DAVIS AND SEA LEVEL HARBOR APPEAL IS MADE IN WASHINGTON

He Becomes Cashier Of Beaufort Bank

JAMES DAVIS, who has served as assistant cashier of First-Citizens Bank and Trust Company here for several years was named cashier this week following the resignation of C. L. Beam. Mr. Beam resigned to accept a position with a construction company in Norfolk, it was stated here. Announcement that Mr. Davis would be the new cashier was received via long distance telephone last night from R. P. Holding of Smithfield, president of the First-Citizens Bank and Trust Company group of banks which are serving many Eastern North Carolina towns and cities.—(News Photo.)

Congressman Barden Makes Excellent Talk To Board

IRVIN DAVIS AND H. C. TAYLOR WERE PRESENT

Irvin W. Davis, register of deeds and Harold C. Taylor of Sea Level, returned Tuesday night from Washington where on Monday they appeared with Representative Graham A. Barden of the Third Congressional District before the War Department's River and Harbor Board to make an appeal for better navigation and harbor facilities at Davis and Sea Level and other communities of Core Sound.

Congressman Barden plead in particular for Sea Level and Davis, small shallow water fishing communities which he asserted as no waterway projects which could "pay richer dividends per dollar spent."

He said that for a few thousand dollars each of these communities could be connected with deep water. Both Davis and Taylor gave evidence in behalf of the projects.

BINGO RAFFLE

A Bingo party, sponsored by the Woman's Club will be held in the old Joe House Drug Store location on Saturday night, October 5, beginning at 7 o'clock. There will be plenty of prizes and refreshments will be sold. A feature of the evening will be the raffling of a 32-piece set of yellow Cook-N-Serve Ware at a dime a chance. This prize is being donated the Woman's Club by B. A. Bell Jewelry Store. Proceeds from the Bingo-Raffle will go to the new public library.

Engineers Favor No Improvements At Bogue Inlet

In a form letter from the office of Col. Jarvis J. Bain, division engineer of the U. S. Engineering office in Richmond received this week it was announced that the War Department agencies had acted unfavorably on the proposal to improve Bogue Inlet. The principal grounds for the adverse conclusions were based on the cost of project which in opinion of engineers would greatly exceed the anticipated benefits.

Interested parties have the privilege of appealing to the decision by appearing before the permanent Board of Engineers in Washington. This will probably be done at a date to be announced later. The hearing before the Wilmington office engineers was held in the Schoolhouse at Swansboro last Spring and quite a number of representatives from Beaufort and Morehead City appeared and gave evidence in behalf of the improvement.

Three Big Values For Price Of One

Many Attractions For Patrons Of County Fair Here Next Week

FREE ACTS

World's Fair Shows and Carteret Post 99 of the American Legion have arranged fine program of free attractions for patrons of the 5th annual Carteret County Fair beginning next Monday and continuing through Sat. Oct. 12th. Thrilling stunts will be performed by the great "Berisini Troupe" high upon a slender wire, 80 feet in mid air. One of the most stupendous free attractions, however, will be America's Premier High Diver, Sonny Boy Campbell, diving from a height of 110 feet into a tank of water. A gorgeous display of fireworks will be a featured free attraction each night in addition to the High Diving act and the Berisini troupe.

State Fair Passes For School Children

Supt. J. G. Allen said today that he had received free passes to the Great State Fair at Raleigh, October 8-12, and that these could be had by the principals upon request. Distribution by them to any of the 4,500 school children planning to attend on Friday, October 11, which has been designated as "Young North Carolinians Day."

Superior Court To Open Oct. 14

Judge C. Everett Thompson will preside over the term of Superior Court beginning here on Monday, October 14, it was stated by court officials today.

