Beaufort Eagerly Awaits Presentation Of "Unknown Seas" Here Friday Night

Colonel Dickinson Gives The British Mobile Kitchen Unit

A mobile kitchen unit, an essential of which the British people are now so desperately in need, was added to war relief donations from Rutherford, N. J., recently the gift of Colonel F. S. Dickinson and his business associate Maxwell W. Beeton, of Beeton, Dickinson & Company, makers of the famous B-D clinical thermometers and an assortment of other clinical and surgical supplies.

The Beaufort News did not learn of the gift from Colonel Dickinson but from an item which appeared in the Rutherford Republican and Rutherford American, newspaper of that city. The cost of the mobile kitchen unit was approximately $2,000 and it is now enroute or probably already arrived in England.

Colonel Dickinson and Mrs. Dickinson were in Beaufort last week, stopping at the Inlet Inn. While here he attended to certain arrangements which are to be made at Core Creek Church, which he built and gave to the people of the community. The Dickinsons left for Rutherford on Saturday.

Local People Cast In True Local Romance

PRESENTED FREE BY LOCAL WOMANS CLUB

A romantic drama, "Unknown Seas," written and directed by Mrs. Grayden M. Paul and sponsored by the Book Department of the Woman's Club will be presented on Friday night, March 14, at 8 o'clock in the Beaufort School auditorium. It is an exceptionally prepared play, true to life of an incident which occurred years ago in Beaufort and it will present a cast of 35 well rehearsed local people (except two from Morehead City.) There will be no charge for admission and the play will last for two hours.

The plot of the romance is built up around the sad romance of Nancy Manney, daughter of Dr. Manney and C. W. G. French, treasurer of the club. See "Unknown Seas", Page 8

Choir Of Core Creek Community Church— THEY WILL SING AT EASTER SUNRISE SERVICES—

A FEATURE OF the second annual Easter Morn Sunrise Services at Core Creek Community Church this year will be the voices of the talented choir pictured above. The Rev. W. Y. Stewart, pastor of the beautiful little rural church is shown with the choir in the backrow. He will preach at the Sunrise worship. Another feature of the service will be the sacred Easter music presented by Beaufort School Band under the direction of Fred King, WPA Music Project instructor.—(Photo by Eubanks.)

County Offices To Close On Saturday At Noon Till Oct.

Upon motion of the County Board of Commissioners, meeting here on Wednesday it was agreed that the County Offices would close on each Saturday, beginning March 15, at 12 o'clock noon and observe a half holiday. This ruling will be effective until the last Saturday in September, 1941, it was ordered.

More Draftees Will Leave Carteret For Their Tour Of Duty

Six draftees will leave on Friday for Fort Bragg to be inducted for one year tour of duty in the U. S. Army. It is the fourth group to leave the Carteret Coast and it has been unofficially stated that six more Carteret boys will leave on March 28. Those leaving Friday morning include: Leslie Gordon Guthrie, Harkers Island; George Elbert Howland, Newport; RFD; Lonnie Dill, Morehead City; Ralph Kenneth Fulcher, Morehead City; Willis Prescott, Newport and Fred Bryan, Newport, Route 1.

Alternates to the foregoing list according to the Draft Board officials include Fernie Christopher Jones, Pelletier; Preston Lofton Mason, Beaufort and Leslie Earl Davis, Morehead City. If one or more of the three draftees are not accepted these men would be next in line to take the tour of duty.

Who's Job Is This?

The blinker light, located at the intersection of Lenoxville Road and Atlantic Highway at the school house is out and has been out all this week. It was there by the Board of Town Commissioners to protect little school children from speeding autoists who are cautioned by the light. Tide Water helped. Now whose job is it to start the light blinking again? Anyway do it—NOW!

Mayor Huntley Will Not Seek Re-Election In May

Capt. Whitehurst Building Two New Menhaden Vessels

Capt. Jule Whitehurst, said to be the best wooden ship builder in Eastern North Carolina has charge of the construction of two new menhaden vessels at The Fish Meal Company in West Beaufort. The vessels are smaller than the average in the fleet which operates for this firm. Several persons are employed on the ship building job and Harvey Smith of Fish Meal Company is remaining in Beaufort while the boats are under construction. At present rate both vessels should be ready to launch during mid-Spring.

Gives Opinions On Present Set-Up Of Offices

NO ANNOUNCEMENTS BY CANDIDATES ARE MADE

Mayor George W. Huntley will not seek re-election to the office he has held for the past two terms in the Municipal election in May. His announcement to this effect was given The Beaufort News today, and it leaves an open field for any and all contenders for the office of Mayor. So far there have been no announcement made relative to who will run, but The Beaufort News is expecting some action in this direction by the next issue because the "Municipal Political Pot" is scheduled to start simmering, since the Election is less than two months away.

