When Thousands Visited Atlantic Beach On July 4th

WITH FAR MORE attractions than ever offered before in its history, Atlantic Beach, under the skillful management of Newman Willis this season, was visited by many thousands of persons on July 4th and on through the Independence Day week-end. The above photo, made from top of the ferris wheel on the boardwalk gives a partial view of the thousands that thronged the popular Carteret Coast resort. In the Casino, shown at right, American Seamen entertain at a mid-week dance tonight with Joe Leighton making the music. In the Casino on Saturday night there will be a Cadet Ball.—(Eubanks-News Photo.)

SITE SELECTION ENDS CONTROVERSY

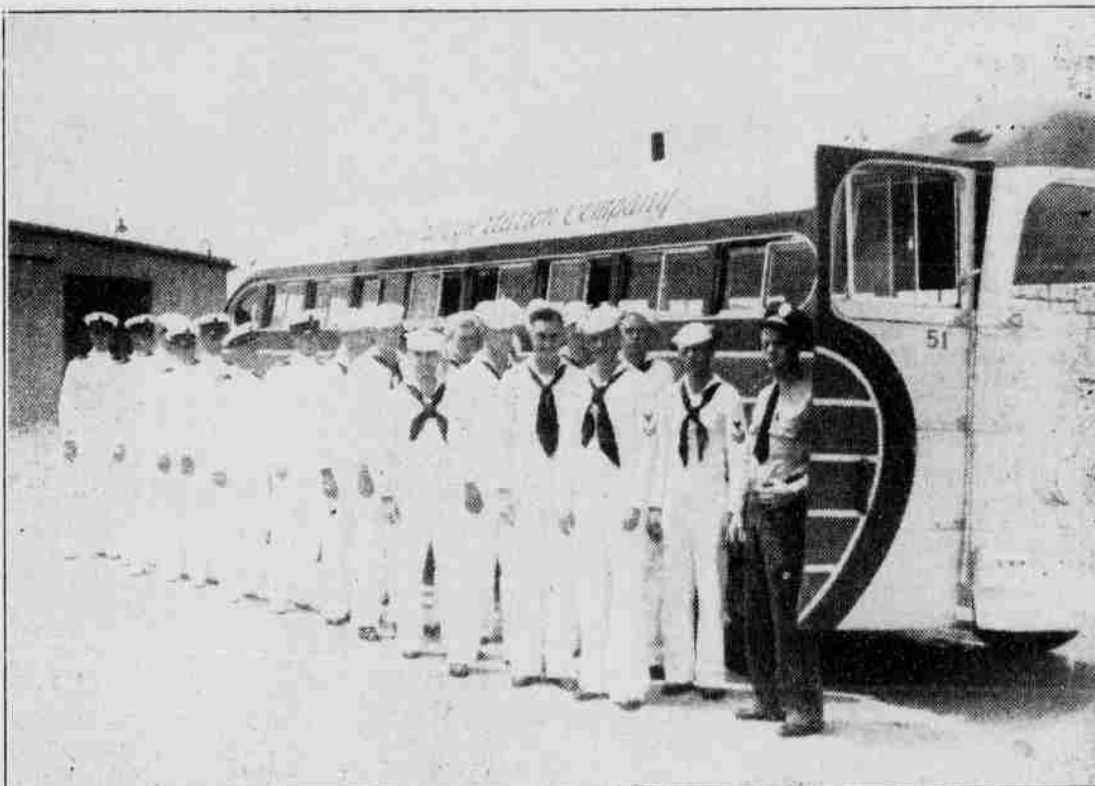

Just as we go to press today Representative Graham A. Barden wired The Beaufort News as follows: "Secretary of Navy upon recommendation of Marine Corps and Navy Department has signed order designating Cherry Point as site for Marine Aviation Base." Earlier this morning Dr. Ben F. Royall advised the editor that Commander Cotter of the U. S. Navy had called him last night stating that Cherry Point would be officially designated today as the Airwing site, with the signature of Secretary Frank Knox of the Navy being placed on the order of recommendation for the South side of Neuse river.

