HE IS MOST BLEST

If, in divine economy, there be degrees of blessing, then, beyond controversy, he is most blest who has not been permitted; to destroy himself; who, fleeing before the relentless pursuit of his treacherous nature, is made to seek refuge in the Eternal arms. He is most blest who, looking back from the fullness of man's allotted span, sees most illumined the dark places through which he has passed, and reflected from every dreaded cloud the kindly light of a Father's love.

He is most blest who has not been permitted to find rest and satisfaction in his own devices, or those of his fellowman, who has been prevented from pursuing a self-elected course of life which was leading him on to helpless disappointment; who has seen the destruction of every carnal shrine at which he worshipped, the casting down of every Godless idol; who has been chased as the hare pursued by the hunter from every hiding place in bush and bramble and rocky moor, until in desperation of despair he turns and leaps into the arms of his pursuer.

Weighted down with the deeds of a span, on the vain aspirations of a shorter one, with doubtful gain and greed for more, he flees before resistless Love, until one by one, he casts aside each treasured thing that chafes and hinders fight until, at last, when there is nothing more to throw away, and wearings compels a halt, torn, bleeding and despoiled, he finds in his nakedness and destitution that he has been fleeing from One who would clothe him in royal purple and make him sharer in the treasures of His eternal kingdom.

From a thousand baseless fabrics, from one fancied stronghold to another he has been driven, to find, at last standing ground upon a foundation from which he may never be moved.

Here, holding to nothing but the hand of God, possessing nothing but the love of God, he may gratify his noblest aspirations, and in peace and satisfaction build as high as the heavens, and as broad as the universe; and whatsoever he builds will stand.

He is most blest who has not been destroyed because of the multitude of his evils, but whose imperfections have been cast out, and of the little fragments of good that remains, a new creature made more in the likeness of his Creator.

He had asked for success, and failure came; for promotion, and he was made low. He asked for strength that he might achieve; he was made weak that he might obey. He asked for health that he might do greater things; he was given infirmity that he might do better things.

He asked for riches that he might be happy; he was given poverty that he might be wise. He asked for ease that he might enjoy life; he was given trial that he might adorn life. He asked for plenty that he might be independent of men; he was given scarceness that he might be dependent on God.

He asked to rule that he might be great; he was made to serve that he might be greater.

He asked for peace, and was given conflict that he might be fitted for peace.

He asked for power that he might have the praise of men; he was given weakness that he might be given of God.

He asked for abundance that men might seek his favor; he was given leanness that he might seek the favor of the Maker of men.

He asked the life of a loyal one that he might be comforted; the loved one died that he might be exalted.

BURGLAR CAUGHT

Last Sunday night about nine o'clock Mr John McCauley, on returning home from Siler City, saw a light in his house and upon closer inspection, he found a colored man, by the name of Lee Edwards going from room to room searching drawers, trunks, etc., but before he could get help to surround the house, the negro found out he was about to be nabbed and got out. Mr. McCauley saw him plainly enough to identify him and he was arrested Monday, tried before his honor, Mayor Roberson, and sufficient evidence was given to hold him for the Superior Court. Several cases of persons loitering around residences at night have been reported recently and a close watch is being kept and no doubt several more will be in the clutches of the law soon.

He asked for rest, for he was growing weary, and he was given work that in doing good he might find refreshing.

He asked for all things he might enjoy life; he was given life that he might enjoy all things.

He asked for a stone and was given bread, for he had sought happiness where it could not be found, and had found happiness where he had never sought it.

He had received nothing that he asked for, all that he hoped for. His prayer is answered. He is not blest. Selected.

Don't stick with the prunes

MY DAD'S favorite yarn.
WAS THE one about.
THE OLD storekeeper.
WHO WAS playing checkers.
IN THE back of the store.
AMONG THE coal oil.
AND THE prunes.
WHEN THE sheriff.
WHO HAD just jumped his king.
SAID "Si there's a customer.
WAITIN' OUT front."
AND SI said "Sh-h-h!
IF YOU'LL keep quiet.
MEBBE HELL go away."
NOW HERE'S the big idea.
WHEN A good thing.
HAPPENS ALONG.
DON'T LEAVE it to George.
TO GRAB the gravy.
FRINSTANCE IF.

YOU HEAR of a smoke.
OR READ about a smoke.
THAT REALLY does more.
THAN PLEASE the taste.
THERE ARE no hooks on you.
THERE'S NO law against.
YOUR STEPPING UP.
WITH THE other live ones,
AND SAYING right out,
IN A loud, clear voice,
"GIMME A pack of.
THOSE CIGARETTES.
THAT SATISFY."

YOU'LL say you never tasted such flavor, such mild but full-bodied tobacco goodness. You're right, too, because they don't make other cigarettes like Chesterfields. The Chesterfield blend can't be copied.

Have you seen the new AIR-TIGHT tins of 50?

Everything for QUALITY - nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy that do the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.

Was Very Weak

"After the birth of my baby I had a back-set," writes Mrs. Mattie Crosswhite, of Glade Spring, Va. "I was very ill; thought I was going to die. I was so weak I couldn't raise my head to get a drink of water. I took . . . medicine, yet I didn't get any better. I was constipated and very weak, getting worse and worse. I sent for Cardui."

TAKE

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I found after one bottle of Cardui I was improving," adds Mrs. Crosswhite. "Six bottles of Cardui and . . . I was cured, yes, I can say they were a God-send to me. I believe I would have died, had it not been for Cardui." Cardui has been found beneficial in many thousands of other cases of womanly troubles. If you feel the need of a good, strengthening tonic, why not try Cardui? It may be just what you need.
