Visitor—So there is a deaf and dumb ward? How do you call the inmates to dinner? You don't ring a bell? Superintendent—No. A man walks through the halls wringing his hands.

The Durham Sun says: "There are a lot of people who are not inconvenienced in the least by the two quarts a month law. No; we don't mean that it is easy to get more, but that some people can get along with less. But we are ready to bet that there are more people who want more than two quarts a month now that they can't get it than wanted it when the supply was unlimited.—Florida Times-Union.

SPRING.

Spring has come. Do you not hear The little birds, singing near? Do you not see the little bees Gathering honey from the trees? Woods and orchards are all bright, With colors, green, red, purple and white. The funny tribes have their fun, Where'er the sparkling waters run. Can't you see new life in Spring? In bird and bee? In everything? Turn your eyes to look at heaven, And behold what God has given. God has given us the Spring, And the sweet little birds to sing; The pretty flowers to bloom, And the rivers and rills to run. All blessings in every land, Come down from heaven from His hand; Also voice, and soul to sing And be happy all through the Spring.

SACRIFICED LIFE TO SAVE HIS WIFE.

New York, April 15.—Edgar K. James, whose automobile recently caused the death of Karl T. F. Bitter, the scurter, and seriously injured his wife by running into them, was absolved from blame today by a coroner's jury which found the accident was unavoidable. Witness agreed the sculptor sacrificed his life to save his wife.

The woman who said she would rather kiss the devil than her husband is, of course, suing for divorce. Kissing is not so much a matter of favor as of taste, and in this case the husband may be more fortunate than the devil.

AN AMAZING CASE.

There is much food for speculation on the psychology of human nature in an amazing case the details of which reaches the Washington Post from Des Moines. It appears that one Mose Levich, a bankrupt pawnbroker in Des Moines, holds a bill of sale for the body of Miss Dottie Morgan, now of Denver, after her death. At present the lady is very much alive. Mr. Levich has filed a petition in the bankruptcy court, asking for a decision upon whether this body should be counted an asset in the settling up of the business.

Levich alleges that the woman gave him the bill of sale in 1907 for the loan of $10, having no other security. The bill of sale is said to read: "Des Moines, Iowa, —anuary —, Miss Dottie Morgan, of my own free will and without coercion of any kind, do hereby sell to Mose Levich my body after death, to do as he sees fit for the consideration of ten ($10) dollars.

"The said Mose Levich shall not take possession of my body until after I am dead, and that if at any time during my life I wish to cause this bill of sale to be null and void, I will so advise the said Mose Levich."

BRYAN BOOMS WILSON FOR SECOND TERM.

This is Construction Placed by Democrats on Secretary's Jefferson Day Speech.

PARTY CHIEF DINE.

William Jennings Bryan, premier of the Wilson Administration, lauded President Wilson and the accomplishments of his Administration last night at the Jefferson Day dinner held in the Hotel Adelphi. Democratic office holders and politicians gathered from all parts of the State interpreted his speech only in one way—that Mr. Bryan would bring the President forward to succeed himself in 1916.

Mr. Bryan throughout his address lauded President Wilson to Thomas Jefferson, and said that every principle which the President was carrying out was Jeffersonian—that the consummation of it all was that Mr. Wilson considers not the interests of the few, but the welfare of the many—the people who, in times of peace, produce the country's wealth, who, in times of war, furnish its men.

Is it possible," the Secretary of State asked, "when such a President as this goes into office without a single obligation to any one and then with singleness of purpose stands on the people's side in every question that comes before him, that his actions will not win for the party an enormous strength. I cannot doubt that the people of this country will give their indorsement to the doctrines which he has put into practice."

QUIPS AND QUIDDITIES

Mr. Kay See—"Sneaky sort of a man? What do you mean sir? Witness—"Well, sor, he's the sort of man that'll never look ye straight in the face until yer back's turned."

"Let me see, now," said the minister at the chistening, dipping his pen into the ink to record the event. "Isn't this the 27th?" "I should say not," retorted the indignant mother "it is only the ninth!"

An Example.

"People of this quiet, cold-blooded disposition, don't get into row." "I don't know about that. Nothing could be more plegmatic than the oyster, and he's continually getting into broils and stews."—Baltimore American.
