Hallowe'en Supper And Carnival Will Attract Many People

A large attendance is expected at the Hallowe'en Supper and Carnival to be held at the Public School here on Friday night, judging from the advance ticket sale. The Hallowe'en event is one of the best money makers of the year for the PTA, and all previous records are expected to be eclipsed this year. Prior to the beginning of the Carnival, supper will be served from 5 o'clock until 7:00 o'clock. The supper will be prepared by the Home Economics Department through the cooperation of the PAT members. Mrs. Halsey Paul is in charge of the event.

Covering The Waterfront By AYCOCK BROWN

FRANKLY I was disappointed on Monday morning when I went to the Morehead City Port Terminal to see the grading work for the construction of storage tanks by the Hatteras Oil Company. Mr. Crowell and Dr. Royal had given me story about the new project for the Morehead City port on Saturday. They explained in detail how negotiations which had been going on for some two years between the organization and the port commission were finally completed. I knew the lead for the story was the fact that actual work on project would begin on Monday. They had told me that grading would begin on October 23. Naturally I was disappointed when I went with camera to make a picture of the work starting and found only one man, one horse, and one small drag pan on the job. I had expected to find a big crew of workmen and found only one person.

COINCIDENCE!

Eight hundred and eighteen students are enrolled at Beaufort Public School during the current year according to reports issued from Principal Tom Leary's office this week. That in itself is not unusual news. As a matter of fact the total enrollment is slightly less than the total enrollment last year. But—there is something unusual about the enrollment this year. Of the total of 818 students from the first through 11th grade, exactly 409 are boys and 409 are girls. Chances are that this is the only coincidence of its kind in the entire school system of the state during the current year.

W. M. WEBB OF MOREHEAD IS A. & N. C. PRES.

Report On State Owned Road Is Rendered

W. M. Webb, prominent Morehead City resident became president of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company Wednesday succeeding H. P. Crowell whose services as president and general manager were no longer needed as result of leasing of road to the Atlantic and East Carolina Railway company headed by Harry P. Edwards of Sanford. Webb was elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of A. and N. C. in Kinston.

Webb, Alban K. Barrus and Leo B. Jenkins, of Kinston; Thomas O'Berry, of Goldsboro; Selby Anderson, of Wilson; William Dunn and Raymond Maxwell, of New Bern; S. H. Hicks, of Snow Hill; Leo P. Harvey, of Kinston; Owen G. Dunn, of New Bern; H. S. Gibbs, of Morehead City, and George P. Filks, of Raleigh, were elected directors. The first eight were nominated by the state, the others by private stockholders.

The state owns most of the stock in the company. Harry McMullan, attorney-general was proxy for the governor at the stockholders annual meeting in a local hotel in Kinston.

The directors met after the stockholders. Barrus, Maxwell and Gibbs were made members of the executive committee. Harry M. Jacobs, of New Bern, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The A. and E. C. took over the road last month. It is asking a reduction of $25,000 in the first year's base rental of $65,000 because of the road's "run down" condition. A committee is considering the request. It was predicted today that it would be granted. It is probably an inspector will be named by the A. and N. C. to keep watch over the property.

PIER PROJECT PLANS PUSHED

Barden Wires That Purdum To Rush Matter

Congressman Barden was contacted Monday night relative to the proposed pier-park bulkhead to be constructed in front of the Post-office here. He stated that he would follow up immediately on the matter. Wednesday he wired Aycock Brown, secretary Chamber of Commerce her as follows: NOW etaoin etaoin etaoin hm

"Received following wire from Mr. Purdum, quote your telegram today concerning construction of wharf at Beaufort is being brought to attention of Hon. W. E. Reynolds, Commissioner of Public Buildings Federal Works Agency and we are urging that this matter be handled with utmost expedition."

Major Gillette stated a few days ago that unless the pier-bulkhead was completed or well underway by December 15, the dredge which will be here on harbor maintenance will be unable to fill same with sand. That is the reason the Chamber of Commerce got busy.

PRINCIPAL LEADER in the fight to have the proposed Harkers Island Bridge constructed from Lenoxville instead of Straits is Earl Davis whose picture appears above. Davis gives his versions about the bridge in a letter which appears on the Editorial Page today. Incidentally another version of the bridge matter is outlined in a letter from Winston Hill of Atlantic.

