MAYOR GAYNOR OF NEW YORK SHOT

Discharged Employee of City Fired Four Bullets, One Lodging in His Head.

Hoboken, N. J., Aug. 9.—Mayor Wm. Gaynor, of New York, while standing on the deck of the Kaiser Wilhelm De Grosse, preparatory for month's tour abroad, was shot down by man giving his name as James J. Gallagher, a discharged foreman in the department docks and ferries. Four bullets were fired, one striking Mayor Gaynor, who is critically though not necessarily fatally wounded.

The would-be assassin was overpowered by a policeman and Big Bill Edwards of the street cleaning department. The bullet was fired from behind. Mayor Gaynor was first given medical attention on board the ship, then rushed in an ambulance to St. Mary's hospital, where he was operated upon. Surgeons say Gaynor has a chance for recovery. Gallagher was rushed to Hoboken police station and arranged before Recorder McGeven and remanded to jail without bond, pending the result of the mayor's injuries.

Death of Mrs. R. B. Foust.

Mrs. Alice Ada Foust, wife of Mr. R. B. Foust, was born December 15th, 1861, and died August 4th, 1910.

Mrs. Foust was a patient sufferer for a number of years, but always bore her suffering with Christian resignation. She loved the Reformed church of which she was a faithful member, and was intensely interested in the moral and spiritual welfare of her children. Her life speaks in far more eloquent terms of praise than can be pictured by the tongue or pen of man.

The devotion of husband and children to the almost helpless wife and mother was beautiful and of the same time pathetic. All possible efforts were made to stay the hand of disease and death, but God knew best, and in his wise providence took from our midst one whom everybody loved and respected because of her noble qualities and beautiful Christian character.

A large concourse of sorrowing friends, who live far and near, gathered at the home and Mt. Hope church to pay their last tribute of respect to the memory of her whom they had been led to love and admire. It was a very sad death and burial indeed. A good neighbor, faithful wife and mother is gone, but thanks to God, we are not without hope. In the sweet by and by, we, too, shall be gathered to our loved ones, and then we shall more fully understand.

Mrs. Foust was the mother of five children, namely: Miss Abigail, James E., City Editor of the Burlington State Dispatch, Albert, Milton, and John Robert, the last named having died about nine years ago, at the age of about five years.

With you kind friends, we mingle our tears and say, farewell, dear one, farewell.

A FRIEND.

And in this part of their work it is well known to experts throughout the State that Dean Mordecai and his associates have had brilliant success.

OUR CAMPAIGN LETTER

Special to the Dispatch.

New York, August 6.—The Congressional campaign is now on in earnest. Republican headquarters have been opened at both New York and Chicago. This campaign more than ever will be an educational one. The Republicans feel that they have distinct issues to advance, and if Democratic misrepresentation can be overtaken there should be no question about the outcome.

There is no doubt whatever that public opinion has undergone a remarkable change during the last few weeks. The splendid record of the recent session of Congress has made even the Democrats admit that Republican pledges were well kept, and that the close co-operation between the President and Congress was fruitful in the extreme.

On the other hand the Democrats seem to be all at sea—they have not a single issue to work, except the ever ready idea of wrecking things. Their Text Book of speeches contains no constructive arguments, only fault-finding and pretended dissatisfaction. Their one aim is to tear down, not build up. They have no record but a negative one—no issue but a desire for office.

Not a single sound reason can be advanced by the Democrats this fall why the next House of Representatives should be Democratic. Not a single sound argument can be advanced to show why the Republicans should be turned out and the Democrats installed. In short, the jubilant Democrats of two months ago are now in despair and disgust to think that the Republicans have so completely taken the wind out of their sails.

As usual, the Democrats will talk tariff—as usual, they will tell the people in their speeches and literature that Protection is robbing the people, but they will not be able to convince the farmer of the laboring man that he should change the prosperity of today for the adversity of 1893-96. The people realize just what a Democratic House of Representatives would mean. They realize that even though no destructive legislation could get through the next Congress, nevertheless there would be anxiety in all financial and business circles, and such anxiety would bring curtailment of production and affect employment and wage.

Then, too, the thinking voter will realize that President Taft should have a Republican House as well as Senate to help him carry out in full all the pledges of the party and the program which he has outlined in his message. In spite of the tremendous legislation enacted by this Congress so far, there still remains much to be done by the 62nd Congress. And this could not be accomplished with a Democrat House to check all Senate measures and do nothing itself.

So the actual campaign opens with the Republicans aggressive and confident, and the Democrats on the defensive and in the deepest gloom. There may be factional differences, but they will be compromised or laid aside as being very secondary to the great issues of the day. The Republicans have the record and the principle—it only remains to follow Mr. Roosevelt's advice to nominate the best men and the people can be relied on to continue in power the party that does things and does them right.

An Invitation to the Clergymen to Visit The Airdome.

Special to the Dispatch.

In as much as several of the clergymen of the city have publicly condemned and severely scored the moving picture exhibitions and vaudeville performances that I have been giving at my place of amusement (The Airdome), as being injurious to the morals of the community. I desire to state in justice to myself that they are condemning without seeing or investigating for themselves, and it is only justice that they should come personally and witness one of these entertainments. After so doing, and if they can conscientiously say that they are immoral, or in any way injurious to the welfare of the city I will immediately close up this place of amusement. I think this a fair and honorable proposition, and I respectfully invite any and all clergymen to visit the Airdome, and personally see for themselves.

Respectfully yours for the welfare of the community.

The Airdome,
E. MAY, Manager.

Mann-Dameron.

Last Wednesday morning at a quarter to eleven in the Front St. Methodist Church Miss Mabel Featherstone Dameron and William Lee Mann were happily joined in the holy bonds of marriage by their pastor Rev. J. A. Hornaday. On Tuesday night preceding the ceremony a beautiful reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker, sister of the bride. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and ferns for the occasion, music rendered by Miss Florine Robertson. The ushers were Messrs John R. Hoffman, E. S. W. Dameron, J. H. Vernon and F. H. Neff of Albemarle. Mr. Rivers of Albemarle was best man and Miss Ruth Dameron, sister of the bride maid of honor. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mann left on the morning train for a bridal tour to Atlantic City. Many beautiful and costly presents were received. Mr. Mann is a progressive young business man of Albemarle where they will reside. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dameron, and has a large circle of friends who extend best wishes.

Club at Elon College.

The club at Elon College has always made it possible for young men to obtain good board at cost and has always been liberally patronized by Alamance county boys. This year the club will be one of the best in the institution's history. The Lambeth property has been rented and the caizter near by have agreed to rent rooms at reasonable rates to the club men.

The manager this time is J. S. Truitt, a member of the Junior Class in College, who last commencement won the Junior Alumni Scholarship for this year. He has conducted the club before and is fully capable of carrying it forward to success.

One of the disadvantages of clubbing in the past has been the lack of the home-like atmosphere. This will be provided against this time by having Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Truitt, of Burlington, No. 8, look after the preparation and serving of the meals and the keeping of the club house. It is believed that this arrangement will give general cause for congratulation to all who are interested in going to Elon as cheaply as possible.

Farmers Union.

The Farmers Union will hold its picnic and public speaking at Bethany one mile south of Graham Tuesday, August 9th. The speakers who will take part in the program will be State President Alexander and State Organizer Green. After the meeting there will be a secret session of Union. Everybody invited to bring dinner and enjoy good speaking and a day pleasure.

Earl Lasky, assistant cashier of the First National Bank is spending his vacation with a camping party at Lock Hill.
