LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS IN COUNTY COURT

Many Cases Before Judge Webb On Tuesday

One of the largest dockets in several weeks and one of the hottest sessions of the year featured Recorders Court before Judge Paul Webb on Tuesday. The following cases were tried and disposed of during the day:

Bernice Williams, charged with assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill, six months suspended sentence, payment of doctor bill and costs upon condition he remain of good behavior.

For violating the prohibition laws Bert Lloyd was given a three months suspended sentence upon condition of his good behavior and non-violation of the law. On a similar charge of violating liquor laws Lee Van was sentenced to four months at labor on the County Farm. Judgment was suspended following a sentence of three months given Willie Fulford on liquor charges. No costs were assessed in the case of Charlie Chadwick, charged with violating the liquor laws. He submitted to the charge.

Non-suit was ordered in the case of Hubert and Levy Riggs on charges of violating prohibition laws. Raymond Riggs and E. H. Riggs, however, named in the same warrant charging liquor violation were found guilty. Judgment was with held until July 30. Judgment was suspended following six months sentence given Peter Black on charges of violating liquor law, upon condition that he pay a fine of $25 and costs.

Fishing And All Outdoors

FISHING AND ALL Outdoors, first created by Editor Aycock Brown of The Beaufort News for Carteret's most widely read newspaper is really going places now. Under the same title the column is published as a Sunday feature in The Greensboro Daily News, The Durham Herald-Sun and The News and Observer. The combined circulation of these three newspapers is about 150,000 subscribers. In addition to the Sunday columns, Fishing and All Outdoors also appears as a sports page feature in The Greensboro Daily News on Wednesday and Fridays.

NEWS FOR the column arrives in a variety of ways. While much comes by word of mouth, we have built up a number of contacts who keep sending the column reports from other sectors of the coast. These contacts are not only located at the better known places such as Wrightsville, Morehead City, Manteo and Southport (Continued from Page 1)

BLUE MARLIN CATCH BY MACE AND DICKINSON SECOND KNOWN DOUBLE-HEADER FOR SPECIES

Blue Marlin Is Landed Off N. C.

News has just reached The Beaufort News that a blue marlin weighing 286 pounds was landed off Cape Hatteras this week, the third to be taken with rod and reel in that section and the only fish of the species ever taken north of Bimini. The catch was made by Washington, D. C., party and details were lacking as we go to press.

SAILFISH

Contrary to a report published in The News and Observer on Tuesday, (under a Morehead City dateline), it was Vick Knight of Greensboro, who actually caught the first sailfish of the season off Cape Lookout, according to Capt. Tony Seamon, skipper of the ship-shore radio-phone equipped Gulf Stream fishing cruiser "Monnie M." of Morehead City.

The News and Observer story indicated that a Carroll Etkins landed the fish. Carroll Etkinson of Greensboro was a member of the party on the Monnie M. when the fish was landed and it was his rig which Knight was using, but full credit for the catch goes to Vick Knight because he was holding the tackle when the fish struck and incidentally brought it to gaff within a half hour.

The sailfish weighed 27 1-2 pounds and measured approximately six feet in length. It was (Continued on Page 5)

Jim B. Gaskill Is Home Again From War-Torn Europe

Jim Baugham Gaskill, adventurous son of Mrs. Annie B. Gaskill and the late Capt. Bill Gaskill of Ocracoke passed through Beaufort today enroute to his island home for an extended vacation following three cruises to European countries aboard merchant marine vessels. His ship, the Exford, arrived in New York Friday following a 23 day cruise from Greece. On the outward voyage the vessel carried among other things, 96 tons of nitro-glycerine to Constantinople, Turkey. Cromar, material for making gun barrels was the cargo on the return trip.

Prior to going with the Merchant Marine, Jim Baugham was on the U. S. Dredge "Delaware." He now has a rating of Able Body Seaman and after one more cruise (which he expects to take within a couple of months) he will apply for his officers papers. At that time he plans to enter the U. S. Naval Reserves. In the northern and southern countries of Europe, (and he has touched ports at all of them) Gaskill says that he has yet to see a person who favors the Hitler way of doing things.

4-H GROUP AT STATE MEETING

Short Course Held At N. C. State College

Carteret County 4-H delegates attending the Annual State 4-H Short Course being held at State College this week are: Hilda Carraway and Rodman Taylor of the Beaufort club; Erma Jarvis, Ernest Lewis, and Stanley Gillikin of the Smyrna club, and Alton Higgins of Newport club accompanied by the Home agent.

Erma Jarvis, whose trip is being sponsored by the Central Service Club, represents the Southeastern District in the State 4-H Health Contest. Alton Higgins' trip was won on the basis of the boy making the best record in 4-H club work in the county during the last year. The Carteret County Federation of Home Demonstration clubs is partially sponsoring the trip of Hilda Carraway, who served as president of the 1939 champion 4-H club of the county and Rodman Taylor who was chosen county 4-H Health King of this year.

