LOVELY WOMAN.

Women are not angels, here or hereafter.
The ugly temper of a pretty woman always shows through.

A woman's glory is her gown.
A widow is the sandwich between a tear and a smile.

When women speak kindly of each other Gabriel will blow his horn.

Woman is the complement of a perfect kiss.
Satan never could have broken into the Garden of Eden with a man on watch.

If only women fought battles there would be only wars of extermination.

Most women are ambitious; they want to be men.

No woman is really beautiful until she is old.
Motherhood is woman's throne.

There would be no religion if there were no religious women.

Sweethearts and wives are entirely different women.

A woman is seldom prosaic until she is some man's mother-in-law.

Some women are born fools; some achieve it and some have it thrust upon them.

"I wonder why the faculty gave that horrid Sue Blake a medal?" said one student of a female college to another.

"Because she is such a meddler, I suppose," replied the other.—Inter-Ocean.

Tomdick: "I have ascertained the cause of the ill feeling between Germany and Russia."

McClammy: "What is it?"

Tomdick: "The Czar is learning to play the French horn."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

COLLEGE DOTS.

HAZING IN EVERY FORM DONE AWAY WITH AT THE UNIVERSITY—THE RESOLUTION OF THE CLASS OF '94 ADOPTED UNANIMOUSLY BY THE STUDENT-BODY.

It gives us infinite pleasure to state that hazing is entirely abolished, once and for all. Some time ago the class of '94 drew up resolutions to this effect, "that as the growth of the University depended largely upon the treatment of new comers and seeing this and also the destruction of the University if the present hazing should not be abolished, resolved that the class of '94 do all in their power to prevent the hazing of the freshmen." The students, recognizing the great principle that had entered into the minds of '94, at once held a mass meeting and unanimously adopted these resolutions as those of the whole University, thus effectually putting an end to hazing and in a great way assisting the prosperity of the Institution.

Commencement!!

The campus looks very neat.

Our next will give a good account of the Commencement proceedings.

Howard Alston has returned to serve his sentence as sub-manager of the ball room.

We earnestly request all those who have not yet paid their subscriptions to do so at once. "A word to the wise," &c.

J. F. Wathington has been elected a sub-ball manager from the Di. Society, in the place of M. J. Pearsall resigned.

Special train will run from Raleigh and other places on to-morrow for the convenience of those who wish to attend our Commencement.

A "cold snap" last week brought out overcoats and thick clothes, and took the few remaining sticks of wood from the recitation rooms.

Tablets in memory of Dr. Mangum, Col. Saunders, Judge Ruffin, Hon. P. C. Cameron and Col. Polk, of Revolutionary fame, have been placed in their positions in Memorial Hall.

The Magazine editors for the ensuing year are, from the Di. E. P. Willard, A. B. Andrews, J. Cheek; from the Phi. R. Johnston, Felix Harvey, G. W. Connor.

Some days ago we were visited by a Cheyenne Indian, Kekiookale, who delivered two very good and entertaining lectures on the India, Publene, and some of the Indian campaigns of Custer. He was well educated; a pleasing speaker and entertained his audience well.

Base-ball is the rage. Every one is playing it. Last Thursday Tables 1 and 3 Watson's Hotel played each other for a prize of ten spring chickens, to be paid for by the losing team. Table No. 3 (the Quicksteps) defeated Table No. 2 (the Veterans) by a score of 36 to 22 after a nine inning game of two hours and a half. The Barbee House has challenged the winners.

Last Friday night while the students were intent upon their chemistry, French, German and Anglo-Saxon examinations of the morrow a wild cry of "the Library's on fire" broke through the still air. In a second the whole college were clustered around the building and for a single second were stupefied by the sight of blood red flames leaping through the roof of the library. In another second ladders, buckets and water were not wanting—every one filled with the idea of distinguishing himself by extinguishing the flames. Before the ladder could be placed several had forced their way to the roof—discovered the joke, or rather imposition. Some little fool, or perhaps several of that name, had, just for the fun of it, set a pile of paper on fire on the roof of the building and then raised the cry of "fire." It might have been a good joke at any other time or on any other building than the library, and we heartily endorse P. W.'s exclamation after the joke was found out. "D—n 'em!!!"

After the game at Richmond on May 1st, all the North Carolina boys attended a dinner at the West Moreland Club given in their honor by Hon. Benahan Cameron. A very pleasant evening was spent and many happy toasts were made and returned. Every one enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent and desire through our columns to express their "personal thanks" to Mr. Cameron.

Wilson Caldwell wishes to return his sincere thanks to his many friends who aided and sympathized with him in his sickness and bereavement in his family and especially to Mrs. Dr. Wilson and Mrs. Lloyd for interest manifested and favors shown.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Wm. J. Battle, Esq., son of Hon. K. P. Battle has won a Morgan Fellowship of $500 at Harvard. This gentleman should justly be proud of the honor won over 40 competitors.

Recognizing the fact that the development of the University depends upon the harmonious cooperation of its friends and the voluntary adoption by the student-body of true standards of manliness. The class of 1894, in meeting assembled, do RESOLVE 1. That the practice of hazing new students is beneath the dignity of Universitymen and contrary to the spirit of a real University.

2. That new students who enter the University hereafter shall not be subjected to blacking or maltreatment of this kind by this class.

3. That the class of '94 in voluntarily relinquishing the ancient prerogative of Sophomore recklessness begs to assure the public that they fear no diminution of genuine manhood, and are ready to hold the field in a decent way against all comers.

4. That the new administration be respectfully invited to seek in a more extended manner the co-operation of the Student-body without whose aid no reforms are possible.

TOWN DOTS.

Rev. Dr. Hubbard, of Tarboro, preached two very fine sermons here on his return from the Episcopal Convention which was held at Asheville.

Judge Frederick Philips, of Tarboro, spent a few days on the Hill visiting his son week before last.

The streets of Chapel Hill have been put in their customary fine condition for commencement by our worthy constable Merritt.

Prof. Winston spent last Thursday in Raleigh. Dr. Hume has returned to the village from Oak Ridge whither he went to deliver a lecture.

Prof. E. P. Mangum, of Asheville, and Miss Minnie Mangum, who have been visiting in Salisbury have returned to the city.

TWO PATRIARCHS.

Yesterday's Goldsboro Argus says: The two oldest living alumni of the University of North Carolina, Dr. A. J. DeRosset, of Wilmington, and Dr. Jno. H. Hill, of this city, sat together in front of the Hotel Gregory yesterday in this city and talked of olden times and of personal recollections and mutual experiences at Chapel Hill. Dr. DeRosset was returning home from New Berne, where he had been attending the annual convention of the East Carolina Episcopal diocese.

HUMOROUS.

Algy (to hunters): "Which one of you had the most fun while out hunting?"

Hunter: "The rabbits.—Siftings."

Ethel (ambitious): "What would you do if you had a voice like mine?"

Maud (spiteful): "I'd try to put up with it.—New York Herald."

Old Doctor: "How do you get along with your husband now, Mrs. Maguire?"

Mrs. Maguire: "Very nicely, thank ye. He's dead."—New York Weekly.