The official designation came following a rather long controversy over which side of Neuse River would be selected. Previously it had been indicated that Wilkerson Point would be the site of the Airwing of America's greatest Marine Base now under construction in Onslow County. When Cherry Point came into the picture there was considerable efforts on the part of real estate men and citizens

VIA SUPER LINER TO CHURCH

Reverend W. Y. Stewart, pastor of non-sectarian Core Creek Church extended an invitation to U. S. Coast Guard Academy Cadets and U. S. Maritime Commission Trainees aboard the S. S. American Seaman now in Morehead City, to attend services last Sunday morning. Among those accepting the invitation a few are shown in the picture below as they boarded a Seashore Transportation Company "Super-Liner" loaned for the occasion by James West of New Bern, owner of America's largest individually owned bus line. The bus was driven by operator Dallas Spruill, shown standing by bus. Cadets and trainees crowded the beautiful community church at Core Creek, and already many are planning to worship there again next Sunday. It would be a generous idea for any person owning an automobile which will be available for use to transport the Cadets and trainees to Core Creek on Sunday morning to get in touch with Rev. Mr. Stewart who will complete arrangements.—Eubanks-News Photo.)

Cedar Island Route Most Difficult In State

POLES SPOTTED IN CORE CREEK AREA

Local REA officials reported this week that approximately one-third of all the poles for the Carteret Craven Electric Membership Cooperative have been set and tamped in, and that construction work is progressing rapidly.

Of particular interest, according to Resident Engineer L. C. Kerr of the project, is that the line of poles from Cedar Island to Atlantic have been erected. This is considered by engineers as one of the most difficult sections of line constructed by the REA in the entire State of North Carolina, due to the fact that it was necessary to cross a wide expanse of marshland where not only transportation facilities proved a problem, but also due to the general terrain and method necessary to set the poles in same.

Work is underway at present in all sections of the vast project (except Merrimon) which extends from Cedar Island to Stella and from the Straits to Harlowe. Poles are being spotted (that is placed along the route) in the Mill Creek, Core Creek and Harlowe section this week and it will be only a few days until the hardware on the poles have been placed and actual setting in this section will begin.

History Of Local Church Ordered By Ambassador Daniels

A copy of "Methodists In The Port Of Beaufort," the excellently written historical story by Miss Am Muse has been ordered by the Honorable Josephus Daniels, United States Ambassador to Mexico. The order for the book from the noted Raleigh publisher and editor who was secretary of the United States Navy during the first World War, was received this week by Rev. Stanley Potter, pastor of Ann Street Methodist Church.

Except from the Ambassador's letter "I have read today, in The Beaufort News, which I read regularly, about the story of the 'Methodists In The Port Of Beaufort'. Wish you would send me a copy of same at once." The Ambassador in his letter referred to the pleasant vacations he has spent in Beaufort in the past; of his many friends here and to the 163rd Anniversary of Ann Street Methodist church and the wealth of history which abounds in the old port of Carteret's county seat.

Boy Scout Court Of Honor Sunday Night

Boy Scouts of Beaufort will have their Court of Honor on Sunday night at 8:00 o'clock at the Methodist Church. This is the first time that the Scouts have had a public presentation of this important event in scouting. At this time the scouts who recently appeared before the Board of Review and passed various phases of scout work will be presented their awards.

Up until about two months ago scout work had been on a local basis. Recently an effort was made to have scouting unified and placed on a county basis. This work has been progressing with good success. A Board of Reviews was appointed consisting of Stanley Woodland, chairman, of Morehead City; Gibb Arthur and Gordon Willis, of Morehead City, and Dr. H. F. Frytherch and J. W. Stewart of Beaufort, members.

