rod and reel was the 74 pounder which Charles Beckman landed at Chincoteague, Va., on June 27, 1939.

HARDLY A week had passed from the Oglethorpe catch until a channel bass weighing 75 pounds (weighed several hours after it was taken from the water) was landed by Jamie Styron, well-known guide and commercial fisherman at Ocracoke. The sad part of the story is that it was landed in a net. But at that, the channel bass equals the world record, for fish of this species. According to authentic Field and Stream's statistics, Jordan and Evermann reported a 75 pound channel bass in the "caught in any method" class.

My Neighbor Says:

Nests of spinach holding carrot eggs will appeal to the child whose diet requires many vegetables.
Grated cheese sprinkled over the top of clear soup just before it is served adds both flavor and color.

Because of its mild flavor veal requires more seasoning than other meats. Slower cooking is also necessary.

Leather chairs put in storage are likely to mildew. If a little petroleum ointment is rubbed over the leather the mildew will easily be removed.

A small amount of lemon juice, orange juice and grated lemon rind will add flavor to stewed fresh or dried fruits. Use about 1 tablespoon of juices and ¼ teaspoon of rind for each 2 cups of fruit.

Beaufort School Commencement To Begin On Friday

Principal Miller
Praised By Clubs

Despite the fact that Principal Ralph Miller was not re-elected to head the school during the coming year, resolutions of high praise for his work here have been adopted by The Womans Club and The Rotary Club and appear as regular space rate advertisements elsewhere in this edition.

PHAROAH FARROW'S
GOLD.

Did you ever hear of the story of Pharoah Farrow's gold? It is said to be buried in the sands at Kinnekeet. Many attempts have been made to find it. Even the digging of dikes at Avon failed to uncover it. Avon is a quiet community and its people no longer search for the gold.

The sound of the word Avon, the peace-loving village of the seacoast seems to connote quiet and rest, and might indicate a village in the country at the side of some gentle brook. The nearest thing to a brook at Avon has not been gentle. The old Atlantic ocean, lashed to fury by the storms, has cut many gulches across the beach, and made running streams under peoples homes. Graveyards have been washed out.

A few years ago through the enterprise of a steam-shovel man and spurred by some sharp resident, the people raised money by popular subscription and built a dike some five feet high and two miles in length around the village to shut out the storm tide. There are some who say the idea was conceived in the hope of digging up Pharoah Farrow's chest of gold, as the dike ran through the site of his old homeplace. Storms have come since, and severely damaged the dike, but it proved the salvation of the village. Extensive repairs have been made, and like the walled cities of old, protected by boats and dikes, Avon, has only one entrance whereby the traveler may drive in and out.

BANK HOLIDAY

The First Citizens Bank will observe Mecklenburg Independence Day on Saturday, May 20. The public is urged to transact their business on Friday the 19 as the bank will be closed on Saturday.

Inlet Inn Opened For Reception Of Guests This Week

The Inlet Inn, completely remodeled, opened for the reception of guests this week and the dining room which has also been remodeled and beautifully decorated, has been opened to local persons who wish to take meals there but not take room service. Mrs. Pierson stated this morning that 24 rooms which have been remodeled and redecorated, are now available for guests.

A feature of the room service, an angle which will have much appeal to guests are the inner-spring mattresses on the beds, which assures the vacationists supreme sleeping comfort. Each Sunday many local people take their meals at the Inn. Many have made reservations for next Sunday, and these patrons will be pleasantly surprised to see the beauty of the diningroom which overlooks Beaufort harbor and the Inlet.

Dr. Frank Ghaham
To Deliver Finals
Address Mon.

Dr. Bryan To Preach
Baccalaureate Sermon

Beaufort School Commencement exercises will begin on Friday (tomorrow) night and close on May 15, it was announced today by Principal R. E. Miller. The Senior Class graduating exercises will mark the finale to the current school year on Monday night. The class Night exercises on Friday night will be under direction of Miss Lena Duncan.

President Frank Graham of the Greater University of North Carolina will make the graduating address on Monday night. On Sunday morning at 11:15 o'clock in the school auditorium Dr. D. B. Bryan will deliver the baccalaureate sermon and on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock Rev. W. Y. Stewart will speak to the Seventh grade graduates.

Principal Miller made an outstanding scoop when he arranged to have Dr. Graham, one of the nation's most outstanding educators and a brilliant orator, speak at the program on Monday night. Last year Principal Miller arranged to have Governor Hoyer here to make the baccalaureate address.

