

Stubborn, Annoying Coughs Cured.
 "My husband had a cough for fifteen years and my son for eight years. Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured them, for which I am most thankful," writes Mrs. David Moor, of Saginaw, Ala. What Dr. King's New Discovery did for these men, it will do for you. Dr. King's New Discovery should be in every home. Stops hacking coughs, relieves la grippe and all throat and lung ailments. Money back if it fails. All druggists. Price 50c. and $1.00.—H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

Less Dyspepsia Now—Here's The Reason.
 The fact that there is less dyspepsia and indigestion in this community than there used to be largely, we believe due to the extensive use of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, hundreds of packages of which have been sold. No wonder we have faith in them. No wonder we are willing to offer them to you for trial entirely at our risk.

Among other things, they contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive acids known to medical science. They soothe the inflamed stomach, allay pain, check heartburn and distress, help to digest the food, and tend to quickly restore the stomach to its natural comfortable healthy state.

There is no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. Your word is enough for us. If Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets don't restore your stomach to health and make your digestion easy and comfortable, we want you to come back for your money. They are sold only at the 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1. Freeman Drug Co., Burlington, N. C.

Retired Georgia Planter's Advice to Kidney Sufferers.
 Regarding the wonderful curative merits of your Swamp-Root, I cannot say too much. After suffering severely for three years or more with severe pains caused by weak kidneys, I was finally induced to try Swamp-Root through a testimonial I read in one of the newspapers. I was in such a condition that I was obliged to arise from my bed six or eight times every night. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and before it was used I felt so much relief that I purchased a one-dollar bottle and by the time this was taken the old pains had left my back and I could sleep the whole night through. I am a retired planter, 70 years of age, and owing to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, I am in the best of health and feel like a boy. I am always glad to recommend Swamp-Root to those who are in need of it.

Sincerely yours,
 C. E. USSERY,
 Bowersville, Ga.

Personally appeared before me, this 8th day of September, 1909, C. E. USSERY, who subscribed and above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

DEBATE ON TOLLS QUESTION.

President Characterized Knowland's Speech as The "Insult of Insults."
 Washington, March 30.—On the eve of the vote in the House of Representatives on the repeal of American toll exemption in the Panama Canal Act, Congress today was completely absorbed in the controversy. Verbal artillery thundered throughout the day in both the House and the Senate.

While opposing forces were clashing in oratorical fights at the capitol, President Wilson took occasion to discuss the all engrossing situation with callers, expressing keen regret that what had promised to be a dignified contest over principles had degenerated into a fight upon the administration. While on the subject President Wilson characterized as "a crowning insult of a number of insults" in the debate, the declaration of Representative Knowland, of California, that the administration had made a deal to repeal the tolls exemptions with Sir William Terrell, secretary to Sir Edward Grey, British secretary for foreign affairs.

NO DOUBT ABOUT RESULTS.
 With the final vote on the Sims repeal bill in the house scheduled for late tomorrow, interest in the controversy revived, the closing speech of Speaker Clark in opposition to the repeal serving as the chief objective point of anticipation. Little doubt as to the results of the vote on the bill is entertained by any one, the majority for the repeal being variously estimated at from 30 to 75 votes.

All ears will be strained for the speaker tomorrow, and there is much speculation as to the course of his attack on the bill will take. His friends do not expect him to attack the President. Some Democrats believe that he will not refrain, however, from allusions to political entanglements.

Discussion of the issue in the senate today was enlivened by Senator J. H. Lewis, of Illinois, who pleaded for the President's cause, urging, however, a compromise giving the President authority to suspend the bill.

LEWIS AROUSED ASTONISHMENT.

Senator Lewis aroused mingled astonishment and curiosity among his colleagues by discussing the foreign relations of the United States and explaining what he thought the President might have referred to in his message on the tolls issue asking Congress to grant the repeal. He drew a vivid picture of dire things that would happen should the United States intervene in Mexico.

Referring to the President's failures to specify what foreign relations prompted him to appeal for tolls exemption repeal the Senator did not hesitate to give "what I feel may have been his reasons." He then entered upon a recital of acts of aggression on the part of the United States, beginning with the taking of Philippines.

Taking up the Mexican situation and reviewing the operations of the United States in other lands and the interests in Mexico of England, Japan and France and other nations, Senator Lewis dramatically declared: "The very first moment we move down into Mexico with a view of executing the Monroe Doctrine against foreign nations who have stationed themselves there upon the theory that we no longer had a right to execute the doctrine because our past folly, Japan promptly would seize the Philippine Islands. She would then seize Hawaii and then in such conditions—our armies in Mexico, the canal not finished, no way to have a joinder of our navy—in what condition would our country be?"

