Atlantic Beach Planning To Have A Big July 4th Celebration

Urges Interest In Coast Guard Week

"We ought to make the 150th Anniversary of the Coast Guard the biggest event ever known on the North Carolina coast," says Victor Meekins, of Manteo, chairman of the celebration in Dare County August 2-6. "We owe much to the Coast Guard, and the history of the service owes much to our men of Dare County and North Carolina. It is now a much neglected branch of the Government service; it is not right that it should receive the inattention that has fallen to its lot. We should join hands and demonstrate our faith and loyalty to the service, and to prove that it deserves much better attention than it is getting." Serving on the committee with Meekins from the Central Coast will be Capt. James H. Gannett, of Ocracoke and Aycock Brown of Beaufort.

Concert, Gala Dance And Fireworks Display

Atlantic Beach is planning another big Fourth of July celebration. Independence Day, if the weather is good, will be the biggest day of the season for the popular resort. General Manager, John Singleton has announced a lively program for the expected thousands who come to the resort.

Fireworks, will be the most colorful event and attract the largest number of people after dark. Following the fireworks tonight, Charlie Morris and his popular orchestra, featuring the songs of Marjorie Hatfield will play for a gala dance. This popular band comes to the Casino direct from the Hotel John Marshall in Richmond where it has played for an extended engagement. The dance tonight starts at 10 o'clock and will continue until 2 o'clock. The fireworks will precede the dance and if plans of Manager Singleton are carried out (providing the wind is blowing from a favorable direction) the fireworks will be presented on the ocean front instead of in the dune as in the past.

Last night many early visitors to the coast for the Fourth of July Holidays witnessed one of the best fight cards yet presented by Plunk Mooring, the promoter.

The Fourth of July celebration will continue throughout the weekend. On Friday night a colorful skating program is planned for the Casino with another gala dance featuring Morris' orchestra will be presented in the Casino. On Sunday the orchestra will play for a free concert on the Boardwalk. Colorful Boardwalk attractions will also greet the Fourth of July holiday visitors to the popular Carteret resort.

MATERIALS FOR BRIDGE ARRIVE

Harkers Island To Be Connected To Mainland

Materials for the State Highway sponsored, WPA-built Harkers Island Bridge is arriving daily according to Supervisor Philip K. Ball, and work on the project is progressing satisfactorily.

The bridge which will connect the island with the mainland at Straits Community should prove of great value to the citizens of Harkers Island despite the fact that it is not being constructed at the place the majority of interested residents of the County wanted it. It was the wishes of the majority of citizens that the bridge be constructed between Harkers Island and Lenoxville Point. State Highway officials contended that the cost for this route was prohibitive.

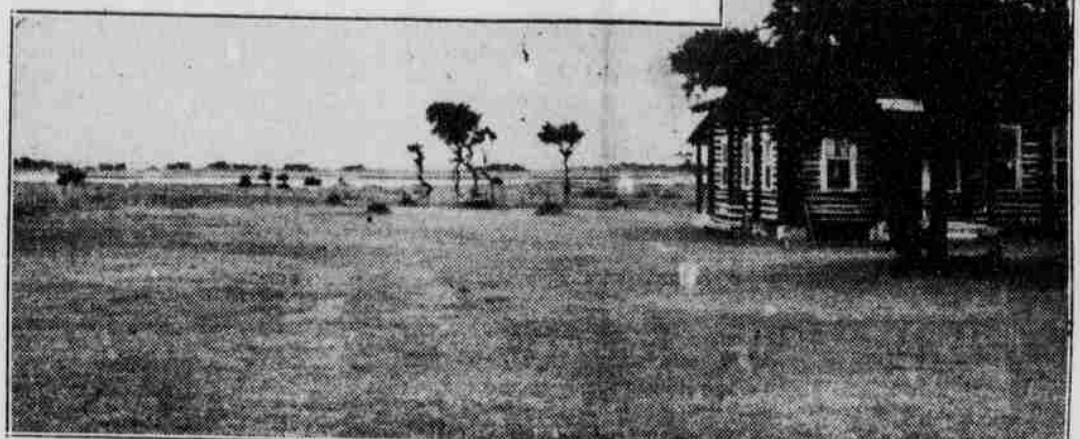

The draw bridge which will be provided for the bridge is already on location and is being painted at the present time by WPA workers. The project is providing much needed employment for many citizens in that section who have suffered economic reverses due to poor crops and poor fishing. Through the construction of the bridge between Straits and the Island, a new and improved road will be constructed through that thriving farming section.

Portsmouth People Seek Erosion Work

Theodore Salter, prominent resident of Portsmouth, far-east village of Carteret County was in Beaufort Wednesday telling friends of the need for a beach erosion project on the northern tip of Core Banks for the purpose of preventing the encroachment of the sea. Recently at a Board of Commissioners meeting a resolution asking the Department of Conservation to develop such a project was passed. Since that time no progress has been made. Mr. Salter is of the opinion that Congressman Graham A. Barden could help get the project established and he sought the help of friends in bringing the matter before the attention of the Third District representative.

