LOCAL CHURCH WILL OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY Noted Rectors To Take Part In Program

The Rector and Vestry of St. Paul's Church have completed plans for the celebration of the Eighty-Second Anniversary of the First Service in St. Paul's Church. The first service in this historic Church was held on Sunday, November 22, 1857. To mark the anniversary of this event the following program has been arranged. From Monday, November 13 through Friday, November 17, there will be services in the Church at 8:00 o'clock with guest preachers for each night: Rev. L. M. Fenwick, Monday; Rev. J. A. Vache, Tuesday; Rev. A. C. D. Noe, Wednesday; Rev. J. R. Rountree, Thursday, and Rev. E. F. Moseley, Friday.

In addition to these Church services there will be two suppers served in the Parish House. On Tuesday at 6 o'clock the men of the Church will serve the women members. All women of the congregation whether baptized members.—(Continued on Page 8)

Five C's Club Has Been Organized At Core Creek Church

A group of interested people meeting at the Core Creek Community House on Monday night, November 6, organized what is to be known as the "Five C's Club." The aim and purpose of the club is to first, raise funds to be set aside for worthy causes; second, to help stimulate the already fine spirit of comradeship which the community of Core Creek now enjoys by meeting twice monthly, the first and third Mondays for a general get together and good time.

The meeting was called to order by Rev. Bill Stewart. A nominating committee was appointed and after spirited balloting the following were elected to serve for one year: President, Jesse Willis; Vice-President, Irene Sabiston; Secretary, Mrs. W. Y. Stewart; Treasurer, Mrs. Tybee Dickinson; Advisory Board: Mrs. J. W. Dickinson, Minnie Sabiston, and William Y. Stewart, the pastor.

Gulf Stream Off N. C. And Editor Given Publicity

"Fishermen Find The Gulf Stream," is the title of a story appearing in current edition of Outdoor Guide, published at Springfield, Missouri, which gives the Gulf Stream off North Carolina. Beaufort and Editor Aycock Brown publicity. Excerpts from the story follows:

"Discovery" of the Gulf Stream's swing in towards the coast of North Carolina is credited to various persons. A few sportsmen for years have taken boats offshore, but nothing was heard from them. Aycock Brown a newspaperman of Beaufort, began whooping up the Gulf Stream 10 years ago when he was at Ocracoke Island but nobody could imagine what he was talking about. Three years ago few sport craft fishermen edged out to see what could be had and trade grew briskly. Last year Hugo Rutherford's expeditions attracted national attention. Therefore, the indifferent Tar Heels, casting for drum from the beach, were almost run down by the rush of out-staters traveling to the docks and cruising to the blue waters of the Gulf Stream."

Prices Good; State Gets Its Share In Taxes

OVER 300,000 POUNDS TAKEN SINCE MONDAY

Approximately 350,000 pounds of shrimp (possibly more) have been taken on the North Carolina coast this week and as we go to press today good catches were still coming into local markets. The bulk of the total catch was sold by the shrimpers to Beaufort markets and the bulk of the catch sold thru local markets was handled by Carteret Fish Company. Credit for the good catches, not only during the past week but throughout the autumn perhaps should go to the State Department of Conservation and Development which with the local U. S. Fisheries Station formulated laws restricting the taking of shrimp in the sounds and rivers of the coast during the Spring and early summer months.

By restricting trawling during certain months of the year when newly spawned shrimp are growing to maturity has saved untold millions of the little fellows which were allowed to grow up. Shrimpers did not look with favor on the law (as is usual) when it was first enforced, but it is believed that they will agree now that the law was a good one and has resulted in bigger catches during the late summer and autumn months.

Without getting estimates from the markets at Atlantic, Ocracoke, Hatteras and Beaufort the approximate total number of pounds handled in Beaufort and Morehead City is 200,000 pounds or more since Sunday. Capt. Jean Nelson, (Continued on Page 8)

Child Welfare Is Discussed During Monthly W.C. Meet

A special program on child welfare with interesting papers being read by Mrs. O. S. Clawson and Mrs. Pritchard Lewis was a feature of the monthly business meeting of the Woman's Club held at the Inlet Inn last Thursday afternoon. The meeting was marked with a large attendance and four new members were accepted into the organization. They were Mrs. M. S. Snowden, Mrs. Nance Fulford, Mrs. J. M. Jennings and Mrs. J. H. Johnson.

The Club voted to furnish certain music for the music appreciation classes at the Beaufort Public School. Resolutions were drawn up by the Club Committee relative to future fairs on the school ground were read by Mrs. Haysman. Plans for organizing a Beta Club in the Public School was explained by Miss Lawrence, a member of the faculty, and the PTA asked for donations of books during Book Week. Mrs. Richard during Book Week. Mrs. Richards responded by giving a set of the Book of Knowledge.

