

Burma Road Remains Important Military Object

This section of the Burma road in China was taken by a signal corps photographer. The China-Burma-India theater of war contains 24 switchbacks as shown in this photograph. Even before America entered the war, engineers from American military and civil life were cooperating with the Chinese in the improvement and development of this highway system. The road is essential to China. It serves as the only line of communication, outside of air, that serves a vast portion of the country. The road has been under air bombardment almost continually since the start of the Chinese-Japanese war.

America's Answer to Nazi—Rocket Projectiles

Loading Projectile

Yank shown loading a projectile into the rocket armament of the far wing of the P-47 Thunderbolt. Arrows indicate the rocket projectiles, one on each side of the Thunderbolt. Nazis complain that the new rocket is "unfair" and does not give them sufficient opportunity to get under cover. U. S. army officials report that its effect will be increased.

Rocket Armament of P-47

P-47 Thunderbolt has eight deadly .50-caliber machine guns in addition to the new rocket gun armament. Special training has been given the ground crew as well as members who operate the rocket guns.

America's answer to the Nazi flying bomb has been the further development of the new rocket gun armament on the huge P-47, which not only can do as much damage as the flying bomb, but actually does many times as much, for the bombs can be accurately placed.

Floating Bivouac Going to Guam

The upper deck of this LST, one of the assault ships en route to Guam in the Marianas, is packed to capacity with marines and their equipment. The camouflaged shelter-halves and ponchos in the foreground were strung up by the Leathernecks to provide daytime shade and a dry sleeping place at night.

Casualties Debark at Norfolk

Ambulances line up on the waterfront at Norfolk, Va., to take naval invasion casualties off the hospital ship "Refuge" shortly after its arrival from Europe. These are the first invasion casualties to be debarked at Norfolk. As soon as conditions will permit they will be transferred to hospitals nearest to their homes. Most of them will return to duty.

Turkey Breaks With Germany

After more than four years as a neutral, Turkey has broken relations with Germany. The Allies are expected to ask for and be granted bases from which to blast the Germans from the Aegean Isles and to attack Nazi satellite countries. The Turkish army might then move against Bulgaria, whose border is reported strongly fortified.

Attack on Nips' Supply Train

A Beaufighter of the Royal air force sweeps low over the jungle and opens up with cannon fire on a Jap supply train near Kambalu. Allied planes have caught and wrecked many enemy trains laden with war materials on their way to the front.

Cat Owns $100,000

Attorney Woodbury Rand of Brookline, Mass., disinherited relatives and left $100,000 to provide for his eight-year-old tiger cat, "Buster." His former housekeeper and her grandson are provided for because she understood the care of Buster.

Tin Hat Foster Ma

The GIs are versatile. This fighting man puts down his gun to play nursemaid or foster mother, to a little French girl who is still on the bottle. These children were among a group of civilians evacuated from Tribehon.

Clothing Survives Flying Bombs

English families are pictured salvaging some of the clothing and hosiery still intact, after a Nazi flying bomb had wrecked a big outfitter's store in southern England. The goods were said to have been scattered far and wide by the force of the blast. Some 5,000 of these bombs have fallen in England.

Gods Fail Japanese

This wooden figure of a Japanese warrior god was among the war booty found on Saipan after the invasion. It is believed to represent the dual personification of the Japanese Buddha and the protective god of warriors.

'Old Faithful' Watches Master

"Boots," old faithful, a fire department Dalmatian mascot, hovers by anxiously as respirator is applied to his master, Lieut. Herbert Ludeman, one of ten firemen overcome by smoke in a fire in New York. The mascot refused to leave until his master was taken away and then followed him to the hospital and later to his home.