W. H. BAILEY RETURNS

W. H. Bailey has returned from Boston where he was in attendance at the American Legion Convention.

Gentlemen of the North Carolina Delegation:

ON SEPTEMBER 21, 1939, I wrote and front-paged an editorial addressed especially to each of you congressmen and senators—and on behalf of North Carolina. You fellows had been called back to Washington to a Special Session of Congress which had as its theme—NEUTRALITY. If you read the editorial it apparently made no impression. I say this because so far, you and each of you have left the "open door to America" for enemy invasion from the east—still open.

SINCE NOTHING has been done to close the "open door" and since you have failed to act in this connection during the past year, (despite the fact that money for defense purposes has been appropriated to be spent just about everywhere else) I ask you again on behalf of North Carolina and the OPEN DOOR to America to read the editorial, reprinted below, for your own information, since apparently you did not take the matter seriously when it was first published over one year ago:

World's Fair Shows Featured On Midway

Farm And Home Products To Be On Display in The Exhibit Hall

Carteret County's fifth annual American Legion Fair which is bigger and better than ever this year, will open next Monday on the Athletic Field and in the Consolidated School Gymnasium in Beaufort for six big days and six big nights. In addition to the gigantic display of farm and home products in the Exhibit Hall, the World's Fair Shows, Inc., will be the featured attraction of the mile long midway. Two big free acts and free fireworks will also be daily and nightly features.

T. E. Kelly, treasurer of the Carteret County Fair, announced that the World's Fair Shows would arrive on Sunday, the day before the

SHOW JOBS FOR MANY ON SUNDAY

Charles Powell, contracting agent for World's Fair Shows, Inc. has stated that quite a number of local men would be employed on Sunday (October 6) to unload and erect the show, so as to have everything in readiness for opening date of Carteret Fair.

L. W. Hassell Is Back On The Job

Clerk of Court L. W. Hassell returned to work this week after being absent from his office for several days due to illness. With only one other exception, it was the first time that Clerk Hassell has been absent from his duties since he became clerk of court.

SCHOOL DAYS

On Tuesday, October 8, all white School Children in Carteret County will be admitted to the Fair Grounds FREE and on entering the gate each one will be given a Ticket which entitles them to a chance on Prize which will be given away to the holder of lucky ticket on that day. A Bicycle for the boys and a Bicycle for the girls. In case of rain on that day the school Principals will announce another School Day.

Wednesday, October 9, will be Colored School Day and all colored school children will be admitted to the Fair Grounds FREE. In case of rain on this day another one will be announced by the Principals.

N. C. Fisheries To Be Operated Again

Use of the Morehead City plant of North Carolina Fisheries, Inc. for the storage of surplus fish and seafood products is scheduled to begin this week according to advice received by Mayor D. E. Willis of Morehead City from Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, head of the State self-help organization which has charge of operation of the giant enterprise — which, incidentally has never operated very successfully.

Mayor Willis told The Beaufort News that plans were to operate the plant for a 3-months period. Dealers will use facilities for storing their fish and products. Donnie Davis will probably be in charge of the plant. Part of the property has been rented temporarily to a local fish dealer for packing seafood products.

Jim B. Gaskill Going To India Via C. Good Hope

Jim Baughm Gaskill, son of the late Capt. W. D. Gaskill of Ocracoke is one Ocracoker who is seeing the world. During the past year he has made several cruises to European, Asiatic and African ports and on Wednesday when he passed through Beaufort enroute New York to join his ship he stated that his next cruise would be to India.

The Indian cruise aboard an American Export vessel on which he is serving apprenticeship for an officers berth will be made via the South Atlantic around Cape of Good Hope via Madagascar to the Indian Ocean port.

Gaskill, only 21, is carrying out the tradition that "You'll find an Ocracoker in every port of the world." Enroute to New York he will go via Siler City where his mother, Mrs. W. D. Gaskill, is being treated for illness.