Educational courses in Home Beautification, Clothing, Dairying, Forestry, Field crops, and courtships are being studied by the delegates. On Thursday evening Erma and Rodman are to take an active part in the State 4-H Health pageant to be held in Riddicks Stadium.

Negress Claims Fatal Shooting Was An Accident

Amy Tyson is being held in jail on charges of killing Odess Dennis a neighbor on Monday. The shooting took place at the mill-community near Lenoxville Road. Three bullets from an automatic entered the body of the Dennis woman and she died several hours later at Morehead City hospital. It was reported that she admitted the shooting was accidental before she died. Disposition of the case will probably depend largely on the verdict of the Coroners Jury.

Sensational Shoe Sale Of National Brands At Felton's

Elsewhere in this edition today is the advertisement of Felton's "Everything to Wear" firm which gives a general idea of what bargains await customers at the big semi-annual sale of nationally advertised shoes for men, women and children. The sale is now underway, and such brands as Odett for women, and Jarman, Fortune and Churchill for men have been reduced considerably. Buster Brown and other brands of shoes for children have also been reduced to low prices. The thrifty shoe buyer would do well to look in on the bargains which Felton is offering and which are advertised elsewhere in this edition.

GOGGLE TOURNEY

Goggle Fishing Tourney will be held at Kill Devil Hills next Wednesday and Thursday.

Rotary Officials Gather For 189th District Meet

J. D. Mizelle, Jr. Died Early Today.

James I. Mizelle, Jr., oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. I. Mizelle Sr., died at 5 o'clock this morning in St. Luke's Hospital in New Bern from complications arising from an operation for appendicitis on Sunday. He was 25 years of age, and his death was a shock to many friends in his home community and on the Carteret Coast.

Funeral services will be conducted at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Mizelle home in Newport. Burial will be made in Cedar Grove cemetery in New Bern. The young man who was a graduate of Wake Forest College, and a third year student at a dental college in Richmond, is survived by his widow Mrs. LaVon Osborne Mizelle, his parents and one brother Henry and a sister Marianna Mizelle.

Gov. Carter Darrow Made Opening Address

The district meeting of 189th District Rotary Club presidents and secretaries began at Atlantic Beach at the Atlantic Beach hotel and The Casino today. Addresses by a number of prominent business men and Rotarians from throughout the State will be featured during the two day meeting. The New Bern Rotary club has had charge of arrangements and Beaufort's Club is in charge of the registration of the visiting Rotarians and their guests.

Among those scheduled to speak is Carter Darrow of the Tarboro Club and District Governor of Rotary. His talk opened the meeting today. Others on the program (Continued on page 8)

Heat Wave

The hottest weather the coast of Carteret has experienced in many years has been officially recorded here by the U. S. Weather Cooperative Observers on Pivers Island during the past week. Old timers say that the current heat wave equals that of 1918, which came a few months after a most severely cold winter. Regardless of what your thermometer might register, the official government thermometer readings at the U. S. Fisheries Laboratory for the past week starting July 18, were as follows:

Date	High	Low
July 18	86	71
July 19	89	73
July 20	90	77
July 21	91	78
July 22	93	78
July 23	93	78
July 24	95	76

Official Hatteras Weather Statistics

Richard Daily, U. S. Weather observer at the government station in Hatteras on the Outer Banks, reported that on Tuesday, the high temperature was 92 degrees, only one degree less than the all time record at that locality. On July 9, 1907, the temperature was 93 degrees, hottest ever recorded on the Outer Banks. Temperatures of the week at Hatteras follow:

Date	High	Low
July 18	81	73
July 19	85	74
July 20	86	76
July 21	88	78
July 22	90	79
July 23	92	79
July 24	89	73

"CAPE STORMY"

By AYCOCK BROWN
"Off the North Carolina coast lie the remote and seldom visited Outer Banks, where life still follows a pattern two centuries old. Here, on the islands which form a barrier reef against the Atlantic storms which have made the name Hatteras famous, the pirate Teach once caulked his raider, the Wright Brothers flew the first air plane and wrecking was once an honored profession. We take you on a trip to a land that time has passed by. Color pictures by the Brothers Pinto."—From Next Week in the current edition of Saturday Evening Post. The story is scheduled for August 3, edition of the famous weekly magazine founded by Benjamin Franklin which today has approximately 3,000,000 circulation.

CHAN CHANDLER AND BAND WILL PLAY FOR DANCE

Probably the most colorful orchestra booked for Atlantic Beach so far this season is scheduled to play in the beach casino Saturday night for the first of a series of three Treasure Chest dances, at which valuable prizes will be awarded free to the lucky winners. The other Treasure Chest dances will take place August 3 and 10.

Chan Chandler and his band will play for this week's dance, 11 men and a girl vocalist who will provide the sweet-swing type of music some what like that of the popular maestro, Glenn Miller. They will come to the beach direct from an engagement at the Lumina pavilion at (Continued on Page 4)

Plane Crashes In Davis Cow Pasture

Blakely Pond, our spot news reporter down at Davis dropped by on Monday morning to tell about a plane crash in the community cow pasture last Saturday. The plane one of the light-weight types, was piloted by Bill Price of Greensboro. The pasture looked like a lawn to him, but it so happened that the plane first struck in a marshy part of the pasture.