"Russia, with her grievances—she who sent aid to the Union at a time when it was threatened—feels that because of English influence the administration in power the last 10 years left its aid to Japan against her—Russia, remembering this wrong, now in an offensive and defensive alliance of life and death with Japan, would not lose her opportunity. Russia, with her grievance, promptly would aid in seizing Alaska and the north near her.

"The north and the south, now united, would sail to the north sea to protect Alaska, and to the orient to the Philippines. The army would be divided, one part in Mexico and the other part moving to our possessions to protect them. England, feeling under those conditions no friendliness to us, and South America already imbued with a feeling that when under the administration of Colonel Roosevelt we performed a Caesarian operation on Columbia and excised from her the government of Panama, only waits that it may duplicate the performance upon one equally defenseless on the south near to the canal zone, furnishing supplies to the enemy and supporting the assault. In what a splendid condition we would stand. Sad, indeed, it is to contemplate.

Senator Lewis appealed to Congress to trust the President, "hoping that we may return to the doctrine of a true party."

Again today in the House a crowded floor and galleries thronged to a point which broke all records of attendance, listened to the arguments on the issue. The President was attacked and defended by vigorous orators. The campaign policy of the administration was derided and commended. The economic policy of granting American vessels free tolls was DEBATE ON GALLEY TWO alternately supported and condemned.

WALSH DEFENDS PRESIDENT.

Attacks on the President brought Representative Walsh, of New Jersey, to his feet with ar inging defense. The Democrats cheered his tribute to President Wilson vigorously.

The importance of the occasion was impressed on the spectators when, shortly after the House met, Representative L'Engle, of Florida, a sufferer from rheumatism, was wheeled into the House in an invalid's chair, and from the chair he made a speech opposing the repeal.

During the day Miss Eleanor Wilson, the President's daughter, and several White House guests, took places in the executive gallery of the House, and listened to the debate for a time.

In the Senate, Senator Owen read into the record a plank of the Baltimore platform denouncing ship subsidy. This, he said, was a flat contradiction of the plank favoring exemption in the Panama canal and was the expression of Democratic doctrine for many years.

Senator Owen declared he favored repeal of the navigation laws giving American owned and manned vessels a coastwise trade monopoly. Under these laws, he declared, the companies had so divided the traffic among themselves that they extorted improper rates from the shippers.

Senators Bristow and Fall declared that railroad domination of coastwise shipping, through arrangement with the Pearson syndicate, controlling the Tehuantepec railroad, had created a condition of monopoly in coastwise traffic. The exemption provision of the canal act was aimed at this monopoly, Senator Bristow insisted.

Representative Doremus, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, one of the first speakers today, expressing regret that he had to differ with the President, declared that Great Britain had admitted the American right to exempt coastwise trade from payment of tolls. He said that if the Sims bill became a law, "we will be forever stopped from granting free transit through the canal to our ships in the coastwise or foreign trade."

MONTAGUE SUPPORTS REPEAL.

Representative Montague, of Virginia, vigorously supported the repeal. He declared that in interpreting the Baltimore platform pledge in favor of free tolls, Democrats must choose between following the ancient Jeffersonian Democratic policy forbidding subsidies and following the Republican doctrine advocating subsidies. "I choose the time-worn Democratic policy," he said.

History of the treaties on the canal and various constructions of the Clayton-Bulwer and Hay-Pauncefote treaties were reviewed by Mr. Montague in an attempt to show that equal treatment of all nations in the use of the canal was a "historic policy" of this country.

Vigorous defense of Speaker Clark was delivered by Representative Sloan, of Nebraska, Republican. He declared the administration had shown no real reason for the repeal.

"We are told by the newspapers that the President does not propose reprisals against those who differ with him in this matter, but we are also informed that the speaker is to be punished," said he.

SIR EDWARD GREY MAKES DENIAL.

London, March 30.—Sir Edward Grey, British foreign secretary in the House of Commons today denied published allegations that the action of President Wilson over the question of Panama Canal tolls was the result of an understanding between the governments of the United States and Great Britain.

"It has been arrested," he said, "that under the terms of the understanding Great Britain had undertaken to assist President Wilson's policy in regard to Mexico. There is no foundation whatever for these reports and I am glad to be able to take as early an opportunity as possible for saying so."