Achievement Day Program Here On Thurs. Oct. 24th

The Carteret County Council of Federated Home Demonstration Clubs while holding its Fall Meeting on last Thursday voted to hold the Fall Achievement Day Program in the Beaufort Community Center Building, Thursday evening October 24th. Each family is to bring a picnic supper to be spread at 6:00 o'clock, immediately after which a report of the men and women's work is to be presented in the form of a panel discussion.

Club women are asked to model a newly made or made-over dress

He Will Be At The Carteret Fair

JOCKO, pictured above is one of the actors in the monkey speedway which will be a feature of the World's Fair Shows Inc. on the midway of Carteret County Fair here next week. The monkey show is one of 12 high type tented attractions on the midway. In addition to the shows there will be 14 thrilling riding devices on the midway.

MEETINGS HELD TO SELECT NEW COMMITTEEMEN

They Will Conduct AAA Business In County 1941

A series of meetings for the purpose of electing community committeemen and delegates to the county convention for the Agricultural Conservation Program for 1941 have been planned for Carteret. The first of these meetings are being held today and tonight, at Buck's Corner, White Oak community at 3 o'clock and Newport School auditorium tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Farmers of the Straits, Smyrna, Hunting Quarter and Merrimon communities will meet at J. S. Pigott's store at Gloucester on Friday, October 4 at 2 o'clock. Farmers of Beaufort, Morehead City and Harlowe territories will (See Meetings, Page 8)

Outdoors Writers Association Will Meet At Southport

Outdoors Writers Association of America, an organization which includes on its membership roster such men as Van Campen Heilner, Rex Beach, Johnny Mack, Bob Edge of CBS and many others will have a meeting of its board of directors in North Carolina on October 31 to November 5. The meeting will be held at Southport and on Baldhead Island and Bill Keziah nationally famous small town chamber of commerce secretary will be the official host along with Bob Thompson of the State News Bureau.

Members of the OWAA in North Carolina include Bill Sharpe, Bob Thompson and Paul Kelly. Aycock Brown of Beaufort whose column Fishing and All Outdoors appears regularly in Greensboro Daily News, News and Observer and Durham Herald Sun in addition to Beaufort News and Dare County Times is also a member.

AIRPORTS

At least one airport on the Carteret coast and two more nearby would be developed if facilities proposed by the CAA in a gigantic nationwide airport project are approved in Washington. A total of 19 million dollars is proposed for improvement of airports in North Carolina alone. Morehead City, Ocracoke and New Bern are included in the proposals. The amount which would be expended follows: $89,989 at Morehead City; $106,000 at New Bern and $28,371 at Ocracoke Island.

The Beaufort News contacted John Crump, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Ben Royall, chairman of the port commission and Mayor D. B. Willis, in Morehead City today to obtain particulars about any survey which had been made for development of an airport at Morehead City. Neither of the trio could give any definite information. Mayor Willis stated that his opinion was that the proposal for developing air facilities at the ocean port city meant the development of a landing field on made land south of the port channel on Bogue Banks near Fort Macon. The late M. R. Beaman was vitally interested in this particular development before his death and while he was leading the promotional work at the Morehead Port Terminal.

Board Meets Monday

The Carteret County Board of Commissioners will meet next Monday, October 7. A successor to fill the vacancy of the late W. P. Smith has not been named to date.

Washington, D. C.
'TIN-DOGGING'
Unless the Roosevelt administration shakes itself free of red tape and really does something about tin, it may have a major scandal on its hands.

Months have passed since the nation first woke up to the fact that its supply of tin was desperately low. During that time, Japan has edged down closer and closer to the Malay and the Dutch East Indies, our chief tin supply, and now is at the gates of French Indo-China.

Meanwhile, the plan to set up a tin smelter in the United States using Bolivian ore and to save a dangerous ocean haul half way round the

TIDE TABLE

Information as to the tide at Beaufort is given in this column. The figures are approximately correct and are based on tables furnished by the U. S. Geodetic Survey. Some allowances must be made for variations in the wind and also with respect to the locality, that is whether near the inlet or at the head of the estuaries.