MORE ACTIVITY AT OCEAN PORT THIS WEEK END

First Asphalt Ship Arrives; Salt To Come Sunday

Pumping liquid asphalt into tank cars or the large storage tanks at the rate of 1,000 barrels or 42,000 gallons per hour, officials of Hatteras Oil Company were of the opinion that the portion of the cargo aboard the S. S. Castana of New York consigned through Morehead City Port Terminal would be unloaded some time today.

The Castana, first tanker to bring a cargo to the new port and Hatteras Oil Company project arrived off the bar of Beaufort Inlet about noon Wednesday. She was piloted into the Terminal harbor by Captains Charley Piner and Ira Willis and preparations were made immediately for removing her cargo. She is not the first ocean going tanker to visit the port, as one such vessel sought refuge at the Terminal during an offshore storm a year or two ago. The S. S. Castana is the first American ship to bring a cargo to the ocean port.

Demented German Is Placed In Jail Here Wednesday

Anton Gaenzler, 48-year old German resident of 11 Hewitt Street, Hempstead, L. I., New York, was placed in the County jail here early Wednesday morning. He was arrested by Sheriff C. G. Holland, after he appeared at City hall early in the morning dressed in bathing trunks, muttering that a sheriff and deputy were after him. Convinced that the man was demented Sheriff Holland placed him in jail for safe keeping. It developed that he is one of the Germans who has been vacationing on Harkers Island. Authorities in Hempstead contacted by telephone, stated that Gaenzler was a man of some means in that section, but that he was demented and had been in several private sanatoriums.

BASE BALL

Beaufort Wins Its Sixth Game

Beaufort won its sixth game as against one setback of the season by defeating the Wilmington "Pirates" last Sunday, here, 6 to 0 and losing to them, at Wilmington last Friday night, 5 to 2. Taylor and Brooks did the "chunking" for Beaufort in the first game and Lowell for Wilmington. The local hurlers allowed eight hits and the home boy only four. The "Pirates" scored one in the first, two in the third, one in the sixth and one in the seventh while Beaufort bunched their blows in the seventh for their two tallies. N. Chadwick, C. Chadwick, G. Hassell and C. Hassell hit in succession to account for the runs. Davis, Wilmington center fielder and cleanup man, got two for four to lead his club.

The local "Firemen" won the rubber game of the three game series behind great pitching of Brooks, who went the route, allowing only four singles and fanning eight as he and his mates collected ten base knocks off the delivery. (Continued on Page 8)

Fishing And All Outdoors

IF HE CAN get the paper out a bit earlier this week, Billy Arthur, editor of the Onslow County News and Review will go sheephead fishing out on the "rocks" in Onslow Bay. Billy Arthur needs no introduction to North Carolinians. It is not his size—all of 42 inches (about the same length as the New River Inlet channel bass) which makes him well known. It is his exceptional ability—first as a letterman cheer leader of Carolina and later as city editor of The Tribune in New Bern and then editor of his own newspaper in this peaceful and beautiful little town near some of the best sportfishing waters along the coast of North Carolina. What people generally do not know is that Billy Arthur is an ardent fisherman. (Continued on page 8)

Health Program In County Planned As Objective

"HOGS VS CHILDREN"

Dr. Warden L. Woodard, Beaufort dentist, was installed as president of the Rotary Club here on Tuesday night, succeeding Aycock Brown, editor who has served during the past year. Rather slack attendance marked meeting which started a new Rotary year—and attendance was one of the subjects brought out by the new president in his brief talk.

Something is wrong with the local Rotary Club. Old time members who in the past seldom if ever missed meetings have gotten into the habit of failing to attend more than one in four meetings—which keeps them Rotary Club members officially. Any Rotarian who misses four successive meetings without making up attendance at some other club is automatically dropped from Rotary roles—unless that person has been granted a leave of absence or has missed meetings due to illness. Each Rotarian present on Tuesday night were appointed one-man committees to determine from those who have not been attending regular, just what their intentions are. The thought as expressed by members present on Tuesday night is to determine whether the club will continue with 15 members or reduce that number to a smaller group.

HOGS VS CHILDREN
President Woodard stated that he had no set program for the year but suggested that with the cooperation of the local club and Morehead City Club that it might be possible to get either a part-time or full-time health department for Carteret County. The idea is not a new one—because both clubs in the past have made every effort to get the Carteret County Commissioners interested in establishing such a department. One of the objects of Rotary is child welfare work. It is the opinion of Rotary members in Beaufort (and also Morehead City) that nothing would advance the welfare of the children of Carteret County as a whole, as much as a health department. Dr. Woodard (Continued on Page 8)

TOMATO CANNING BEGINS AT HUNTLEY'S

A PLACE OF much activity during the past two months has been Huntley's—the new firm featuring hardware and building supplies, farmers' needs and oil products located at the intersection of U. S. Route 70 and N. C. Route 101 a short distance from Beaufort. It has been the terminal station for many large interstate trucks hauling produce from the farms of Carteret this year. A tomato canning plant near the main building pictured above has started operations and several people are employed there canning a Carteret product which will be distributed over a wide area.—(Aycock Brown Photo)
