

Blueberry Culture Introduced in Coastal Carteret County— FIRST COMMERCIAL HARVEST EXPECTED NEXT YEAR.

WHILE ONLY ONE of the above photos was made in Carteret County, a general idea can be obtained from the pictures about blueberry culture which has been introduced commercially in Carteret County. Two of the photos were brought back from New Jersey by Earl Taylor who visited the farm and cranberry bogs of Theodore H. Budd recently. It was Mr. Budd, shown at left in group picture at top who introduced blueberries to Carteret soil. In the picture with him is his foreman, Herbert Beebe of the Pemberton farm and a grower himself and Earl Taylor local manager for the Budd interests. In the other picture at top Taylor is shown inspecting one of the bushes on 36 acres devoted to the culture of blueberries on Route 101 near Beaufort. The picture by Aycock Brown was made when the berries ripened recently. The lower picture shows one of five packing houses on the Pemberton, N. J., farm. When operating full force several hundred persons are given employment picking and packing the berries. On the Budd farm in New Jersey 80 acres are in blueberries and 700 acres in cranberries. First commercial harvest of berries in Carteret is expected during the summer of 1940, Taylor said today.

Carteret Farmers To Vote In Referendum To Be Held Saturday

FLASH!

Just as we go to press today, Bookie Mace called The Beaufort News from aboard the cruiser Tarheel about five miles off Bimini and reported that he and Dick Dickinson, owner of cruiser, had each landed blue marlin last night weighing 370 and 380 pounds. The message came through clearly by way of ship-shore radio telephone. Bimini a British possession is 200 miles east of Florida, and is the future home of former King Edward and wife.

U. S. Promises To Protect Price For 3 Years

Advertisements Urge Three Year Control

Carteret farmers will have an opportunity on Saturday, July 20, to go to the polls and vote in the 1941 Flue Cured Tobacco Referendum. The question at stake is to decide whether they want marketing quotas for three years, one year or not at all.

The polling places which will open from 9 A. M. until 5 P. M., are located at the following places:

White Oak Township: Pelletier's Store, Buck's Corner and Bogue Community House.

Newport: Garner's Store.

Morehead Township: Lee Murdoch's Store.

Beaufort Township: Beaufort Courthouse Annex, which will also serve as the polling place for Straits, Smyrna, and Merrimon.

Harlowe Township: L. N. Conner's Store.

Farmers will be required to vote only in the townships in which they reside. There will be three questions on the ballot and only one is to be answered.

From the State Extension Office came the following story this week:

Flue-cured tobacco growers will go to the polls Saturday and decide whether they want three-year marketing quotas, one-year quotas, or no quotas at all. They also will be deciding to a large extent the price they will receive for their 1940 crop of tobacco, it is pointed out by E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer of N. C. State College.

If quotas are approved for a three-year period, 1941 through 1943, the Federal Government has promised to protect prices of the 1940 crop "at or slightly above" (Continued on Page 8)

CAMPAIGN FOR PROSPERITY IN SOUTH STARTED

Carteret Chairman Is Appointed By L. R. Meadows

A campaign "For Balanced Prosperity In The South, 1940-50" has been started in several Southern States including North Carolina and Dr. L. R. Meadows of Eastern Carolina Teachers College is Regional Chairman of the area which will include Carteret County. Here on Monday he called on Editor Aycock Brown of The Beaufort News and urged him to accept the chairmanship for Carteret. Brown accepted on certain conditions, namely that a vice chairman would be named at some early date to work with him, in the event he would be unable to carry on the proposed work.

Dr. Frank P. Graham of the University of North Carolina has been named state chairman of the campaign and a meeting of all county and regional chairmen will be held in Governor's Hoyer's office in Raleigh in September.

The thought behind the movement is to improve the present "money crisis" in the South which if neglected and ignored may bring disaster. The thought in view is through a vigorous educational campaign to bring about better methods and incidentally improved economic conditions.