In making his announcement that he would not be a candidate Mayor Huntley stated that he real-See Mayor Huntley, Page 8

OCRACOKE AND OREGON INLET FUNDS SOUGHT

Two Important Water Projects To Cost $195,000

Herbert Bonner, Representative of the First District has asked Congress to appropriate $195,000 to improve two waterways in his district.

Waterway Maintenance Funds Appropriated

It was announced in Washington a few days ago that funds for regular maintenance work on existing waterway projects in North Carolina have been allotted. Included in the funds was $17,500 for maintenance Beaufort Harbor (the work will begin very shortly) and $85,000 for improvement of the port's harbor in Morehead City. Other funds will be used in maintenance work on the Intra Coastal waterway between Norfolk and Beaufort and Beaufort and Wilmington.

They have both been approved by the Rivers and Harbors Committee and have been designated to be in the interest of national defense.

The first project is the channel from Manteo to Oregon inlet, with the estimated cost of improvement $45,000, while the second is Silver Lake on Ocracoke island, where the cost of improvement was estimated at $150,000.

Bonner urged approval of the items in appearing before a house appropriations subcommittee. The representative said the Man-See Ocracoke Inlet, Page 8

First Picture Of Marine Base Site In Virginia Pilot

Miss Julia Thomas and Miss Sydney Thomas were used as models in three pictures of a 4-photo layout made by Aycock Brown on assignment for the Sunday Magazine Section of The Virginian Pilot. The photos will be the first pictures published of the lower Onslow section where the U. S. Marine Base will be constructed. In the layout there are photos of Hurst Beach ferry, Willis Landing, Oak Grove church and a group of signposts at a cross roads. They are just ordinary rural scenes, except that they happen to be scenes which will soon be changed with the arrival of the U. S. Marines expected next month from winter maneuvers at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The photo layout will probably be published in the current edition of the Pilot's Sunday Magazine.

PROHIBITION LOBBY ACTIVE

Prohibition, after being in the limbo for eight years, again has a potent lobby on Capitol Hill. The Women's Christian Temperance Union and other Dry organizations have launched their most intensive campaign since the one that put over the Eighteenth amendment during the last war.

And they are using the same tactics. Congress is being barraged with appeals to "protect" soldiers and sailors by prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages near military reservations. Simultaneously, the heat is being put on state legislatures to enact "local option" statutes.

The only thing new in the drive is its slogan. This time it's "Defend the Defenders."

The Dry campaign is well organized. In the last few weeks thousands of letters have poured in on congress. Some are written on W.C.T.U. stationery, but most are form letters signed by individuals obviously connected with Dry organizations.

HARD CRABS

There are more hard crabs being caught in Carteret County waters than ever before at this season it was stated today by R. R. Barbour of Morehead City, who called to place an advertisement for crab-pickers wanted. The over production has resulted in the price going from a season high of $3.75 per hundred to a current price of $2. Waters in the vicinity of all eastern communities and from the vicinity of Salter Path and Broad Creek are yielding great quantities of crabs, it was stated.

COUNTY BOARD MEMBER RITES HELD TUESDAY

Cleveland Davis Of H. I. Died Monday

Funeral services for Cleveland Davis, 55, member of the Carteret Board of Commissioners and prominent resident of Harkers Island were conducted at the Free Grace Church on Tuesday afternoon, with the pastor and Lay Reader Luther Yeomans assisting Rev. W. Y. Stewart of Core Creek Community Church who conducted the last rites.

Mr. Davis died at his island home on Monday afternoon following a lingering illness of several months. His death, caused much sorrow on the island and through the county where he was well known. As a tribute to the part he played in public life, the Carteret Superior Court recessed Tuesday afternoon so that court attaches and others could attend the final rites. Following the church services the burial rites were conducted at the See County Board, Page 8

Broccoli Shipments Moving From County

Broccoli, a green vegetable, much in favor by members of the Latin race, as a table delicacy, has been moving from Carteret this week. George W. Huntley is the only grower of Spring broccoli, and he has shipped several hundred bushel crates to New York markets. Last Fall several shipments were made from the farm of K. W. Wright. Broccoli is comparatively a new vegetable for the fertile soil of Carteret County. It was first planted in Carteret in commercial quantities in 1934. Mr. Huntley was one of the first to plant the vegetable here commercially.