TIDE TABLE

Information as to the tide at Beaufort is given in this column. The figures are approximately correct and are based on tables furnished by the U. S. Geodetic Survey. Some allowances must be made for variations in the wind and also with respect to the locality, that is whether near the inlet or at the head of the estuaries.

CARTERET CO. SERVICE CLUB MAKES REPORT

Jones Co. Members Host To District With Banquet

The annual District Service Club Banquet is one of the most enjoyable occasions of the year for 4-H Service Club members of Jones, Onslow, Pamlico, Lenoir, Craven and Carteret Counties.

Friday evening, November third when the Jones County members were hosts in their agriculture Building, Trenton, thirty-six Carteret County boys and girls joined approximately one hundred members of the district for this annual affair. The following report was given by Miss Virginia Stanton, a former Carteret club president:

Carteret County has two organized Service Clubs with an active enrollment of ninety-nine, 55 boys and 44 girls. One of these clubs was organized in 1936 for the Bogue, Pelletier, and Stella sections. Each club has met monthly (Continued on page 3)

Itinerant Peddlers And Merchants Must Pay For County Sales Privilege

Hallowe'en Queen Of Harkers Island

MISS DORIS JOHNSON of Harkers Island was chosen queen during the Hallowe'en Carnival presented in the School Auditorium on October 28. It was the first time such an event had ever been staged on Harkers Island, and so popular it proved to be, the carnival will be an annual event at each succeeding Hallowe'en. Runner-up for Regal honors was Miss Inez Gaskill.

Assure Protection For Local Firms Of Carteret

ROUTINE MATTERS GIVEN ATTENTION

Itinerant merchants, peddlars and others who have been competing with business firms of Carteret County which pay for the privilege of operating their places of business will have to pay in the future. In this group is likely to be classed all furniture, bread, apple, magazine, milk and other peddlars who come into the county and take orders and deliver same from a truck or other vehicle at the same time.

Enforcement of the ruling which is enforced thoroughly by the Public Laws of N. C. for 1939 will be up to the tax collector of the county and if necessary law enforcement officials. The County Commissioners at their regular monthly meeting on Monday heard a delegation from the Beaufort and Morehead City Chamber of Commerce asking that the action be taken. The County Attorney referred to the N. C. Laws and found that the itinerant peddlars and merchants may be subjected to a county-wide privilege.

TOWNS ALSO ACT ON PEDDLERS

The Towns of Morehead City and Beaufort through resolutions adopted at monthly meetings this week will also collect privilege taxes and licenses from itinerant merchants, peddlars, etc., operating in Coastal Carteret County. Although it may not relieve the present condition, if the itinerants are made to pay for the privilege of selling in this County and the two towns, it will at least be giving local firms which have to pay for the privilege an even break. Chamber of Commercials in Beaufort and Morehead City lead the movement to have the privilege tax law on itinerants enforced.

All members of the Board of Commissioners were present for the meeting. Routine matters attended to during the meeting follow: Bid for supplies to County Home awarded City Grocery of Beaufort. Raymond Davis was appointed a committee to investigate the property values of A. T. Willis heirs of Williston.

W. P. Smith was appointed as a committee to investigate the property value of W. B. Longest, Beaufort Township. It was ordered that H. W. Hibbs property in Morehead Township, listed as Taylor and Hibbs; and be valued at $400.

Fishing And All Outdoors By AYCOCK BROWN

FROM CURRITUCK to Coraco Inlet comes word that the duck crop this year is the largest in a decade and that means hunters who go coastward when the migratory wildfowl season opens on next Wednesday, (November 15) will have a better chance to get their daily bag limit of 10 and their possession limit of 20 than in many seasons. When the word "ducks" is used in the foregoing sentence it does not include all species but the most numerous.

THERE WILL be no open season on Woodduck, Brant, Ross's goose, Swan and Snow goose. These species excepting brant on Pamlico Sound, and swan at Matamuskeet are rather scarce. If brant continue to make a come back as they have during the past three years the chances are that by opening of the 1940 season small bag limits will be permitted. It will be unlawful to take over three each of canvasback, red head bufflehead and ruddy ducks, with the possession limit being not over six in the aggregate.