The 10 objectives or roads to balanced prosperity include: 1. Balance money crops (including forestry) with food, feed and fertility crops; 2. Balanced crops with livestock, consistent with (Continued on Page 8)

American Legion Post Is Planned In Morehead City

The Beaufort News learned authoritatively in Morehead City this week that World War Veterans of that city and members of Carteret Post 99 American Legion were making application for a charter with the thought in view of establishing a new outfit in the county. It was also learned authoritatively that the reason for this was due to the upset in Carteret Post 99 recently as a result of the investigation into the raising of a Nazi symbol on the flagmast of the local Legion hut.

Work Has Begun On New Library

Work has started on renovating the old railroad station building here which is to be converted into a library and recreation center. The work is being carried on through a WPA project which is sponsored by The Town of Beaufort.

—R. H. Hill, Jr., Enters Officers Training School

Robert H. Hill, Jr., left Saturday for New York N. Y., to enter Officers Training School. On Tuesday he will board the battleship Wyoming for a 30 days cruise down to Panama.

Senator Bailey And Governor Broughton Inspect Waterways

SENATOR JOSIAH BAILEY

GOV. NOMINATE BROUGHTON

AS THE GUESTS of Colonel George W. Gillette, U. S. Army Dist. Engineer, Senator Josiah W. Bailey and Governor Nominate J. Melville Broughton are inspecting inland waterways from Wilmington to Manteo this week from aboard the survey vessel "Kitty Hawk." Also in the party is Alex Webb of Raleigh.

The party stopped over in Beaufort on Tuesday and again on Wednesday. Early Wednesday they took a side trip out to the Gulf Stream off Cape Lookout and returned with 45 dolphins. On the fishing trip Joe, son of the Senator and Melville, son of the Governor Nominate, were along and also Capt. Charley Piner of the Morehead City Port Terminal.

Wednesday night the Kitty Hawk lay off Atlantic and she was scheduled to make Ocracoke and possibly Hatteras today. In Beaufort news-pictures of the distinguished party were made by Aycock Brown, editor of The Beaufort News who was guest aboard the Kitty Hawk while she lay here.

Staff Writer For Nat'l Geographic Visitor On Coast

Leonard Roy, staff writer of the international famous National Geographic Magazine, official publication of the Society which bears that name was a visitor on the Carteret Coast last week-end. He came here from Wilson and was accompanied by Lester Rose, the tobacco town's outstanding chamber of commerce secretary. Mr. Roy was also here gathering data for a story on North Carolina which he will soon write for the magazine he represents.

On the week-end he looked in on the nightlife of Carteret at Atlantic Beach and the new and swanky Dunes Club. Sunday afternoon he saw a smaller than usual crowd of beach goers in the surf. That was due to the weather which was not favorable for beach visitors on the Sabbath. With Rose he drove through Beaufort but did not stop. Later he will return and see the U. S. Fisheries Laboratory on Piver's Island, the only diamond back terrapin propagation farm in America and likewise the fish farm. If he wishes he will have the pleasure of meeting National Geographic's oldest subscriber in the South—I. E. Ramsey who has been a subscriber for 47 years.

PONY PENNING

There will be a pony penning at Cape Lookout on July 23 and 24, it was announced today.

COLOR MOVIES TO ADVERTISE N. C. MADE HERE

Made Possible By Gift Of Dick Reynolds

DERMID MacLEAN IS Photographer

Dermid MacLean spent the week-end on the Carteret coast shooting colored moving pictures which will have tourist appeal for the Department of Conservation and Development. The project is one started in April as the result of a gift by Dick Reynolds of Winston-Salem who will present the State with the pictures. The total cost will run into several thousand dollars.

Arriving on Friday of last week the first sequences made by MacLean, who is an expert in color photography, included summer school scenes at Beaufort. The set up for these pictures was Piver's Island. First sequence showed an art group, and the models were Miss Eleanor Bell of Mooresville and Miss Elizabeth Merwin, sketching beneath the yucca plants. The second sequence portrayed the summer school of biology of Woman's College. Principal models for this sequence were Miss Eileen Taylor of Long Island, N. Y., and Miss Helen O'Bryan. Later in a general group shot the NYA workers on Pivers Island were included.

