Reldsville Review.
Bradley Allred died at his home in Caswell county at the age of 98 years. It is said of Mr. Allred that he never struck a match during his life having since matches came into use continued the old-family fire-place.

J. Mat Joyce, a deputy sheriff is a man who practices the strictest economy. Sunday when he arrived at Wentworth to attend court he decided to spend the night in the grand-jury room and save the cost of lodging in one of the hotels at the county-seat. Arising early next morning he ran his head through a big glass in the door, and will now have to replace it, thus being out $15.00 instead of the cost of a night's lodging.

Union Republican
A solid train of beef cattle passed through the city the past week on its way to Northern markets. There were twelve cars, all full, making 350 head. They were from Ashe and Watauga counties.

Messrs. J. L. and W. L. Anthony and Ernest Angelo, have purchased a lot just north of the postoffice and will erect a three-story brick building thereon, at a cost of some $6,000 the first floor of which will be used by the Winston Tailoring Co., and the other stories for offices and dormitories.

During October the local drug stores filled 700 prescriptions for liquor. The Express Co., delivered fully that many parcels, which leads us to infer that we have prohibition more in name than reality. The Republican believes that the drug store prescriptions were for medicinal purposes. The Express shipments, which roll in every day, are with exceptions, used as beverages. Then we have near beer saloons where the thirsty also slake their thirst with malt drinks. There may be less liquor drank than there was before the State prohibition law went into effect but such facts and figures make one really wonder if such is really the case.

Wilmington Dispatch.
Thursday the Crowell Furniture Company's plant which has been in bankruptcy, was sold at auction and purchased by J. T. Hedrick for the sum of $5,600. Later J. C. Holland, a furniture man of Winston, placed a ten per cent, bid on the property and it will be sold again on the 24th.

Because D. M. Raper has been in poor health and has had trouble, a large number of his neighbors gathered at his home last week, near Enterprise, and proceeded to do his farm work. They sowed wheat gathered and shucked his corn, hauled wood, etc., and put his farm in good condition. Such things as this are finer than words can paint them, carrying out to the letter as they do the great injunction.

Raleigh Caucasian.
The barn and stables of J. T. Edwards, who lives in House's Creek Township, were burned Sunday night. His loss was about $2,000. All the live stock were rescued from the flames.

On Monday Governor Kitchin granted pardons to Lonnie Cunningham, of Gaston County, and Alex. Crisco of Stanly county. Lonnie Cunningham, who is a woman, had served nine months of a year's sentence for keeping a disreputable house. Crisco had served four months of a five months' sentence for selling whiskey.

Wilkes Patriot.

In a boiler explosion at Lee Staley's saw mill near Brier Creek, Tuesday, Clyde Sale, a young man, about eighteen years old, was so frightfully scalded from head to foot with escaping steam and hot water, that his recovery is not expected. Thomas Ladd, another young man, painfully, though less seriously injured. The boiler had not been used in several months and it is thought that the steam gauge had become rusty and did not register accurately the head of steam, and that the accumulation was for greater than the valve indicated.

Elkin Times.
In conversation with Pack Layne who was in town a few days ago, he said that he did not think he had ever seen a finer autumn in all his life than the one we are having, and Mr Layne is more than seventy years old.

Dr. Ring received a telegram from Mebane, N. C., saying that his son, Edward, who is attending the Bingham School at that place had sustained a fracture of the collar bone, presumably in a game of foot ball. Dr Ring left on the early train yesterday morning for Mebane to visit his son and look after his condition.

Fancyville Sentinel.

Henry Turner happened to a very serious accident Friday, and he was fortunate to come off as well as he did. He was in the woods with a force of hands, and in endeavoring to throw a tree that had lodged with another tree the latter tree slid, striking Mr. Turner and pinning his legs against a log. Both of his limbs were severely bruised and Dr Malloy found a slight fracture of the right member. His many friends will be glad to know Henry is getting on nicely, displaying his usual gift.

Voting and Buying Votes.

Ohio State Journal.
At the election last week Maryland voted on an amendment to disfranchise the negro. It failed, as it ought to have done. Taking away from a race the right to vote, which was once given them, is a difficult, if not an impossible task.

We hear sometimes of people expressing themselves in favor of disfranchising the negro, and they point to the alleged practice of buying up the negro vote as their reason. We do not think this practice is so universal as to justify such a course. There are, doubtless, negroes who sell their votes, and white people, too, no doubt, but they are a low class, and are very few compared with the body of decent and intelligent voters.

But he is something we cannot understand—why a negro who sells his vote should be disfranchised and the man who buys it should be permitted to vote. If the matter was analyzed, the man who buys a vote is a worse citizen than a man who sells his vote. Where a low-down negro or white man sells his vote there is always some alleged respectable and intelligent man who does the buying or furnishes the money.

Needed the Knife.

Philadelphia Telegraph.
Speaking of table etiquette sometime since, General E. Burd Grubb told a story about a man who was justified in eating pie with a knife. Smith was standing in a hotel lobby one day, according to the General, talking to Jones, when the conversation turned to a dinner that had been given at the home of a mutual acquaintance named Brown. "You should have seen Barton," remarked Jones, referring to one of the guests. "I thought he had better table manners. When his pie was served he actually ate it with a knife."

"I don't blame him for that," was the startling reply of Smith. "You don't blame him?" repeated Jones in amazement. "No," smilingly rejoined Smith. "I have eaten pie at Brown's myself, and it is a wonder to me that didn't take an ax."

We're sorry if you've tried other medicines and they failed. As a last resort try Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It's a simple remedy, but it's worked wonders, made millions well and happy. Purifies the blood, makes flesh and muscle, cleanses your system. T. H. Stroud.

Private John's Office.

"When I first decided to allow the people of Dupelo to use mah name as a candidate for Congress I went out to a neighboring parish to speak," said Private John Allen to some friends at the old Metropolitan Hotel in Washington.

"An old darkey came up to greet me after the meeting. 'Marse Allen,' he said, 'I see powerful glad to see you. I see known ob you since you was a baby. Knew you pappy long befo' you-all wuz bohn, too. He used ter hold de same office you got now. I members how he held dat office fo' years an' years."

"Whot office do you mean, uncle?" I asked, as I never knew pop held any office.

"Why de office of candidate, Marse John; you pappy was candidate fo' many years."—National Monthly.

Parson Was Well Posted.

Washington Star.
Senator Tillman at a recent banquet told this story:

"The pastor of a Tallapoosa church," he began, "said rather pointedly from the pulpit one Sunday morning:

"Ah sutny am rejiced to see Bruddah Calhoun White in chu'ch once mo'. Ah's glad Bruddah Calhoun has saw de error of his ways at lawst, fo' dere is mo' joy abah one sinnah dat repentete dan obah de ninety an' nine—"