Nothing over, the propellers and landing struts were damaged. A plane mechanic from Goldsboro, came down on Sunday, made emergency repairs and flew the plane back to Goldsboro for further repairs. Price, uninjured, remained at Davis and was waiting for return of plane when Blakely Pond came by to report.

MRS. BLOODGOOD DIED ON SUNDAY

She Was Active In Civic Work In Beaufort

Funeral services for Mrs. Elnita W. Bloodgood, 45, were conducted at the First Baptist Church here Tuesday afternoon with Rev. S. J. Erwin, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Stanley Potter, pastor of the Methodist Church officiating. She died at her home on Ann Street, Sunday evening, following a lingering illness of several months. Burial rites were conducted in Swansboro, former home of the deceased. Committal services were conducted by Rev. A. L. Benton, of Swansboro.

Mrs. Bloodgood had for many years been prominently connected with the religious and civic life of Beaufort. She had held the position of Chairman of the Red Cross Chapter here for a number of years and while her health permitted, held many offices in the affairs of church life and civic work in Beaufort. Citizens of Beaufort shared the sorrow of the family in the death of Mrs. Bloodgood.

She is survived by her husband, M. E. Bloodgood and two children, Richard Bloodgood of Winston-Salem and Miss Maude Bloodgood. (Continued on Page 8)

Pinch Hitting For Secretary Wallace

DR. H. L. BLOMQUIST, head of Duke University School of Botany and instructor of botany at the university's marine laboratory here left this morning for Tifton, Georgia, where he will address the Regional Grasslands Conference. His subject will be "Grasses and Man" and the importance of grasses to mankind will be outlined. Dr. Blomquist is pinch-hitting for Agricultural Secretary Wallace who was previously scheduled to make the address but has had to cancel many of his speaking engagements made prior to becoming the Democratic nominee for the vice-presidency in Chicago recently.

Abernethy Case Is Delayed For Week

At the request of C. L. Abernethy, Jr., defeated candidate for Congress in the Third District, Attorney General Harry McMillan has agreed to wait until next week before making any finding as to whether or not Mr. Abernethy should be prosecuted for irregularities in connection with distribution of official ballots printed for the congressional race.

3-Year Control Is Voted By Growers

Seventy-four per cent of the farmers of Carteret County who cast ballots in the referendum held last Saturday favored 3-year control. In the State the percentage was 85 per cent. In Carteret 244 cast ballots for 3-year control; six voted for 1-year control and 74 voted against the measure. Through Southern tobacco growing belts however, a large majority was piled up for government control for three years.

Fishing Message Found In Bottle

Bill Johnson, E. T. Worthington, R. H. Worthington and Fatty Tripp, all of Ayden, and also Willie the colored boy fishing off the coast recently had caught no fish so they wrote a message on a piece of wrapping paper, placed it in a bottle and hrew it overboard. The bottle was found washed ashore by Billy H. Garner at the new bathing beach being constructed in Fort Macon State Park who sent it in the Fishing and All Outdoors. Contrast to this primitive way of sending a message via bottle was a wireless message via Tropical Radio, about a fish catch at Bimini, received by The Beaufort News fishing columnist almost simultaneously with the note in a bottle.

Her Picture In The Sunday Editions

UNDER THE caption "Gladious Girl" the picture of pretty Miss Joyce Johnson, daughter of Captain and Mrs. John Johnson, whose home is on Front Street here, appeared in the Sunday edition of The Greensboro Daily News on July 21. To get the proper angle she was posed above the photographer on the shore of Newport River with a gorgeous bunch of gladioli from Bennie Copeland's gardens in her arms—(Aycock Brown Photo—Cut used through courtesy Greensboro Daily News.)

Covering The Waterfront

By AYCOCK BROWN
LEONARD ROY and myself were cooling off over CocoColas in Joe House Drug Store on Monday and he noticed a couple of children out at the water fountain in front of the water tower. "Those kids don't know it but they are wasting the most precious thing in the world," said Roy who is associate editor of National Geographic Magazine.

"Water," he said, "is worth its weight in gold in many parts of the world." Of course here in Beaufort where water is plentiful it is not valued very highly. But for drinking purposes alone, I have seen it so scarce down on the Banks following hurricanes and high tides which ruined cistern and surface well supplies temporarily, that people actually suffered for the lack of it. Doctors tell me that everyone would live longer if they drank more water.

WITH ROY of Geographic I spent considerable time on the week-end. He was interested in (Continued from page eight)

TIDE TABLE

Information as to the tide at Beaufort is given in this column. The figures are approximately correct and are based on tables furnished by the U. S. Geodetic Survey. Some allowances must be made for variations in the wind and also with respect to the locality, that is whether near the inlet or at the head of the estuaries.