Guides and Outer Bankers Report Game PROFESSIONAL guides and residents of the outerbanks from Currituck to Cape Lookout have been reporting the arrival of ducks in large numbers for several weeks

Narrative Report Home Demonstration, 4-H And Service Clubs Activities Of Car- teret County For Month of October, 1939

Margaret E. Clark, Home Agent

CLUBS FOR WOMEN

"The outside of a home tells the type of people inside it," stated Mr. John Harris to the nineteen interested home beautifiers who attended his home beautification school which was followed up by four home visits jointly with the county Home Beautification Chairman and the home agent. The yards of Mrs. C. S. Rogers of Russell Creek and Mrs. H. H. Smith, of Bogue were landscaped and helpful suggestions were given to Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Springle, Wiregrass and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Smith North River, whose homes were visited.

"Beautifying The Home Grounds" was the method demonstration given in sixteen communities to 188 women. As a result already two hedges which screened the front view of the lawns from the road have been dug up. Italian rye grass for winter lawns has been sown, and preparations are being made to plant spring lawns and to remove unsightly flower beds, clothes lines, and wood piles so that the front lawn will be an open space one.

One hundred and twenty-five jars of fruit, meats, and vegetables were exhibited in the county Canning Contest. Fifty-six women entered. Mrs. Julian Fulcher and Mrs. Griff Dudley being declared county winners.

The individual club booths, Home Beautification by Crab Point, Pantry Shelf by Wiregrass. The Home Demonstration Emblem by North River, and Sewing Made Easier by Bettie, created at the local county fair and the entries of forty-five members yielded $81 to individuals and clubs. Crab Point members voted to take their blue ribbon prize money to complete a county Sick Room kit supplies from which may be borrowed by home demonstration families in case of illness.

Two hundred and eight attended the morning and afternoon sessions of the Achievement Day program when county project leaders gave the total county report of each project accomplishments. Four clubs received awards for 100 per cent record completions; eighteen reading certificates were received; North River won the floating pressure cooker for the best club report of the year; Atlantic carried home the travel-attendance prize; Crab Point claimed the recreational award; and the most men present were husbands of North River members.

While the judge decided to give the first prize for the made-over silk garment to Madie Dickinson, of Core Creek and another first prize to Mrs. Walter Arthur of North River for the best made-over wool garment fifteen women modeled new home-made garments.

Mrs. Bessie King of North River, attended the State Fair, Raleigh, and Mrs. Ted Garner with the agent attended The Family Home Institute, Greenville.

The Smyrna women entertained the members of the Smyrna School faculty and friends of their community at a community social.

As guest of the Beaufort Woman's Club, twelve heard Miss Ann Mason give her interesting European report.

CURB MARKET

Special emphasis has been placed on the winter garden. Fifteen market sellers totaled sales of $230.39 during the month. A ribbon was awarded the Curb Market Booth created at County Fair.

4-H CLUBS

Jointly with the county agent 211 boys and girls were met in five schools to discuss the reorganization of 4-H club activities. Five attended the State Dress Revue when Belva Lewis modeled her county winning evening dress which cost a total of two dollars and forty-five cents.

The 4-H Council sponsored two booths, "Meat Canned Under Steam" and "4-H Work In Carteret County", at the county fair and received money prizes of twelve dollars.

Sailfish Being Casted For Lab By Taxidermist

An 8-foot sailfish taken off Cape Lookout by a Beaufort fisherman a few weeks ago is being made into a casted model of plaster and when completed will be placed on display in the U. S. Fisheries Marine Laboratory, it was stated today by Dr. Herbert F. Prytherch, director. Mrs. Roxie Collier Simpson, famous North Carolina taxidermist is doing the job.

Mrs. Simpson is at present engaged in training and directing the NYA project at the laboratory where various forms of marine life are being casted for the museum. She was formerly with the State Museum in Raleigh, but has taken local work.

Governing The Waterfront By AYCOCK BROWN

YOU WHO were betting two to one and other odds that I would publish a reprint of the story titled "Aycock Brown," by W. D. Wallace which appeared on page 13 of the November 4th edition of State Magazine, will lose your bet, as in a good story however, and I feel like Richard Byrd or some of the other explorers when I read it. It all reminds me of a story, one of the loudest I have ever written which Carl Goerch used in his Washington Progress when I lived on Ocracoke.

THE STORY was titled something like this, "I Discover Trent." Trent of "The Trent" as they call it on Ocracoke Island, is north of the village. I used to roam around the sand dunes in that section of the island during the lean days of the depression looking for something to write about. Usually the something, I would find to write about would be old red cedar grave markers of shipwrecked mariners, the sheep, the old remnants of whale-trying furnaces or Capt. Tom O'Neal the boat builder and John O'Neal and his nautical relics.

DURING THIS period I had a (Continued on Page 8)
