MRS. SMITH GIVES BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Harvey Smith beautifully entertained two dozen of her friends Wednesday afternoon at a bridge luncheon at her home in West Beaufort.

Mrs. Smith's rooms were lovely with fall flowers and a Christmas arrangement on the mantle above the open fire.

Upon arrival at one thirty, guests were seated at six bridge tables and a delicious lobster salad plate was served with coffee after which there were five progressions of four hands of bridge. Just before the fifth round, the hostess served fruit cake, salted nuts, and coca colas.

Following each progression of cards, the winning couple was invited to select a prize from a table of assorted gifts—gadgets and food for the kitchen—and after the final progression, Mrs. Harry Saunders with high for the afternoon was awarded T-bone steaks.

BONDS OVER AMERICA

On the shores of the Delaware stands the oldest residence in Pennsylvania, the Celeb Pusey House, built at Upland in 1693 of field stone and mortar like so many residences of early Colonial days.

Keystone Home

The countries of occupied Europe hold ancient landmarks pointing to the dim past, but in the mad attempt to Nazify the entire continent Germany has wantonly destroyed thousands of historic links to obliterate all but the Teuton trademark.

MRS. GIBBS IMPROVED

Mr. Seth Gibbs says that Mrs. Gibbs who has been undergoing treatment in Richmond for some months is much improved. She is with her mother, Mrs. Westbrook, in Mt. Olive, and expects to return to Beaufort over the week-end.

METHODIST LADIES HOLD LAST MEETING FOR THE YEAR

The Woman's Society for Christian Service of Ann Street Methodist Church held their last general meeting of the year at the Church on Monday afternoon with excellent attendance and interest. The President, Mrs. E. H. Potter, presided, Mrs. Jennie Ippock gave the devotional, and Mrs. J. S. Steed and Mrs. Edward Nelson gave the program which centered around the theme, "Would a Man Rob God?"

SHEWBROOKS-STYRON

The marriage of Miss Hattie Styron, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Julian B. Styron, of Ocracoke, and William Shewbrooks, BM. 1-c USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shewbrooks of Wilmington, Delaware, was solemnized in the United Methodist Church of Ocracoke at six-thirty o'clock on the evening of December third, with the Rev. William R. Dixon officiating.

The church was decorated with white gladiolas against a background of native greens and was lighted with cathedral tapers.

The bride entered with her brother-in-law, Aycock Brown, by whom she was given in marriage. She was dressed in soldier blue crepe with matching accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of brides roses. Her matron of honor and only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Aycock Brown. She wore a dress of wine colored velvet with a corsage of gladiolas.

The groom chose as his best man, Junius Austin, MM 1-c U. S. C. G., of Ocracoke, with whom he recently served in the Pacific. His ushers were Clifford Le Mere, U. S. N. R., and Louis Midgette, USNR, of the Section Base at Morehead City.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Ruth Lewis, of Beaufort, organist, played "Ave Maria" and "Because" and during the ceremony, she played "Liebestraum." For the processional she used the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin by Wagner and for the recessional, the "Wedding March" from Mendelssohn.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Aycock Brown honored the couple with a cake cutting and reception in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Shewbrooks plan to remain in Ocracoke as guests of the Browns until the fifteenth when they leave for Wilmington, Delaware. Mr. Shewbrooks has just returned from eighteen months service in the Pacific. His new assignment is Wilmington.
