Best
Soil conservationists, after repeated tests, are continuing to find that plain, old-fashioned grass sod is one of the best anti-erosion measures.

Stops
The U. S. Agriculture Department has stopped paying subsidies on most wheat exports in view of prospects for a short crop this year and relatively favorable domestic prices.

Interest
Farmers of Harnett County continue to maintain a lively interest in the breeding and raising of work stock on their farms, says J. B. Courley, assistant farm agent.

Sagging Prices Seen For 1940 Leaf Crop

The infant tobacco crop, now beginning its first growth in plant beds, is expected to find a rough reception when it finally reaches warehouse floors next fall, believes J. B. Hutson, assistant administrator of the Tripple-A.

Its preceding brother, the 1939 crop, turned out to be the largest on record, totaling 1,100,000,000 pounds of flue-cured leaf. It was larger than 1937's record crop by one-fourth and is 325,000,000 more than will be used during the current year.

This means, Hutson explained, that world stocks will be 325,000,000 pounds greater at the beginning of the next marketing season than at the beginning of the past season.

On top of that, present indications are that exports will be approximately 150,000,000 pounds less than usual. In effect, this situation sets the stage so that tocks in the United States next July 1 will be about 475,000,000 pounds larger than the beginning of the 1939 marketing season.

"Actually," Hutson said, "we need less than half a crop of flue-cured tobacco this year. According to our acreage allotments, growers should produce between 600,000,000 and 675,000,000 lbs. of leaf in 1940.

"But," he continued, "present indications are that it will be extremely difficult to market at reasonable prices this much tobacco next fall."

To meet this situation, the AAA executive urged that North Carolina growers, the largest producers of flue-cured leaf in the country, participate and qualify for maximum payments under the Agricultural Conservation program, keep well within their tobacco allotments, and grow plenty of food for the family and feed for the livestock.

Answers To Timely Farm Questions

QUESTION: How much carbon disulphide should be used in a corn crib to control weevils?

ANSWER: In a well-built crib, designed with a view to fumigation, from ten to twenty pounds per 1,000 square feet is a common dosage. However, in the ordinary crib as much as 50 pounds is used to the 1,000 square feet. It is better to use more of the fumigant than is actually necessary than to overestimate the tightness of the barn and have to do the job all over again. In using the carbon disulphide it is well to remember that gas is very explosive and inflammable and no lights or fire in any form should be allowed near the crib that is being fumigated.

QUESTION: Is it necessary to treat sweet potatoes before planting in the hotbed?

ANSWER: Seed sweet potatoes should be treated to destroy any surface borne disease organisms that might be present on the potato. A mercuric chloride 1-1900 solution (1 ounce to 8 gallons of water) should be used for fifteen minutes before bedding. Do not wash the potatoes. The solution should be warm or about 100 degrees F for the most effective control of organism carried on the seed potato. Seed ALREADY DISEASED cannot be cured by seed treatment.

QUESTION: How may beef be preserved on the farm?

ANSWER: Any part of the beef animal may be corned and this is the most popular method of preserving on the farm. Cut the meat in five or six pound chunks and rub with salt. Pack the pieces in a clean vessel of hard wood or stone ware and cover with a pickle made of one and one-half pounds of salt, one ounce of saltpeter, one-quarter pounds of sugar or syrup, and one gallon of pure water. Leave the meat in this pickle about two weeks and then smoke lightly to improve the flavor. If dried beef is desired, hang the meat and allow to dry out well. The rounds are usually dried.

Surplus Products Go To 10,500,000 Each Month For Relief

The annual report of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation reveals the great progress made by the New Deal in correcting the evil of need in the midst of plenty. By means of the Food Stamp Plan, School Lunch Program and the distribution of food commodities to State welfare agencies, thousands of tons of the agricultural surplus have been brought to people who were in need of them and who, without the employment of these methods, would not have been able to secure them.

By means of the free school lunch program 29,000,000 pounds of commodities were distributed in 14,000 schools for the benefit of 900,000 children. State welfare agencies received for distribution to needy and unemployed persons, farm products of about forty kinds in the amount of 50,500 carloads. Among the commodities were such important items of diet as butter, skim milk and evaporated milk, eggs, oranges, grapefruit, apples, peaches, raisins, prunes and many kinds of vegetables.

These surplus commodities went to an average of 10,500,000 needy people each month to supplement their regular supplies.

Allotment

Total cotton allotment for the entire United States is 27,070,173 acres, which should result in a yield of approximately 12,000,000 bales at harvest time this fall.