Dr. Bryan, who is dean of men at Wake Forest college and who will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on Monday morning is also a very accomplished speaker. Rev. W. Y. Stewart of Morehead City, one of the best loved ministers to ever live on the coast of Carteret, (Continued on page 8)

INLET INN DINING ROOM

Col. and Mrs. Dickinson, who arrived on coast today are the first guests in Inlet Inn dining room, opening officially tonight.

Beaufort-Born Noe Makes Good Record

FORMER Dean Israel H. Noe, now rector of St. James Episcopal Church in Memphis, continues to make exceptional achievements in his new field of endeavor. Thousand of persons in Beaufort (his native town) will recall with pleasure the high type of sermons and philosophical speeches he made in Coastal Carteret County while he was vacationing on the coast last summer. His final sermon, delivered in The Casino on Atlantic Beach attracted several thousand persons to the resort. Returning to Memphis. (Continued on Page 8)

COMANDER OF N. C. AM. LEGION TO SPEAK HERE

Annual Memorial Day exercises of Carteret Post 99, American Legion will be observed here on May 28, it was announced here today by Legionaire William H. Bailey. During the day, three distinct programs will be presented.

At 11 o'clock in St. Paul Episcopal Church, the rector, Rev. E. C. McConnell, will preach the Memorial Day sermon, in tribute to the departed comrades of the Post members.

State Commander Burgin Pennell will make the annual address at the Carteret Post gathering on the Courthouse Green at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. This event attracts not only Post members but a large number of interested persons. A feature of the afternoon gathering is music by the local band.

At 7:30 o'clock, Third District Legionaires, comprising the Posts of New Bern, Swansboro, Bayboro and Carteret County will meet at the local Legion Hut, Bailey stated.

PRICES WHICH STARTED HIGH NOW VERY LOW

Thousand Acres In Cabbage; Much To Be Harvested

The price of cabbage which started off at $50 per ton in Carteret County about one month ago have sunk to the same level of last year in value, and as a result many of the growers face ruin with their 1939 crop unless the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation steps in and buys up the surplus. While it was not officially stated here today that this would happen, it was authoritatively understood by this newspaper that efforts are being made to get the government commodities agency to step in and buy the surplus cabbage.

It is estimated that approximately 1,000 acres in Carteret was devoted to cabbage growing this year. It is estimated by observers, that approximately 50 per cent of the total crop has been harvested. In the meantime with cabbage selling from five to eight dollars per ton, the growers or many of them face ruin, unless they cannot dispose of their cabbage at once. For instance, it is believed that the government will step in and give a hand, as it did last year.

ANTHONY'S BROTHER KILLED BY A MULE

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Anthony are attending the funeral rites of Mr. Anthony's brother in Stokesdale today. He was almost instantly killed early this week when he was kicked by a mule. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony are expected to return to Beaufort Friday.

Covering The Waterfront By AYCOCK BROWN

WHEN YOU SEE me wearing this reddish brown outfit I bought at Felton's yesterday you will probably, on the spur of the moment, think I am paying off an election bet, or that I woke up with a hangover this morning and failed to change from pajamas to ordinary clothes. But for pure unadulterated comfort, these new 1939 editions of what they are wearing at resort sections, in Florida and Hollywood, have it, and then some.

A PICTURE I made of three pairs of brothers and sisters in the graduating class of Beaufort High School appears in The Greensboro Daily News today. I am having pretty good luck with my pictures and the Miniature Speed Graphic. Everyone who see the pictures I am making are praising my work. It is quite likely that their praise would not be so generous if they (Continued on Page 8)

Lindsey C. Warren Week Planned For Ocracoke In July

The Ocracoke Branch of the Hyde County Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a "Lindsey C. Warren Week" on the island beginning July 3. It was officially announced this week in a letter received by The Beaufort News from P. G. Gallop, president of the Hyde County Chamber of Commerce. It is the first time in history that an entire community has set aside a solid week to honor a United States Representative in Congress. The man behind the idea, is without a doubt Stanley Wahab, scion of an Arabian sailor who was wrecked who in recent years has brought more progressive movements to on the beach there in 1767, and the community than all other persons before him.

The entire week will be turned over to fishing, fun and frolic. At the same time the Hyde County Chamber of Commerce will be holding its annual convention on the island. All fish lovers, sportsmen, beach goers, are given an advance invitation to visit the island during Lindsey C. Warren Week. Colorful features of the event will be the illuminated boat (Continued on Page 8)

TIDE TABLE

Information as to the tide at Beaufort is given in this column. The figures are approximately correct and are based on tables furnished by the U. S. Geodetic Survey. Some allowances must be made for variations in the wind and also with respect to the locality, that is whether near the inlet or at the head of the estuaries.