GARNER TRANSFERRED

Private Claude J. Garner, of Newport, N. C., who is one of the first 13,500 trainee-graduates of the Field Artillery Replacement Training Center at Ft. Bragg, N. C., is being transferred this week to the 72nd F. A. at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

Commissioners Also Raise Their Own Pay In Budget

Continue Groundwork For Establishing County Health Department

Most controversial matter during the July meeting of the Carteret Board of Commissioners on Monday was not included in the minutes. It was however, included (or excluded) in the tentative county budget adopted by a vote of three commissioners against one. Except for the budget matters, the meeting was the usual one of a more or less routine nature—except some definite steps were taken towards the establishment of an all-time health department. Included in these definite steps was the appointment of a committee consisting of Commissioner Raymond Davis and Commissioner Tilden Davis to locate a place in the Court-house Annex in which the health department can be placed.

Judging from the way it was reported that Commissioner Raymond Davis took away and added to the tentative budget—with the backing of Commissioner McCabe and Tilden Davis, locating a place in the annex for the health department should be an easy job for him.

Budget Put And Take

The Beaufort News reporter did not see a copy of the tentative budget, but it is the public's privilege to see same if they wish. The Beaufort News reporter is using as a basis for the "put and take" angles in this story, information he gained from county officials interviewed Wednesday.

Carteret County Recorder Court Officials, namely the judge and solicitor, were given boosts in salaries according to changes made (by majority vote of the commissioners) in the tentative budget. In the past the salaries of these officials have been $125 per month for the judge and $75 per month for the solicitor. In political circles, both jobs are considered as very nice plums. The "nice plum" part of the job is due mainly to the fact that there are not many hours of work, month in and month out, to either position, and the holders of same are permitted to carry on

Garments For Babes In Britain Made By Core Creek Ladies

During the past three months 126 baby garments, five sweaters and six pairs of socks have been bundled off to Britain by the ladies of Core Creek Community, according to Mrs. W. Y. Stewart, wife of the pastor of the Community Church. These garments, mostly for babies and made by a few women living in the Core Creek section, have already been sent to British War Relief headquarters and by this time are probably enroute to the babes of Britain.

Memos of a Girl Friday:

Dear Mr. W.: Billy Rose offered the editors of the Commy Daily Worker a job in his Diamond Horseshoe revue. Billy considers their flipflops, backflips and somersaults the most comical in the world. . . . Tip the newspapers to see the next edition of The Hour—amazing revelations on activities of Ukrainians in the U. S. readying sabotage, etc., campaigns. A new Nazi trick because Germans and Italians are no longer in good standing over here and Ukrainians wouldn't be "suspected."

The German Military Attache in Washington is supposed to have told Washington reporters July 27 is the timetable date for the Nazi war machine to take over the Ukraine.

Pearson and Allen are furious with ex-Cong. J. J. O'Connor of N.Y. They claim to have a certified copy of a letter from O'Connor (part of the Kansas court record) in which the ex-congressman recently wrote U. S. Judge Richard Hopkins of Kansas. Alleging that two out of three U. S. appeals court judges in N.Y. were with him in the Congressman Sweeney libel action against the columnist. Pleading sure victory in N. Y., O'Connor asked Judge Hopkins to postpone any decision in Kansas, but Hopkins promptly dismissed all of Sweeney's suits against 10 Kansas newspapers. Hurray for him.

MORE ON 'HESS-MESS'

Following the outbreak of the Nazi-Russian war, European capitals buzzed with reports of a German offer to Britain to make peace, then turn their united forces against Soviet Russia. These reports were not empty rumors; they were absolutely true.

Behind them is a story of the most audacious and astounding Nazi intrigue of the war to date. Its opening scene was the sensational Hess "flight" to Britain; its closing paragraph the "surprise" Nazi declaration of war on their ally, Red Russia. The inner details of this brain-reeling plot are not yet unraveled and all of them won't leak out until the history books are written. But authorities have pieced it together and it is now possible to get the main outlines.

Hatred of Communists.

Following the victorious Balkan campaign which made Germany master of Europe, powerful military-Nazi elements, always hating the Communists, began urging peace with Britain in exchange for a British-German coalition against Russia. After a bitter struggle inside the Nazi party, Hitler sided with the anti-Red group and the wheels were set in motion to line up the British.

It was realized that they would have to be approached in such a manner that they could not doubt
