RED CROSS WAR FUND DRIVE IS UNDERWAY

To the citizens of Beaufort and Eastern Carteret County:—

The American Red Cross, through its 3700 Chapters in the United States, is today asking the American Public for $50,000,000.00 as an Emergency War Fund!

The officers of the Beaufort Chapter are reluctant to make such an appeal immediately following the Annual Roll Call for memberships.

The President of United States, the Governor of North Carolina, and the officers of our city and county have all issued proclamations sponsoring this War Fund Drive.

Keep the lines open by giving generously to the War Fund. At the request of Dr. F. E. Hyde, Chapter chairman, I have undertaken the chairmanship of this campaign in this area.

Sincerely yours, Edward C. McConnell, War Fund Chairman.

Siren On Bridge Should Be Removed

Simultaneously with the Declaration of War the United States barred from the radio networks of the nation any program which featured sirens.

Air raid warnings in Beaufort which will become more frequent as time goes on, will be seriously jeopardized if the siren on the Highway Bridge is not put out of commission immediately.

Air raid warnings and blackouts will never be successful in Beaufort until the bridge siren is removed.

ed at any rate, will make a change immediately. Otherwise the matter will be taken up with the proper civilian defense officials in Washington, according to warning officials here.

Communities Should Organize Scouts

Featured elsewhere in The Beaufort News today is a story about the Carteret District of Scouting which is organized and ready to help organize troops in any or all communities of the county.

WASHING TON, Dec. 18.—The Hawaii Red Cross chapter has given substantial relief to the victims of last week's Japanese bombings and in cooperation with the governmental authorities has carried out extensive evacuation of civilians from danger zones, shrdu—

In a telephone conversation with the Red Cross in Washington, Alfred L. Castle, chapter chairman in Honolulu, said the Red Cross there, with the assistance of representatives from national headquarters now in Hawaii, has been active since the bombings began in providing relief for civilians affected by the attacks.

He said Red Cross workers were still removing civilians from danger points and giving relief to the wounded and homeless. Prior to the beginning of hostilities the American Red Cross established 10 emergency medical stations on the islands and made other plans for emergency operations.

FIRST HERO OF WAR ONCE HERO OFF HATTERAS

Found Survivors Of Sinking Tzeny Chandris

SCRAP LADEN SHIP SAILED FROM M. CITY

Captain Colin P. Kelly, listed as one of the first air heroes in the present war, after he had dived his plane into the sputtering gun fire of the Japanese battleship Haruna, scoring three hits which sank the vessel, was once a hero off Cape Hatteras. In his heroic sinking of the battleship Haruna, the intrepid aviator lost his life. Off Cape Hatteras back in 1937, his was another mission.

That time he was on a mercy trip. It was Captain Kelly aboard a plane who discovered the survivors of the ill-fated Greek vessel Tzeny Chandris which had broken to pieces and sank off Wimple Shoals 30 miles northeast of Diamond Lightship.

The Tzeny Chandris was one of several ships which brought temporary prosperity to the Morehead City Port Terminal, as a result of scrap iron shipments to Rotterdam, Japan, and the United Kingdom.

Tzeny Chandris, incidentally was not an old ship. She was built in Kobe, Japan, in 1920, later purchased by the United States Shipping Board and then sold to Greek interests.

Farmers Of County Redouble Efforts For Freedom

"When a family keeps a record book and carries on farming like business men carry on their business, then it isn't difficult to increase production," according to J. Y. Lassiter, chairman of the Carteret County Agricultural Defense Board.

Approximately 100 farm families in Carteret county will operate their farms during the next crop year in accordance with definitely planned farm and home practices," he said.

Many of the families are now meeting to develop plans, and many are making the plans in their own homes. The services of the county supervisor and the home management supervisor, Mr. Joseph Y. Allen, and Mrs. Jean D. Morrison, are available to aid in the formulating the plans.

According to most farm plans now being worked out, farm production next season will lean toward more milk, milk products, better home gardens, eggs, and meat for home butchering, in line with the Food for Freedom program, Mr. Allen said.

Original Battle Of Legaspi Bay

On Monday the News and Observer front page a picture of Legaspi, a village in the Philippines, where the Japanese were reported to have landed a small force. Behind this small town which normally served as an exportation point for hemp used in Manila rope, rises Mount Mayon, 8000-foot slightly active volcano.

Instead, the Forty Seventh was greeted with gunfire from the Insurgents who had torn down the piers (which were shown in the Observer picture) and greased the pilings to frustrate a landing.

During the battle, a large number of Insurgents were killed. And during the occupancy of Legaspi by the Forty Seventh, Mount Mayon, the slightly active volcano today, erupted and Clerk Hassel recalls the lava streams, and the denseness of the ashes from the eruption which made it necessary to carry lighted lanterns during the day time to find their way around.

FISH STORY

Eggs of crawfish laid 1,000 years ago and found 15 feet deep in Siberia's region of eternal frost have been hatched out by Soviet scientists. At least ten generations of normal crawfish have already been obtained.

placing one cash crop farming with diversification, he said.

In 1940 the average standard FSA borrower in North Carolina produced $425 worth of goods for home use, but in the year prior to drawing their first farm plans in connection with FSA loans those same families averaged only $309 worth of such production.

Former Service Men Volunteer To Guard Plant At Ocracoke

When men were asked to volunteer to guard the Ocracoke Island power plant, which is an REA project recently former service men signed up to do the work as their share in the defense of their country.

The volunteers included M. P. Guthrie, L. D. Williams, R. F. O'Neal, J. H. Williams and H. H. Howard, retired Coast Guardsmen and J. Lum Gaskill and Dan Garish, ex-Navy men.

SHARK STORY

A few years ago, so many hundreds of thousands of sharks infested waters of the Timor Sea, northwest of Australia, that an extensive war to the death on them was organized. British, Dutch, and Portuguese gunboats, using seaplanes and marine and air torpedoes took part in the battle to drive the sea tigers permanently from their breeding grounds.
