Bryan is sawing wood and saying nothing, but when it comes to a nomination for the Presidency, he is "Johnny on the spot."

Foreign countries are not alone subject to the "Pink eye" disease. It has closed a noted Southern institution of learning. What next?

If Prof Holt could get the ducks in a row, perhaps he might get some game, but he is not the man the Democrats want for Congress. The Prof. strikes 'em straight from the shoulder.

Our Democratic friends must not lose sight of the fact that their "Uncle William Jennings Bryan" is still to be reckoned with when it comes to naming a candidate for president.

We shall wait and watch eagerly for the next Congress to pass a bill appropriating a sufficient sum to erect a government building here. The Democrats have been great builders—of air castles.—See.

If this district has got to be represented in Congress by a Democrat, then we say give us a man like Prof. J. Allen Holt. A man who fights above ground and "hews to the line, let the chips fall where they may."

Prof. J. Allen Holt is making another bid for the nomination for Congress two years hence, by nominating Woodrow Wilson for President. He is getting into the lime-light again. Well, come in Prof, the water is fine.

The people knew full well how to reduce the cost of living. Elect a Democratic Congress. It never failed, and we are inclined to believe that it will turn out that way this time. But we be unto the producer, who has been living on the fat of the land.

What Will The Harvest Be.

Now that it is known beyond doubt that the Democrats will control the House of Representatives of the next Congress by a safe majority. The question naturally arises in the mind of the public—what will the harvest to the party be? It is a fact that cannot be controverted, that there is no unanimity of sentiment in the party on the leading economic questions of the country, to wit: The tariff.

Knowing the great diversity of opinion on this all important question in the ranks of the party, the Democracy over in our sister state—Virginia, is preparing to call a State convention of the party for the purpose of formulating a kind of platform by the means of which it will endeavor to control the action of members of Congress from the state and prevent them from supporting any tariff law that has the least squinting toward protection. The Daily News Leader a Democratic Journal published at Richmond, Va., in advocating the calling of a State Convention and commenting on the diversity of sentiment in the party on the subject of the tariff remarks:

"Some of our candidates though calling themselves Democrats, have unhesitatingly voted for protection; and not only voted for it, but boldly, or, we may say, brazenly advocated it, and sought to justify in public debate the bad faith that was in them. The declarations of the national platform do not seem to be of any moment. At least, they seem to have no binding authority upon or power to bind some of our members of Congress. The state organization itself should formulate and promulgate its views on this point, and those who cannot subscribe to them, or will not subscribe to them can then be called to order."

Here at home in our own state the conditions prevailing in the Democratic party are no better, and perhaps worse than they are in Virginia. Democrats have practically no platform in North Carolina, candidates have been writing their own political catechisms, and each has adopted and expounded what seemed good and expedient to himself, without reference to the views of his party associates. Hence we have seen most anomalous party conditions, and the widest divergence among men who belong to the same party and presumably hold the same general views in reference to party doctrine.

Really if the Democracy does not take some action toward disciplining its members of the House of the next Congress, the tariff bill that the Senate will have to contend will be a "crazy quilt" affair indeed, and the harvest a poor one on which to base its next Presidential campaign.

Alright Then, But—?

Plugs are dangerous, whether white or black. The negro pugilist, Jack Johnson, has been arrested, charged with an assault upon a white girl, who is a member of the company with which the prize fighter is appearing. The whipping post ought to be resorted to long enough for the brute to get his deserts.—News and Observer.

[This is the same Jack Johnson who made Democratic speeches in New York during the recent campaign. In the eyes of the old unreliable he was alright then, but now, well, that's something else?]

What Did You Do With Yours.

Richmond gave us a goose egg. The price of eggs is high, and the one we got wasn't the best.

Mr. Taft had a 37-pound turkey for dinner yesterday. No wonder he is so fat, with such diet. If he had sent that turkey to the orphans and tried dry toast it might have been more in keeping with the way the election returns made him feel.—News and Observer.

[Wonder if Josephus Daniels sent his turkey to the orphans? We doubt it. The time is coming when he will feel like eating dry toast.

Miss Verna Cates a popular young lady of Kings' Business College Raleigh spent three or four days last week the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cates and friends in town.

Dr. Shields preached an instructive sermon at the Presbyterian Church Sunday. He was once pastor of this congregation and is very favorably remembered. He is conducting a revival meeting at Elmira Chapel this week.

Oakdale Notes.

Our community was greatly shocked last Sunday morning when it was learned that Cleave Blalock had been killed by Jacob Burton Saturday night at Cajor Burtons about one o'clock. There had been bad feeling between the two for some time. The body lay there until about 3 o'clock Sunday when the corner and sheriff arrived from Graham and took charge and turned the body over to his people. Jacob Burton was arrested and taken to Graham jail to await trial.

The school at Oakdale opened Nov. 7th, with good attendance, owing to sickness of Miss Zimmerman she did not arrive until the 21st, the school is still increasing with Mr. Woodburn of Pleasant Garden, Principal.

John Andrews has gone and left us and June Hornaday "another good family" has moved in. The people at Cross Roads school district have begun the addition to their school house they are progressing very slow it looks now like they will be late beginning their school.

Miss Birthis Murray has at last took her swing (Jesse) and gone with him to Kinesville to make life for the better or worse we hope for the better.

What has become of our Harts-horn No. 1 have they gone to sleep if so we hope they will wake up and give us some more good items.

J. T. Murray "Bud" as he is familiarly called is rejoicing with one on each knee they are twins, a boy and a girl.

Bryon Alred is also smiling its a boy.
