PRELIMINARY CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION

State of North Carolina, Department of State.
To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:

WHEREAS, It appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the G. W. Huntley Company, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated in the Town of Beaufort, County of Carteret, State of North Carolina (G. W. Huntley, Jr. being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:

NOW THEREFORE, I, Thad Eure, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 15th day of December 1941, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 15th day of December, A. D. 1941.

THAD EURE,
Secretary of State

The capture of the German ship (Odenwald) in the South Atlantic recently (despite its disguise as an American vessel) happened, we hear, because of a boner. When the warship first encountered it—it was certain the stranger was American but asked for identification, anyway. Promptly came a breezy reply—typically Yankee Doodle in spirit and zing—but it contained one word that trapped it.

The word was Broadway slang and the Germans used it wrongly. That aroused the suspicion of the U. S. warship and the rest is now in the history books.

What was the slang word? Sorry. That's a naval secret.

tary motor trucks are shipped to Egypt, Malaya or Russia. They never come back. Ordinarily, industry supplies its own scrap iron from junked automobiles, etc. But now there will be fewer automobiles to junk.

So the scrap iron problem is one which will require every farmer and householder to look around behind his barn or in his basement to see what he can spare for war industries.

You can check off lead as the next strategic material to be put under interdict for civilian use. OPM's banning order will be issued shortly. That will mean the end of lead foil and numerous other items of normal everyday use. One possible exception may be lead for automobile batteries, but even that will be under severe restrictions.

Reason for the ban is inadequacy of domestic supply to meet the increasing need for bullets. War production tables call for a lead consumption of 60,000 tons monthly by June; 100,000 tons monthly by next January. For military reasons, figures on U. S. supply can not be disclosed, but it is below what is needed even with production increases now under way plus imports from Canada, Mexico and other foreign sources. So civilian use will be restricted for the duration.

WLW ICELAND

The largest standard-wave broadcasting apparatus in the U.S.A.—owned by WLW Cincinnati—may be set up in Iceland to drown out Hitler's rasping broadcasts to the German people.

For many years WLW operated a 500,000 watt station in Cincinnati, but was forced by the Federal Communications commission to reduce to 50,000 watts, which is the maximum for ordinary commercial stations in the U.S.A. Therefore, WLW has now offered its big 500,000 watt set to the government to be established in Iceland. Since Hitler's stations are nowhere near as strong as 500,000 watts, WLW's beams from Iceland could drown out his voice every time he went on the air.

Furthermore, WLW Iceland would not operate on short wave, which the German people are not permitted to hear. It would operate on a standard broadcasting beam and would come in over the ordinary German radio. By turning a button in the station in Iceland, the wavelength could be changed to cut in on any German program.

There is one catch to the proposal, however. WLW Cincinnati wants to make a deal with the government whereby it would be permitted to set up another 500,000 watt station in the United States in return for sending its equipment to Iceland.

ANSWERS

To Timely Farm Questions

Question: Can registered Jersey cows have any white on them?

Answer: Fred M. Haig, professor of dairying, says while it is true that most registered Jerseys are of a solid color with no white, the presence of white on a registered animal of this breed does not indicate any impurity of breeding. In fact, many breeders prefer some white, as it gives their animals a "flashy" appearance. Nothing is said about color in the rules of registration for Jersey cattle.

Question: Will warm water help hens to lay more eggs during the winter months?

Answer: When it is realized that eggs are more than 65 percent water, the necessity for plenty of water in the bird's diet can be seen. When water freezes or becomes too cold for the hens to drink, egg production will fall off. Providing the hen with warm water during freezing days will encourage her to drink amounts sufficient for good egg production. Keep 'em laying!

Question: Where should calf creeps be located?

Answer: A calf creep should be located on ground that is well-drained, near a watering place that cows and calves visit often. An ideal place is in the shade near the watering and loafing place of the herd. If a salt box is placed nearby, it will cause the herd to spend more time in that vicinity. Copies of Extension Folder No. 49 "Creep Feeding Beef Calves" may be secured by writing to the Agricultural Editor, State College, Raleigh. This folder has just been published.

FARMERS MAY APPLY FOR NEW TIRES & TUBES

RALEIGH, Jan. 21. — Farmers of North Carolina are eligible to apply for permission to buy new tires and tubes for farm implements and trucks used in moving food products to market, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been informed by the Office of Production Management.

G. Tom Scott, chairman of the North Carolina USDA War Board, has outlined the procedure for farmers wishing to purchase new tires and tubes.

First, Mr. Scott said, obtain application blanks at your local rationing board. Take this application to an inspector for the board and obtain a statement from him that the tire or tube to be replaced cannot be repaired, recapped, re-treaded or otherwise placed in usable condition. If the tire or tube can be repaired, the farmer will be notified and he will, of course, be unable to secure new products.

Next, present the statement of the inspector to the rationing board with an explanation of the purpose for which the new tire or tube is to be used. Farmers are
