HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Came to Rescue. Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side. The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work." If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Buy Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today. Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for instructions in your case and 64-page book, "Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper.

A Barnegat school ma'am had been telling her pupils something about George Washington, and finally she asked: "Can any one now tell me which Washington was—a great general or a great admiral?" The samill son of a fisherman raised his hand and she signalled him to speak. "He was a great general," said the boy. "I seen a picture of him crossing the Delaware and no great admiral would put out from shore standing up to a skiff." BRITISH ARMED STEAMER IS SUNK BY SUBMARINE. Lond. APPENDIX REMOVED, BLIND EYES NOW SEE.

Bridgport, Conn., Nov. 6.—An operation for appendicitis performed on Ralph Von Hacht, aged 23, of Milford, has resulted in the restoring of the young man of the sight of one eye which had been blind since his birth. The operation was performed by Dr. Francis Campbell and members of the staff of Trinity Hospital, New York. When the physicians removed Von Hacht's appendix several weeks ago, they had no idea that they were going to restore his sight. It seems, however, that the appendix had been resting against one of the large nerves that form part of the system which connects with the optic nerves. After the operation, Von Hacht, for the first time in his life, distinguished darkness from light with his blind eye. Soon he began to see objects with the eye. He was warned by the doctors not to exert his "blind eye too much, but to allow it to grow stronger gradually. He said today that the "blind" eye was nearly as good as the other eye. Young Von Hacht is employed in the law office of Judge Omar Platt, of Milford.

JOHN T. MARSH KILLS J. R. RAY AT MARION.

Killing Occurs at Clinchfield Manufacturing Company's Plant Early Yesterday—Statement by Slayer.

Marion, Nov. 9.—John T. Marsh is in McDowell county jail here charged with the killing of J. R. Ray at the Clinchfield Manufacturing Company's plant at 8 o'clock this morning. The prisoner tells the following story in substance:

"Until last August I lived at Paint Rock, where I was postmaster, merchant and railway agent. The trouble between Ray and myself began on the 13th day of August, 1910, when I attempted to kill Ray for the alleged drugging of my wife. Upon her account I let the matter drop and Ray left to join the army. For three years he was away being stationed at Columbus, Ohio, and elsewhere. In 1913 Ray returned but continued to dog my footsteps. In August of this year I left my home at Paint Rock and came to Marion to live, securing employment in the Clinchfield Manufacturing Company's plant. Last week Ray came to visit relatives in the mill community and this morning was given a position as picker band in the same plant where I had charge of the warehouse room. We both began work at 8 o'clock. At times he would whistle at me through the window and otherwise irritate me. On my way upstairs to attend to the machinery I was waiting I met Ray who held a piece of wood in his hand. Upon his raising the wood I shot him with a Colt's army No. 58."

The above story was related to your correspondent by the prisoner in a calm cool and collected manner. Mr. Marsh is a cripple, having a deformed right hand. He has a wife and six children. Mr. Ray, the deceased, was married but was divorced some time ago. Mr. Marsh went directly from the place where the tragedy took place to the office of the superintendent, laid his gun down on the desk and requested that the sheriff be called at once in order that he might surrender himself. He then went to his home to exchange his clothes and there the sheriff found him a few minutes later.

HER DREAMS SHATTERED, HANNAH SEEKS $50,000.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6.—The failure of her day dreams to materialize into a home in Lake Shore drive is worth $50,000 to Miss Hannah Holland, a pretty brunette who lives at 4519 Sheridan road. She has asked the superior court to get that much for her from John J. Corkill, a wealthy member of many clubs, and well known LaSalle street broker who built air castles with her, she says, and then changed his mind.

Miss Holland, who is a sewing girl, saw the beginning of her romance in 1909, she declares. He gave her a round of pleasure, trips on his yacht, which she helped to fit up and visioned her as the mistress of his home, the story runs.

For three years Miss Holland kept the vision before her. She retained it even after the affections of her "intended" seemed to be cooling, she says.

Only a short time ago Corkill flatly refused to marry her, she says.

A man was on trial for stealing a pig. The owner testified to finding a similar pig, taking it home, and setting it loose in the presence of the bereaved porcine ancestors. "Well," said the solicitor for the state, "how did the sow receive it?" "With outstretched arms, sir," triumphantly replied the witness.

Judge Giles Baker of a Pennsylvania county was likewise cashier of his home bank. A man presented a check one day for payment. He was a stranger. His evidence of identification was not satisfactory to the cashier.

"Why, judge," said the man, "I've known you to sentence men to be hanged on no better evidence than this."

"Very likely," replied the judge. "But when it comes to letting go of cold cash we have to be mighty careful."
