R. F. D. No. 7.

Our Buff Wyandotte chickens won more prizes at the State fair last week. Silas won second and Peter third premiums. We exhibited at three fairs Alamance, Greensboro and Raleigh this fall and won seven first and nine second prizes on our chickens each show being judged by a different expert judge.

We went to the State fair last week accompanied by our better half to keep us straight, and must say the fair was the best ever. We visited cousin Tom Workman who lives in Raleigh and had a good time. Cousin Tom furnished us lots of good rations and a place to sleep and we furnished a healthy appetite while there. Cousin Tom's wife Maggie and two little daughters Sadie and Margaret proved to be delightful entertainers and pleasant hostesses, while cousin Everette Workman from Goldsboro furnished lots of fun for us all. We all want to go back again when cousin Tom gets his larder replenished.

Esquire John Dixon is in Goldstone doing some work for Mr. Sharpe who is in the mercantile business down there.

C. F. Ramin and daughter Elizabeth attended the State fair at Raleigh last Thursday.

Corn suckings are now on deck.

We can sympathize with Chas. Isley in his misfortune of not getting to fulfill his engagement with Miss Annie Way, Sunday night in account of Herbert Sharpe stepping out and claiming his lady. On arriving home Miss Way taken Mr. Sharpe into the parlor and proceeded to entertain him, when shortly after Mr. Sharpe's father knocked at the door and called his son to follow him home.

Peter Steele after a weeks illness has returned home to work. He remarked that Bellemont was blooming at last but he has failed to name the flower.

Ask Ed Foster where he left his snuff box Sunday evening. He and the lady he was sporting Sunday night needed it before he went home.

Ask Joe Rich our popular young sport of Bellemont something about that misadventure he had at the hollow meeting on Sunday the 17th. Pshaw boys get your hat and watch your business. Don't let someone get ahead of you. Hurrah for Joe stick to it old boy you will succeed yet.

Ever what Evley Lowe is going to do with those kittens he brought home from Altamahaw No. 2 the other Sunday, ask him.

Elvin King visited his father who is painting at Oxford last week. John Paschal has returned from Greensboro. We are glad to note that he is improving.

We have a good one on C. D. Martin but it will keep a while.

Fleet Shelton and Ned spent Sunday at Altamahaw visiting their uncle L. D. Rippey.

We had the pleasure of eating a corn shucking dinner at Mrs. Bettie Ross today. We enjoyed it hugely. Mrs. Ross is one of our best friends.

We thank Mrs. Stony, Mrs. Fayette Mrs. G. A. Simpson Mrs. Sallie Ross and J. C. McCulloch for nice vegetables this week.

Several on No 8 visited the great show in Greensboro yesterday they report a fine time.

Mrs. C. D. Martin is visiting her father in Wentworth this week hope she will have a pleasant visit.

We attended the state fair last Wednesday and Thursday had a nice time met lots of carriers from other parts of the state No 4 6 7 8 and 10 attended from here.

Items From the University.

Judge James Cameron MacRae, who for the past ten years has been Professor of Law and Dean of the law department of the University died suddenly Sunday night, October the seventeenth.

Judge MacRae was born in Fayetteville in 1838. He attended school at Donaldson Academy afterwards teaching until he received license to practice law in 1859. During the civil war Judge MacRae enlisted as a private in company H. 1st N. C., Volunteers. He served through the war and at the close he held the position of Adjutant General to General Baker. After the war he returned to his practice of law and was made judge of the Superior Court in 1882. In 1892 Judge MacRae was elected Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. In 1899 he accepted the position of Professor of Law and Dean of the law department of the University which position he held until his death.

In the death of Judge MacRae the State loses one of the best citizens, and the University one of its most loyal supporters.

The students held a large mass meeting in Herrard Hall Thursday night. The object was to revive our athletic spirit and to give the football team a pleasant send off to Washington where they played Georgetown University Saturday resulting in a score of 5 to 0 in favor of the North Carolina men.

A great number of the students here attended the fair at Raleigh and report a pleasant time.

Dr. Joseph H. Pratt is spending a few days in Raleigh on business.

Balky Horse.

Ohio State Journal.

A wealthy farmer in New York whipped a balky horse and while engaged in this rather violent effort, he fell over dead. We would not say that this result was in the nature of a retribution for a foolish and cruel act. It is possible that the exertion so affected the action of the heart that death was the consequence.

But the incident should call attention to the fact that the whipping of a balky horse is a risk that no man of sense should accept. For if a man is not killed by the exertion, it hurts him otherwise, as all mean acts do, and whipping a balky horse is generally that sort of an act.

Violence is that the specific for a balky horse, and it will seldom do the horse any good, while it will always do the man harm. The driver catches the distemper from the horse and balky men are worse than balky
