Greensboro Patriot

Clarence N. Cone, of Gibsonville, and the the Cone Export and Commission Company have donated to St Leo's hospital several bolts of outing to be used in making gowns for charity patients.

The store of George McClintock, on the road to the Battle Ground, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday night together with the contents. It is the opinion that thieves broke into the store and after looting it, set it on fire. He had only a very small amount of insurance on the the house and stock.

Rev J. A. Wilson was formally installed as pastor of Alamance and Bethel Presbyterian churches Sunday Rev Charles E. Hodgkin preached the sermon and A. M. Scates delivered the charge at Alamance in the morning and in the afternoon Rev. Meiton Clark preached the sermon and Mr Scates delivered the charge at Bethel. Both services were attended by large congregations. Rev Wilson came to Guilford from South Carolina a short time ago and has made a most favorable impression upon the people with whom he has come in contact. He is a splendid preacher and pastor and is popular with the members of his congregations.

Union Republican

Lee McBryde White of Greensboro has been elected assistant professor of English in Cornell University. He is a graduate of Wake Forest College, N. C., and is the son of Dr J. L. White of Greensboro who as a native of Winston Salem, is well known to our citizens.

Mr and Mrs D. Frank King of Leaksville N. C by invitations, announces the marriage of their daughter Mrs Myrtle to Joseph Platt Turner and their daughter Miss Daisy Evelyn to Thomas Hays Barker on Tuesday evening, Nov 2nd at 7:30 p. m., in the East Baptist Church at Leaksville N. C.

Rev S H Helsbeck one of the oldest and best known ministers of the M. E. church in this section and who has rounded his 87th year married his 1,700 couple one day the past week. That is a record wonderful indeed and which few ministers have ever excelled in point of number. Just think what it implies—1,700 new homes scattered far and near and if all were gathered with their descendants what a host of people there would be to greet this aged and venerable divine as he nears the sunset of a long and useful life.

Siler City Grit

Owing to the extremely cool weather of last week the graded school at this place was suspended from Wednesday until Monday. Several days yet will be required to complete the heating plant and then the building will thereafter be entirely comfortable at all times.

Over ninety dollars was given in the collection in the M. E. church Sunday night for the Methodist Orphanage at Raleigh Rev John N. Cole the superintendent addressed large congregations both morning and night, and his portraiture of his work and need met with a substantial response.

North Wilkesboro Hustler.

The little son of Mr and Mrs. J. M. McNeil Master William was seriously scalded one day last week by running against a bucket of hot water which was set out upon the lawn, and turning it over and very painfully scalding one of his legs.

J. L. Clements narrowly escaped from a very serious accident at the railroad station Friday. Mr Clements had stepped on the rear of the tender of the engine to speak to the conductor when a sudden start of the train threw him to the ground between the cars and only by grasping a rod with one hand and holding his entire weight wit it and riding with the train a distance until it was stopped did he save himself from what would have been a terrible accident.

Reidsville Review.

Sheriff Clark lost a valuable driving horse Saturday as a result of having fed it some frost-bitten green peavine hay the day before.

Because he was denied the privilege of smoking more than once a day Bob Callaway one of the most able bulldozed road builders doing word on the Wentworth-Reidsville turnpike, made good his escape Friday. Callaway it will be remembered was sent up for shooting Henry Epperson in Reidsville a few weeks ago. Three other convicts with long terms had made their escape a few days before Callaway decided that the regulations of the camp were too stringent.

R. S. Taylor a colored resident of the North End who owed the retiring sheriff M. F. Pinnix a tax, is in the toils of the law because he undertook to interfere with the collection of the tax. J. E. Lambeth called at Taylor's home Friday to collect the tax, and not finding him there left notice of levy. He went back yesterday to get enough of the furniture to satisfy the taxes due, but when he arrived at the house Taylor was sitting in the yard with a gun across his lap and he told the officer that he would kill him if he came in.

Raleigh Occasion.

Some spurious 25 and 50 cent pieces were circulated in Raleigh Saturday and Monday. They all looked new and were dated 1908. Some counterfeit doubtless thought Fair week would be a good time to dispose of the spurious money when everybody was in a rush. The guilty one or ones have not been captured.

Two negro women Lovie Upchurch and Sylvia Gainess alias Sylvia Jones made their escape from the Wake county jail some time Sunday evening but they were gone Monday morning and that seems to be all they know about it.

Littleton News-Reporter.

A colored man was killed by a freight train between Ridgeway and Norlina a few days ago, his mule was killed and his wagon destroyed. He drove on the track when the train was too close to stop. Coroner Ed Petar with a jury held an inquest. Verdict: He came to his death by his own carelessness.

Willis R Harris when crossing the railroad on awagon loaded with cotton last week fell from the wagon on the rail striking his body near the hips causing him severe pain and confinement to his room. Fortunately Dr. Willis A. Alton who was called to him at once found no bones broken. One of the skids on which the cotton was lying slipped from the bolster of the wagon throwing the bale of cotton and Mr Harris to the ground.

Randolph Bulletin.

Barney Bingham son of Mrs Sarah Bingham who resides near Mebane died in Oklahoma a few days ago and the body arrived here Tuesday was conveyed out to his old home for burial. The young man was about 25 years old. He went west early last spring.

Thos Staley who lives near Spero believes in marrying and practices his belief. Although Tom is yet five years on the sunny side of three score years of age he has already led five wives to the hymeneal altar, his last life partner being Miss Lou Coble to whom he was united in the holy bonds of wedlock only a short time ago.

Lexington Dispatch.

The masons have at last got down to work on the new hotel. The delay of several weeks was caused by the failure of material to arrive. By February 1st the town will have an elegant hotel modern in all appointments and of capacity to handle any usual number of visitors.

Saturday morning about 3 o'clock fire destroyed the barn in the rear of the residence of Baxter Shemwell in Asheville and within a short time the structure and contents were consumed. A horse valued at $500 perished and much feed two buggies and harness were burned. The loss is placed at about $1,000.

A series of spur tracks from the Southbound to the vicinity of Grimes' mill, for the accommodation of shippers is being talked. The deal depends on the facility the company experiences in securing a right of way it is said. Where the passenger station will be located is still a question. Some seem to think that it will be near where the Mecksville road crosses the railroad.

Wilkes Patriot.

A large steam well drill drawn by six mules and belonging to J. P. Shewaberry of Alexander county, passed through town Monday from the Hunting Creek section to Fairplains where the proprietor has contracts for boring some wells. The machine bores a five inch hole and will pass successfully through any obstruction including the hardest rock. Congressman Chas H. Coles and his secretary R. L. Vannoy went to Taylorsville Tuesday. After spending a couple days at the Statesville court Mr. Cowles will go to St. Louis Mo., where by invitation, he will join President Taft's party on its trip down the Mississippi river to New Orleans. The party will leave St. Louis Monday afternoon and after stopping at all of the important cities enroute will arrive at New Orleans Saturday.

Up Before the Bar.