On Saturday and Sunday MacLean went to Cape Lookout, to make fishing pictures but weather conditions were unfavorable and so was the fishing. No pictures were made. On Monday morning with Miss Betsy Stallings and Miss Norma Larkee of Morehead City and Ed Barbour of Tampa, Florida as models, several scenes (Continued on Page 8)

Fishing And All Outdoors

By AYCOCK BROWN

FORTY-FIVE yearling dolphin were taken by North Carolina's senior senator, next governor and U. S. Army District engineer on a side trip out to the Gulf Stream off Cape Lookout Wednesday morning. It was a nice catch and the fish were not wasted. Those which had not been packed away by the hungry anglers at lunch time were packed away on ice for later consumption. Guiding the party was Morehead City's port terminal pilot Capt. Charley Piner. Alex Webb of Raleigh was also in the party as were Joe Bailey, Jr., well known junior sailorboatman and Governor Broughton's son Melville.

TIDE TABLE

Information as to the tide at Beaufort is given in this column. The figures are approximately correct and are based on tables furnished by the U. S. Geodetic Survey. Some allowances must be made for variations in the wind and also with respect to the locality, that is whether near the inlet or at the head of the estuaries.

Beaufort Babe Has Five Grandmothers

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Thomas of Beaufort announced the birth of a son on Saturday, July 13. That in itself is not considered front page news, but the fact that this new baby has five living grandmothers is news. The grandmothers are: Mrs. Dock Thomas, Beaufort and Mrs. S. H. Davis, Marshallberg; great grandmothers are Mrs. Mattie King, Beaufort, R. F. D., and Mrs. Murray (Laura) Thomas of Beaufort and Mrs. Polly M. Lewis of Marshallberg. Mrs. Thomas before her marriage was Miss Gladys Davis.

More children were killed by automobiles last year than were killed by scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles and whooping cough combined.

BEAUFORT FIRMS ARE URGED TO PARTICIPATE WITH FLOATS IN MOREHEAD CITY FESTIVAL

Covering The Waterfront By AYCOCK BROWN

THE WAR! It is responsible for many things that we have felt right here at home, despite the fact the big racket has been some 3,000 miles to the Eastward. Summer of 1939 saw excellent business on the Carteret Coast. Full realization of what the brewing War scheduled to start on September 15, (less than a year ago) was not known. Trouble in Europe would result in more vacationists coming to the coast of Carteret in 1940 was the general belief. The general belief however was in error.

THE WAR STARTED! First to feel its effect was the tobaccoists and tobacco growers in Eastern North Carolina. About three-fourths of the patronage for Carteret Coast beaches in past years have come from the tobacco growing sections of East North Carolina. Low prices, curtailment of buying by foreign representatives and perhaps the lack of crop control made it an unfruitful year for the people from whom our section (Continued on Page 8)

Local Man's Car Is Robbed In Virginia

While Dr. H. F. Prytherch's car was parked on one of the principal streets of Norfolk early this week a thief forced open a side window and stole a Graflex camera valued at approximately $150 and a pair of pants. Dr. Prytherch who was in Virginia supervising oyster work on the Rappahannock reported the theft to the Detective Bureau of the Police Department but so far the camera has not been recovered.

Colorful Event To Be Presented In August

Biggest event along the Central Coast of North Carolina this summer will be the Coastal Festival in Morehead City, scheduled for mid-August. Rudolph Dowdy, general chairman of the event, this year in a letter to the Editor of The Beaufort News this week invited citizens and business firms of Beaufort to not only attend but participate in the event.

What Chairman Dowdy had in mind was that he and his associates in Beaufort's neighboring city would like for as many firms as possible to enter floats in the parade, which will include a street parade, and a water parade. Most colorful of the night events will be the water parade which has already earned for Morehead City and the Carteret Coast wide publicity.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the Coastal Festival again this year. The senior Chamber of Commerce is also giving a helping hand financially. Due to the economic conditions, Beaufort did not present a Cladion. (Continued on page 8)

Nazi Flags

RALEIGH, July 17.—Home-made Nazi flags continue to make their appearance in the state. The State bureau of investigation sent an agent to Fuquay Springs today to take down a rough Nazi banner found hanging on the flag pole at the American Legion hut there. Ed. Note: They probably got their idea from the Nazi flag raisers here who selected the Legion hut on which to raise their swastika several weeks ago.