GOGGLE FISH PICTURES IN MANY PAPERS

Clippings Received Every State And Territory

Mrs. Blanch Barbour Stamey, of Graceville, Florida, sent Editor Aycock Brown a clipping this week from a Honolulu newspaper showing Scotty Chadwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Chadwick formerly of Beaufort, now of Porto Rico in the role of a goggle fisherman. It is one of thousands of clippings advertising Beaufort and the world's first gogglefishing tournament, which was held here during the summer, that have appeared in newspapers.

Previously a clipping from a Spanish newspaper published in Porto Rico had been received. Mrs. Stamey, (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Barbour of Beaufort) stated in her letter that Nelle Ansley who visited in Beaufort last year but now lives in the Hawaiian Islands, sent the clipping. It appeared under the following caption:

"LITTLEST FAN SHOWS HOW—Beaufort N. C.: Little Scotty Chadwick attired for goggle fishing, shows how to catch a sheephead with a spear. Scotty however, did not catch this one, it was merely handed to him for the picture, during the annual goggle-fishing tournament at Beaufort."

Immediately after the tournament the pictures appeared in many Sunday rotogravure sections of newspapers. Later a single column picture was serviced to newspapers throughout the country and Editor Brown has over 200 clippings, from newspapers from Maine to Mexico and from Florida to Canada of this particular shot. The picture showing Scotty which has gotten such wide newspaper publicity was made by Brown, as the little fellow posed for Fox Movietone news-reel. Subsequently millions of people saw the picture on the screen.

The goggle fishing picture has gotten the widest circulation of

Home Eco. Class Very Active In Beaufort School

The 9th grade Home Economics students have been working on Child Care as a study unit. They have studied four phases namely: Child Behavior, Entertainment for Children, Food for the Child and Children Clothing. Several of the girls have had the opportunity to study a child in their own home or a neighbors home and record his behavior while finding out the reason for it. They have also planned menus for the pre-school school child and prepared themselves in class. They are now very much interested in making a garment for the infant or child of pre-school age.

The 8th grade students have successfully covered a unit on improvement of personal appearance and proper dress for occasion. The motive was to become as conscious of the importance of suitable dress for an occasion as Cinderella's fairy godmother was when she transformed Cinderella's rag garments into those suitable for the "Princes Ball." The fairy also showed her regard for the fitness of things by changing Cinderella back into her working clothes before her days chores began. So there is a certain type of dress for school, sport, church, street, travel and parties each with its separate and distinct characteristics. The girls demonstrated what they had learned in the form of a fashion show which they arranged and put on during class period.

Congressman Barden Visitor On Coast

Congressman Graham A. Barden was a visitor in Beaufort on Wednesday. While here he attended the regular weekly meeting of Rotary Club at the Inlet Inn.

Agree On Three-Way Bridge And Will Ask For It

OTHER MATTERS ARE DISCUSSED BY BOARD

A concentrated effort to have the State Highway and Public Works Commission make a survey with the thought in view of building a three way bridge between Lenoxville - Harkers Island and Straits will be carried out as the result of a meeting of the board of directors of the Beaufort Chamber of Commerce, held in the rear of Miller Furniture Company on Monday night. Previously there had been much pro and con discussion relative to the proposed construction of a bridge between Straits and Harkers Island which would eliminate Lenoxville and the most direct route for a bridge from the Island to Beaufort, Morehead City and the State at large.

Present at the meeting on Monday night which was presided over by C. L. Beam, president, were: W. H. Taylor, George W. Huntley, Dr. C. S. Maxwell, Dr. Woodard, R. Hugh Hill, Jacob Miller, Charles W. Britton, Aycock Brown and Mrs. W. I. Loftin. The bridge matter brought on more discussion than any other subject brought out during the meeting.

Previously a resolution favoring the Lenoxville-Island route had been drawn up and signed by Brown and Beam of the Chamber of Commerce. But since that resolution, and similar ones from the Rotary Club and Board of County Commissioners a fight over the proposed location of the bridge has taken place.

It was brought out by W. H. Taylor that he suggested two resolutions, one favoring the Lenoxville route for a bridge, another favoring improved roads for the Straits section be drawn up and endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Maxwell, another director stated that the Straits Route would be a WPA project and that he understood that the project was now on WPA Pratt's desk ready for action. George Huntley showed directors present petitions, which he said contained many names, favoring the construction of a bridge from Straits to Harkers Island. Previously Earl Davis
