

O. P. HEATH & CO. FAIL

Salisbury, Oct. 23—In Federal court here late this afternoon, O. P. Heath & Co., one of the largest cotton firms in the South with headquarters in Charlotte and branch offices in a number of cities throughout the cotton belt, filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. Judge James E. Boyd promptly adjudged the petitioner a bankrupt and referred the petition to W. S. O'B. Robinson Jr. of Charlotte, referee in bankruptcy. Maxwell & Keerans of Charlotte represented the petitioner. The liabilities of the bankrupt firm, as given in the petition exceed $1,000,000, while the assets are only about $200,000.

Carpenter, Baggott & Co. of New York has a suit against O. P. Heath for $15,463.90 which was to have been heard in Federal court here tomorrow, and this suit probably hastened the bankruptcy proceedings. The suit was first instituted in Charlotte and was later removed to Salisbury.

Bankruptcy proceedings were evidently anticipated by the creditors, as Carpenter, Baggott & Co., the plaintiff in the above suit, wired to the clerk of the Federal court today to know if bankruptcy papers had been filed. Clerk H. C. Cowles wired back that they had not, and only a few minutes later the papers were filed.

Five Rules for Women Talkers.

In the November WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION a contributor advises women on talk. Five rules are laid down:

1. Don't tell long stories, or even short ones, unless you have an especial gift for it.
2. Remember that talking about yourself is an indulgence, and, as such, should be strictly limited.
3. If another woman tells you of some sensation or experience of her own, don't immediately cap it with one of yours. "Swapping tastes" is one of the lowest order of conversation. I have been in circles where the talk consisted in each woman's taking her turn in telling how she thought or felt about some commonplace subject, such as the digestibility of shell-fish, or liability to colds.
4. Never lose consciousness of the proportion of the talk you are usurping, and, if you talking more than your share be sure that the quality matches the quantity.
5. Discriminate always between talk for own pleasure and talk for your friends'. People constantly tell the stupidest anecdotes because these have become charged with some extraneous charm impossible to transmit. Perhaps the occasion when it took place was important because some particular person was there, and every detail of it has taken on a radiance visible only to the narrator.

Worked the Preachers Through A Marrying Game.

A dozen preachers are condoling with each other over the loss of good money, of which they were defrauded by a con-artist and a woman accomplice; who repeatedly presented themselves for marriage and also presented false $20 bill in payment of a $10 fee.

Under the names of Gustave Foster and Amanda Thomas, an elderly but apparently loving pair, at various times presented themselves at the parsonage of the several preachers and desired to be married.

After the ceremony had been performed the man said: "I wish, sir, that I could reward you with $20 for this kind act of yours, which makes a happy ending to a courtship lasting many years, but my purse is somewhat slim and I can afford but $10."

So saying, he tendered a $20 bill and the clergyman, well pleased to have performed this noble office, as well as to get a windfall of $10, gave him back $10 in real money.

"I tried to buy a book of sermons with my $20 bill," said the preacher who told story, "but was repulsed by an angry salesman; who threatened to have me arrested."—Chicago Dispatch.

FROM THE TROPICS TO HEAL US

In Central America, many natives are gathering the seeds of this plant, Cedron Seed, a rare medicine that has valuable curative powers. But few drug stores carry this seed, owing to the high cost of the article. This country is a large consumer of this costly seed because it enters into the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna, sold the world over.
